Men From 43 States Enrolled.
Thirteen Foreign Countries Also Represented.

Forty-three States and thirteen foreign countries are represented in the University's Foreign Service Department, according to the roster analysis published yesterday by Secretary Thomas H. Healy. The roster contains 415 names, 37 less than last year. The decrease is due to the necessity of limiting the enrollment to a number which the present facilities can accommodate in a satisfactory manner.

The District of Columbia, with 56 representatives, leads the list of States. The Philippines Islands, with seven and Poland with four stand the highest of foreign countries. The only States not represented in the school are Delaware, Nevada, North Dakota, South Carolina, and Washington.

A notable feature of the enrollment is a fifty per cent increase in the representation from Western States, and a decrease of about thirty-five per cent in the numbers coming from States along the eastern coast. The spread of the school's reputation into other sections of the country is thought to be the chief cause of this change.

Among the new entrants this year are an ex-district attorney, two diplomats, and two students specially sent by foreign governments.

“Trees” Subject of Monday Lecture

"Our Trees in Autumn and Spring" was the subject of discourse at the second lecture of the Monday series given last Monday afternoon in Gaston Hall. The Rev. Father J. A. S. Brosnan, of Woodstock, who conducted the lecture, gave a thoroughly instructive and interesting knowledge to his audience of trees, their composition, and their leaves. With excellent illustrations he dwelt at length upon the colorization of the leaves and explained the part they play in beautifying autumn and spring with their festive colors.

Father Brosnan, in opening his talk, quoted a very appropriate selection from Shelly, "Ode to the West Wind." He then went on to explain the necessity, in an instruction of this kind, of making the small things appear large and not the large appear small, and told of the effects resulting from both actions. The circulation system of the tree and its forms of life-sustenance were given proper mention and Father Brosnan also discusses the story of a crippled team that fought Atlanta failed last Saturday when Georgetown was defeated by Georgia Tech 19 to 7. The story of the game is the story of a crippled team that fought from start to finish, trying as hard as any Georgetown team has ever tried, but was not able to match anything but the fighting spirit of the Yellow Jackets. Each team, stung by two defeats on the preceding Saturdays, was anxious to triumph, but Tech was ready for a hard game and Georgetown was not, so the bitter struggle ended with a victory for Tech and made it three straight for the Blue and Gray.

George-town's only touchdown came in the third quarter and was largely due to the brilliant playing of Jack Flavin, who entered the game at this time. The Tech was fought to a standstill in the last two periods. He scored the touchdown for his team, hurled forward passes like a rifle bullet, fought like a demon on the defense, and prevented a touchdown for Tech by overtaking and throwing Paul Lyman, who had intercepted a forward pass and had gotten away for a 10-yard lead in a clear field for a touchdown. The Yellow Jackets scored their 19 points by a touchdown in each of the first three quarters. The individual play of Brewer was the feature of the game for the Southerners. After Tech's final touchdown in the early part of the third quarter Georgetown forced the playing throughout, and threatened a comeback for a time prophesied a victory from behind the Blue and Gray. But the Tech was soundly defeated by a splendid second half and the Hilltoppers' battered stars were unable to stand the strain, and the opportunity was lost. During the game Sheehan, Flavin, Kenyon and Florence were moved from the game with a recurrence of injuries, and King and Malley were unable to make the trip because of similar troubles.

In spite of this Georgetown's cause was ably fought for by Captain Comstock, Sheehan, Kenyon, Lowe, Florence and Smell, who, even when three touchdowns cast the shadow of defeat over them, succeeded in impressing the Tech eleven of their presence upon the field.

Play started with Kenyon kicking off for Georgetown. McDonough fumbled and recovered on his own 36-yard line. Brewer got one yard at left tackle. Brewer put 50 yards to DuFour, who was down on his own 19-yard line.

Golden Tornado Again Humbles Blue and Gray 19-7 At Atlanta

Crippled Hilltoppers Unable to Stand Strain of Gruelling Contest. Flavin Is Individual Star of Game.

Another Blue and Grey invasion to Atlanta failed last Saturday when Georgetown was defeated by Georgia Tech 19 to 7. The story of the game is the story of a crippled team that fought from start to finish, trying as hard as any Georgetown team has ever tried, but was not able to match anything but the fighting spirit of the Yellow Jackets. Hilltop Freshmen Defeat Staunton

Southern Military Academy Is Downed, 12-0, in Game Played in Virginia.

On Saturday, November 11, the Georgetown University Freshmen, playing their only game of the year, defeated Staunton Military Academy, of Staunton, Va., by a score of 12 to 0. The score does not tell half the story of the Freshman offense, which showed up well throughout the game and kept the ball in Staunton's territory most of the time.

In winning this game the Freshmen showed that their class will make some very valuable contributions to the Varsity squad next year.

From the opening whistle until the last minute of play the Freshmen were fighting hard and displaying vigorous football that gained for them much praise.

Golen Coach Maloney's sterling center, captain the club for the first half, and Haggerty, ace backfielder, was at the helm for the last half of the contest. Both proved very capable leaders and played brilliant games both on the offense and defense.

The first meeting of the Spanish Club was held on the evening of November 8. The club, under the name of El Circulo Cervantes, was started during the latter part of last year and was fostered by the students of the advanced classes. This year promises to be a very favorable one for the organization. Several members, during last year, accomplished very creditable translations of select verses prominent in Spanish literature. This work is to be resumed and as soon as a sufficient number are produced a book will be published and dedicated to Georgetown University.

Open to late Martin L. Morris, LL.D., '77.

- The Doctor suggested that some original compositions be made so that the best might be kept for the proposed book. El Circulo Cervantes will be favored with talks from some of the most prominent men of the Spanish-speaking countries. The Ambassador from Spain and the Hawaiian Minister have both expressed their desire to address the club.
- The officers for the coming year are: Joseph Brennan, president; Donovan J. McCune, vice-president; John J. Miniter, secretary. The following charter members have returned: Victor St. Onge, Fred Voight, and Charles A. Perfitz.
- Awarded in 1922 to L. K. Downey, '22.

- The Dixon Elocution Medal was awarded in 1922 to Wm. J. Ricciardi, '22.

- The Horace Medal. (Founded in memory of the late Rev. John J. Murphy, S.J.)
- The Ryan Medal is awarded for the highest average in Junior class in Philosophy, Political Economy, and History. Awarded in 1922 to Wm. J. Ricciardi, '22.

PROFESSOR OF FOREIGN TRADE TO RESIGN

J. E. Fitzgerald Must Give Up Duties at F. S. Department Because of Health.

Because of a threat of nervous breakdown, Mr. Jay E. Fitzgerald, instructor in Foreign Trade Convention at the Foreign Service School, has been forced to give up his class for the remainder of the year to seek a rest. Mr. Fitzgerald also will relinquish a large share of his duties in the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The class will be continued under the direction of another instructor to be appointed.

CARROLL LAW CLUB MOVING SMOOTHLY

Thursday night, the 9th of November, was the big night for some twenty new members who were taken into Carroll Law Club, and the club is indeed fortunate in securing such a collection of valuable men. The membership is approaching its quota rapidly as there appears to be a keen desire on the part of the future satellites of the Law Department to add to their brilliant accomplishments the honor of adding glory to the name of John Carroll.

Roster of Carroll Law: Officers, T. E. Lewis, Chairman (Cal.); J. S. White, Vice-Chancellor (Penn.); C. L. Schilder, Recorder (Ohio); E. J. Mulcahy, Comptroller (Conn.).

The program for this year will include two evenings of moot court in each month to be conducted by some of the District's most distinguished judges and lawyers. The first case to be tried is a prominent murder case at present before the public eye. Mr. J. A. Cosgrove '23, Connecticut, will represent the state and Mr. A. K. Shipe '23, Virginia, will defend. The subject for debate at the next regular meeting is, "Resolved, That Congress has the power to exercise appellate jurisdiction over decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court." The leader of the affirmative being Mr. F. J. Richter '23, of the District of Columbia, and of the negative, Mr. J. J. Williams '23, of Ohio.

LAW DEPARTMENT TO HAVE GLEE CLUB

A Glee Club is now in the process of organization at the Law School, and within the next few weeks will begin active performance.

It is the purpose of Assistant Dean Pegan to have the Glee Club perform at the regular prize debates between the Junior and Senior debating societies.

Doctor Pegan has entrusted the organization to J. S. White '23 and E. Daly '24, who enrolled about fifteen students at meeting, and in view of the enthusiasm displayed the Glee Club will be heard from very often during the school year.

It is believed that out of such a large student body there are a great many more who have not yet enrolled in the club, and as it is essential that operations be commenced hurriedly, it is requested that all instrumental and vocal artists enrolled in the Law School get in touch with either Mr. White or Mr. Daly as early as possible and watch the bulletin boards for the announcement of rehearsals.

In the maze of business that has attended the formation and reorganization of the various activities at the University and the hustle and bustle that is concomitant with the beginning of the year's work, there is one activity that has been overlooked to a great extent, and that is the R. O. T. C. band which was recently organized. Being a supplementary organization of the distinguished military unit at the University it immediately assumes a prominent position in the University campus life and we wish it every success.

Major William H. Hobson, to whom Georgetown can be thankful for the innovation, is optimistic over the prospects for the band. The major has done great work for the University in the past and his latest endeavor is another feather in his already well-filled cap. A very costly set of instruments has been procured from the government through the officials of the Georgetown military unit, and under the leadership of Mr. Schaffer, who is a very talented band-master, the amateur musicians are expected to bring credit to the University.

Practices and rehearsals are being held at regular intervals in Ryan Gym and the enthusiasm and general interest shown by the members bodes well for the success of the undertaking. Under the direction of Major Hobson and the tutelage of Mr. Schaffer we are expecting great things, and it is our sincere wish that it will make fully as great a name for itself as the military organization.

THE TURNING POINT.

Georgetown's football warriors arrived back at the Hilltop Monday after their third successive defeat of the year, a battered and bruised collection of stalwarts who, handicapped by multiple injuries, have been fighting with their backs to the wall during the terrific struggles of the past few weeks. Old man jinx, the warts who, handicapped by multiple injuries, is still lurking in our midst and the most strenuous period of the present season finds the Blue and Gray crippled physically but determined to fight all the harder in the face of great odds.

Bucknell, one of the hardest fighting opponents before entering into any game, to bring home to the law students present indications are that the first organized freshman football team under the newly installed one-year rule gained a very decisive victory over the Sainton Military Academy team. The first start of the year, its implications were very pleased Saturday last to hear that the first organized freshman football team under the newly installed one-year rule gained a very decisive victory over the Sainton Military Academy team. The first start of the year, its implications were very much appreciated.

The one-year rule has been pronounced a great football, and in so doing earned their game stand, is our groundwork for the policy.

While we are on the matter of football, it seems apropos to again call attention to the university athletic policy on the Hilltop. The one-year eligibility rule of likely importance if each man would stand up on every occasion and wave the Blue and Gray in the face of its slanders.

The remarks of the Silver Fox were well taken by the men present, and judging from the applause which followed, are entirely well taken by the men present, and judging from the applause which followed, are entirely well founded.

LAW SCHOOL SPIRIT.

Mr. John O'Reilly, athletic director at the Hilltop, took occasion, during the football rally preceding the Holy Cross game, to bring home to the law students some very pertinent facts regarding the Georgetown spirit among all students of Georgetown.

Mr. O'Reilly in his characteristic manner took the "bull by the horns" and told all hands present that many disagreeable things have been said concerning Georgetown, and that it was up to each and every man present to meet the issue head on as "Old Georgetown" had nothing to be ashamed of, and would benefit materially if each man would stand up on every occasion and wave the Blue and Gray in the face of its slanders.

The remarks of the Silver Fox were well taken by the men present, and judging from the applause which followed, are entirely well founded.

The above article was contributed by Mr. John S. White, of the Senior class at the Law School and one of the recent appointees to the staff of THE HOYA. Mr. White, who makes his home in Washington, brings to the paper several years of experience in the journalism field, coupled with a Georgetown spirit that tends to make one feel that this de- parted law student at the University will be well taken care of in the matter of publicity.

Mr. White is a member of the Carroll and White Law Club and one of the organizers of the newly formed Glee Club, and has been prominent in Law School activities since his entrance to Georgetown. It is our earnest hope that Mr. White will receive the co-operation of the entire student body at the Law Department in order that all matters of general interest to the University will be systematically handled and printed in THE HOYA without any unnecessary delay. Anyone having something to communicate with Mr. White, or Mr. Jennings of the Freshman class, and it will be properly taken care of by either.
Class Elections to Choose Officers for First Year Hotly Contested.

Confronted with the most important business of the year as an organization, the Freshmen met in Gaston Hall last Thursday afternoon at 12:20 o'clock for the express purpose of choosing their class officers for the school term. President Edward McCormick of the Senior class presided as chairman of the meeting, and was assisted by Messrs. Robert McCann and Thomas, Fitzgerald, Seniors, and James McLeary of the Sophomore Vigilance Committee, who directed the class in the procedure of the election.

When the method of voting and balloting had been announced, nominations for the four offices were called for, each in the order of its relative importance. Candidates were plentiful and all office proved to have less than six aspirants. After sufficient time had been given for naming the individual men for the offices, each row in turn mounted the platform, cast their vote and left the hall as is the customary procedure.

Due to the large number of candidates it was necessary to cast two men for each office, and no candidate received a majority of votes over his competitors the four offices had to be again contested. It was proposed to and agreed upon, by the class to meet again at 6:20 o'clock, and Thursday evening the election continued. For the office of secretary it was necessary to cast a special vote in order to break the tie existing between Messrs. Cooney and McAdams for one of the candidacies. Mr. Cooney won. The main election then proceeded, and when the smoke of competition had cleared away and the ballots were counted, it was found that the following men were elected to represent the Class of '26: Messrs. Gene Golsen, president; John Slane, vice president; William Cooney, secretary; and Francis McCabill, treasurer.

Mr. Golsen is a native of Chicago and prepared at Georgetown. He has already made some distinction for himself as a member of the Freshman football team, playing center regularly, Mr. Slane prepared at St. Peter's, Jersey City. He started as regular quarterback for the Varsity, who ended the season with winning a victory over the University of Chicago, and is now in Jacksonville, Fla., and intends to pay winter ball there.

John Leslie Kilkowye, graduate of the Law School, announces the opening of his offices for the general practice of law at 1001 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

P. Sarsfield Cunniff, graduate of the Law School '99, was lately elected to the State congress of Massachusetts. Mr. Cunniff has been very prominent in political activities ever since his graduation. He was also alderman of Water- ton, Mass., his home. Besides being concerned in political affairs, Mr. Cunniff holds an important position in the Catholic circles of the State, as he is traveling in the interests of Catholic Federation.

Chester A. Bennett, formerly major, judge advocate general's department, U. S. Army, and special attorney for the Bureau of Internal Revenue, announces his resignation as special attorney in the office of Solicitor of Internal Revenue and his association with Douglas, Obear and Douglas, attorneys and counselors at law for the general practice of law. He will give special attention to matters of income profits and all other classes of Federal taxation and matters before the several executive departments of the Federal government. He is located in the Southern Building, Washington.

Other prominent Georgetown alumni who have recently risen in public notice include Thomas J. Spellacy '01, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate from Connecticut, and William T. Burland, L.L. B. '17, a former football center tackle, who is a candidate for the State Senate in Connecticut.

John G. Price, LL. B. 1904, at Georgetown, president of the National Association of Attorneys General, who is attorney general of Ohio, presided at the recent meeting of the association in San Francisco, according to word received by friends here. He was made a life member of the association.

Office and Salesroom, 610 Pa. Ave. N.W.
Coaching Albert A. Exendine's badly bruised football machine will meet the strong Bucknell College eleven from Lewisburg, Pa., at American League Park Saturday. It promises to be the stiffest home game thus far this season. Georgetown came out of the Georgia Tech game with little better luck than in her past few contests and the injured list will be long.

At the beginning of the third period the Soldiers started an onslaught which brought the ball to the Freshman's 30-yard line, the nearest they ever came to putting it across. Their march for the final yard mark seemed apparent, when Jack Haggerty stepped in and dropped the ball, and the remainder of the contest told a story that was all Freshmen.

In the final quarter the Freshmen started a march from the middle of the field, and after four times they were stopped momentarily at the 30-yard line, but Berger tucked the pigskin under his arm and romped the remainder of the distance for the final tally.

Tarkle, who replaced Golen, worked well and made a lasting impression on more than one of their opponents.

Score by periods—

Georgia Tech    6        6        7        0—19
Georgetown    0        0        7        0— 7

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdown—DuFour, Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdown—Brewster, McDonough (3). Try for touchdown—Brewster, Referee—Mr. Echoh (W. J. J. Umphrey—Moffat, Princeton), Head linesman—Mr. Price (Swarthmore), Head linesman—Mr. Whitman (Swarthmore).

Time of periods—15 minutes each.

FRESHEST DEFEAT STAUNTON

The contest opened when the Military Academy kicked off to the Freshmen, who juggled the ball for a few times and were unable to gain. Planskys, whose work stood out as plainly as disappointment on an old maid's face, led the pigskin well into the opponent's territory.

McDonald, the Cadets' signal barker, fumbled the pelllet and Beattie fell on it. The Freshmen, after a few cissing off-side plays, brought the ball within scoring distance and Metzgar pushed it over. This was the only tally of the first half.

In the second half Metzgar sustained an injury to his ankle. He was carried off the field by his teammates. When召唤不回来, a not serious injury, present it is expected that he will be out of the game for a couple of weeks at least.

Berger was rushed into the fray to fill the Carroll position. He was a very able substitute and performed well for the time he played.

DAY SCHOLARS
ACTIVE AT HILLTOP

Sodality and Club Organized By Students Living in Washington.

The first meeting of the newly organized Day Scholars' Sodality was held last Thursday at 12:30 in Dahlgren
Chapel. Under the direction of Rev. W.
Coleman Nevils, S. J., former Dean of the College, plans for activity of the sodality this year were discussed, and arrangements for its routine decided upon.
The election of officers resulted in the selection of Mr. William J. Ricciardi '23, president; Mr. J. Burke Walsh '23, and Mr. Albert H. Kirchner '23, assistant prefects, and for consultants, Messrs.
James Kilroy '24, Clarence Gorman '24,
John O'Connor '26, and Aloysius Connolly '26. Mr. Leslie Duffy '24, will play the organ.

The sodality will include in its membership all pre-medical and day students at the Hilltop. Meetings will be held in Dahlgren Chapel every Thursday at 11:45 A. M. Brief religious exercises will be followed by a sermon by the director, Fr. Nevils. General communion will be received once a month on the same Sunday as the Georgetown Union.

The committee elected to make active preparations for the coming Tea was discussed, and arrangements for its routine decided upon. The election of officers resulted in the selection of Mr. William J. Ricciardi '23, president; Mr. J. Burke Walsh '23, and Mr. Albert H. Kirchner '23, assistant prefects, and for consultants, Messrs. James Kilroy '24, Clarence

The Washington Club, society for the establishment of greater cooperation of the day scholars at the Hilltop, in Georgetown affairs, has been organized at the College. At a meeting of the pre-medical and day students last Thursday, it was formally decided to organize, and in accordance with the plan, an executive committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the management of the club until more definite arrangements have been effected. The committee consists of the following members: William J. McGuire '23, chairman; Albert H. Kirchner '23, Robert A. Bacon '23, William J. Ric-ciardi '23.

The Washington Club is under the faculty direction of Rev. W. Coleman Nevils, S. J., former Dean of the College, and present Dean of the School of Foreign Service. In addressing the meeting of the society, Fr. Nevils outlined the scope of its activity during the year.
The principle necessity of the club is a room in which to meet and which the day scholars may use as a rest room between classes. Its acquisition, however, in the near future was assured. The Washington Club will endeavor to keep its memers in closer touch with the activities of the College, many of which the day scholars at present must forgo; either from in-opportunist of time or from neglect of information. In this way it is believed that a real power for good will be created at the College through the encouragement of the cooperation of the day scholars with the boarders in all the student affairs.

JUNIOR CLASS
TO HOLD TEA

December 16th to Be Date of Last Social Function Before the Christmas Holidays.

At an important meeting recently held by the Junior class definite arrangements were made concerning their coming Tea Dance. The affair will be run at the newly erected City Club in its spacious ballroom on Saturday afternoon, December 16, 1922.
The committee elected to make active preparations for the coming function is composed of Mr. John T. Rice, chairman; Mr. James J. Drumm, Mr. Stephen
J. Melady, Mr. Louis C. Ruffing, and Mr.
James E. Russell, Jr.

Mr. George L. Burke, class president, and his able committee intend to have one of the foremost orchestras of the country engaged for the occasion. Since this will be the first time that the commodious building has been used by Georgetown students for any social gathering, and as it will be the closing event of the year prior to the Christmas vacation, the affair is expected to prove very successful.

HEALY DEFEATS "BLIMPS" ON GRIDIRON

Game Ends in 6-0 Victory for "Tigers" in Second Inter-Hall Clash.

The second inter-hall game of the season took place last Sunday morning on Varsity Field. Besides the throng that lined the gridiron, the doughty battlers were cheered on (?) by the blare and boom of what will soon become the Georgetown Band. As a result, the boys from Healy and the "Blimp" displayed an excellent brand of football. However, the eleven from Healy was the stronger to the extent of a 6-0 victory.

After gaining a touchdown in the first five minutes of play, Healy was unable to again cross the valiantly-held goal line of the men from the "Dorm." Despite a tendency to be off side, the line work of both teams was good and although outweighed, the Blimps were able to put up a strong defense when serious invasion threatened. Likewise the backs showed up well in some pretty end running and line plunging. In particular, Haas for Healy and McAdams for the Blimps were outstanding features. Both carried the ball on several occasions for distances of from 10 to 20 yards, tending to equalize the progress and ground-gaining of their respective elevens.

Shortly after receiving the ball on the kick-off the Blimps were forced to kick. Haas' run-back, followed by his end run of 20 yards, resulted in the only score of the game. Healy, presented with the ball shortly afterward by a fumble, proceeded to march up to their opponent's 5-yard line, only to lose the pigskin. It remained in the possession of the Blimps for the greater part of the time and, aided by penalties, threatened Healy's goal posts. However, a forward pass was pulled down by a Healy man and the ball was booted out of dangerous territory. The half ended with the ball in midfield.

In the second stage the backs of both teams figured brilliantly in slashing line backs and fast dashes round the ends. Yet when one side or another approached its adversary's goal a fumble or an intercepted pass lost the leather to them. The whistle ended both the aerial progress of Healv towards another touchdown and the game.
