R. O. T. C. INSPECTION IS COMPLETED

Campus Gun Re-echoes With Din of Machine Gun and Springfield in Realistic Manoeuvres.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week, Lieutenant-Colonel E. E. Fuller, U. S. A., and Colonel George W. Stuart, U. S. A., who composed the committee selected by the War Department to inspect the Georgetown Reserve Officers' Training Corps, gave that outfit a very thorough and rigid examination in considering it as a possible unit for "Gold Star" or Distinguished List recognition in this, the Third Corps area. Lieutenant-Colonel W. R. Pope, U. S. A., who was to have been the third member of the visiting delegation, was suddenly called home owing to the death of his father.

The untiring efforts of Major Hobson and Captains McCord and Watson of the Hilltop's Military Department, showed excellent results when the examiners put them through the annual "acid test." Both inspectors were very detailed regarding all branches of activity.

Arriving about 9 o'clock Monday morning, the officers conferred with President John B. Creeden, S. J., and Dean William T. Tallon, S. J., who received them as guests. Following the morning conference, the officers visited several classes in which were in session. The Seniors and First-Year class, the members of the Advanced Course, were the first quizzed.

In all theoretical matters upon which the inspection was based, the R. O. T. C. Band, conducted entirely of students, and the R. O. T. C. Rifle Team, gave an excellent account of themselves.

Monday morning's work ended up with a creditable semi-automatic gun demonstration down in the "Hollow" by Joseph Brennan, Richard Homan, John Doran, and Charles Perlitz, all of Sophomore class. Brennan, who is an educator. Above everything probably the biggest help to his work was to award for the furtherance of education.

FR. WALSH FRIES EGGS IN RUSSIA

Former Dean of F. S. School Lauded at Playing Places where he resided.

Former Dean of the College, Rev. Fr. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., the Pope's Special Representative in Russia, and former Dean and founder of the Università Cattolica School of Foreign Service. The article published high tribute to the brave Catholic priest, who, at present, is such a dramatic figure in the eyes of Father Walsh, he is now 38 years old, is an exceptionally talented and versatile type of man.

In part the story runs:

"He was very young when he joined the Jesuit Society—in fact, he was between his 16th and 17th birthdays when he left Boston for his preliminary training. He was sent to Frederick, Maryland, studied philosophy at Woodstock, Md., and was among the first to enter the Novitiate at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. From Poughkeepsie, he remained for two years, young Edmund Walsh was moved to Georgetown University, where he remained until last year for Innsbruck, Austria, to study theology.

Before reaching Innsbruck, he visited England and took postgraduate courses at both Oxford and Cambridge. This was in 1912.

At the outbreak of the European war in 1914 he was chosen to go to the United States, where he was sent to serve as Director of the Novitiate at Poughkeepsie. He remained in Austria, however, for two years with the rank of Father Provincial, and only recently, Father Walsh was able to return to the United States to take up his duties in Innsbruck.

At the outset of the war Father Walsh was sent to England to represent the Jesuits in the formation of the Novitiate at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Before returning to America, Father Walsh was assigned to the post of Director of the Novitiate at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and was made a member of the Board of Directors of the University of Innsbruck.

Father Walsh has been at Innsbruck since 1916, and has been engaged in the work of the Novitiate ever since.

Last week the "Middy" target riders defeated the local 121st National Guard Engineers' team by a count of 2,334 to 2,266. It was a matched fire on the excellent Quantico Marine range.

Men Who Brought Intercollegiate Title to Georgetown Proudly Awarded.

Shortly after the members of Georgetown's championship rifle squad returned from their all-day practice session at Camp Humphries, last Saturday, they were greeted with some pleasant news. Five of their number, who won the 1923 indoor and outdoor rifle championship, have been awarded the varsity "G" by the directors of the Georgetown Athletic Association, recognition of their excellent work and sacrifices for the past season. Those to whom the coveted letter have been given are: Captain Gerard Guiffroye, '23; Robert C. McCann, '23; James F. Russell, '24; William C. Saffarans, '24, and John N. Doran, of Sophomore.

Of these men, Captain William E. Bervin, U. S. A. Infantry, next year's executive commander, will have Captain-elect Saffarans, Mr. Russell, and two others as a nucleus from which another winning team may be developed. The entire rifle squad moved down to Humphries last Saturday, and there went through a whole day of strenuous outdoor practice. Coach Sergeant Michael Donahue, U. S. A., and the officers of the Military Department, accompanied the team to the range.

From all reports, the work of the squad during the three days of practice was very good, and the entire gang took on 200 rounds of ammunition with him and his Springfield rifle.

Before leaving, the week's object is to obtain a victory over at Annapolis in the annual outdoor inter-collegiate rifle tournament which will be conducted there Saturday. Some difficult opponents, such as Yale, Lehigh, Navy, University of Mary- land, and other eastern institutions. Yet Coach Donahue is quite confident that his charges will give a victorious account of themselves.

Navy has been practicing zealously now for six weeks, resulting in the development of several expert shots.

Last week the "Middy" target riders defeated the local 121st National Guard Engineers' team by a count of 3,854 to 2,266. It was matched fire in four stages, there being the 200 yards, 500 yards, both slow, and then the 200 yards and 300 yards rapid.

The R. O. T. C. Rifle Team gave a splendid display of their skill and ex- cellence.

URSINUS LOSES TO GEORGETOWN

Pennsylvanians Hit Hard and Frequently—Home Runs and Double Plays Feature.

A free-hitting, one-sided slugfest is about the best description that could be applied to the Georgetown-Ursinus College baseball contest on Varsity field last Thursday, which the Blue and Gray team won easily from the Pennsylvania college club, 18 to 5. Wood, rated as the best hurling bet for the invaders, lasted just two-thirds of the first frame before the heavy hitting of Coach O'Reilly's charges. Howell, who relieved him, was as ineffective and was hammered for 13 safe hits during his stay in the box.

McCarthy started the game on the mound for the Hilltoppers, but his delivery was a little rough by the opposing collegians. Five runs were amassed before Jones was sent into the fray. He went the rest of the distance and held the visitors well in hand, allowing but three scattered hits during his six-inning term in the box.

Flavin and Murphy contributed a great share to the hits of the Blue and Gray team by turning in a score of three safe singles apiece. Home-runs were

The orchestra was especially generous with its spirit of the affair served to banish all forethoughts of the heat.

FR. TOOHEY'S CLASS GIVES DISPUTATION

Messrs. Burke, Babbitt, Manfuso, and Dailey Take Part in Annual Public Controversy.

The Rev. Father John J. Toohey's class in Philosophy was represented by four of its members in the annual public disputation held in Gaston Hall last Wednesday morning. The hall was filled with members of all the classes with the exception of the Freshmen, visiting classes from the Convention of Visitors, and members of the faculty.

Mr. J. Gibbons Burke, '24, of New Orleans, La., read an essay on Humen and his conception of the doctrine of Idealism. In the discussion Mr. James E. Babbitt, '24, acted as defender, while Messrs. John F. Dailey, '24, and John A. Manfuso objected. The debate centered around the topics of Idealism and that of the Universal Idea.

At the conclusion of the disputation the president of the University spoke a few words of congratulations to Professor Toohey and the speakers.
G. U. REPRESENTED AT TRADE CONVENTION

Rev. W. Coleman Nevils and Dr. Roy S. McElwee Attend Meeting in New Orleans.

That the conversion of business men to the belief in the college-trained men in business is slowly taking place was the opinion of those who attended the Foreign Trade Convention at New Orleans last week. The activities of the men interested in university training have been rewarded by seeing business men take a much more active interest in college men, to the point of accepting them in positions in foreign offices.

The educational group in the Convention, under the leadership of Dr. Glenn Swigett of the U. S. Department of Education, held its meeting the first day of the Convention to hear a report of the work of the school and of the hopes of the Faculty that the graduates will be of the Foreign Service School, at the request of the National Foreign Trade Council that many of the schools of Foreign Service were insti-

The feature event of the week-end was the banquet held Thursday night at the local City Club. Edward McCormick, president of the Senior class, proved to be an able and genial toastmaster.

Rev. J. B. Creedon, President of Georgetown University; Rev. W. T. Tallon, Dean of the College; Brigadier General Smedly Butler, U. S. Marines; Dr. Fagan, of the Law School; and Dr. Hoefnagle, of the Medical School, all addressed the gathering.

Mr. Louis O'Leary, of the Freshman class, and the Collegians delighted all those present with their offerings.

Friday evening a dance conducted at the City Club proved to be one of the most brilliant affairs of the social season. The Hilltop Collegians and Meyer Davis' Orchestra vied with each other in their attempts to win the applause of the dancers.

MAJOR G'S FOR RIFLEMEN.

The recent award of the Major G to the five students of the college that composed the intercollegiate championship team is one of the most commendable steps ever taken by the Athletic Association towards the development of this comparatively young activity at Georgetown, and in extending our congratulations to Messrs. Guilfoyle, McCann, Reynolds, and Moran, we also commend the action of the members of the Athlete Board.

In its infancy at Georgetown and away from the glamour and spotlight that is the fortune of other sports, rifle shooting has scarcely been given the attention which it certainly deserves. Few of the college men realize the importance of the title won by the Blue and Gray marksmen. Competing with colleges all over the country, many of whom could not possibly be met in any other competition, the Hilltop rifle team invaded new territory and left an indelible impression with their ability and prowess. It is needless to mention here of the exceptional ability and brilliance in this line demanded of a championship aggregation. Suffice it to say, however, that the accomplishment of the Georgetown team is universally recognized as the standing and leading attainment of collegiate rifle teams and their records compare favorably with those of other top marks in our army and navy service.

We would like to bring home to everyone, to use the colloquial expression, the wonderful perseverance shown by the members of the winning team. Volumes could be written of the splendid patience and sacrifice in the accomplishment. Both men worked hard for the success of the rifle team, as they did for their respective bodies. In addition, the Hoyas offers its sincerest wishes for their success in the future.

AN APPALLING CONDITION.

We were treated to a very disgraceful scene Saturday evening in Gaston Hall when the Hamilton ex-temporaneous debate, one of the most prominent extra-curriculum oratorical affairs of school year was attended by hardly more than twenty of the entire Georgetown student body. Certainly this is an unfortunate state of affairs and one that should be speedily remedied inasmuch as the root of the evil can easily be found and cures are not needed.

Whatever possesses the student body of an American college of the present era to disregard such an important element in the educational advantages offered by it as the art of public speaking is far from our concept. We can be a loss to explain the conduct of one supposedly seeking an education, in the strict sense of the word, who, instead of regarding it at the same time. It makes one really wonder after all just what is education? We pause to reflect a moment on Stephen Leacock's answer to "Why is a College," and not finding any relief from our oblivion and commanded the attention of the Senior class was perhaps one of the saddest occurrences of the year. We noticed recently the selections for Friday and Saturday, May 26, were slated for the Hilltop for their success in the future.

LARGE SQUAD ENTERED IN SOUTH ATLANTICS

Georgetown Trackmen to Participate in Every Event—Leave for Richmond Thursday.

According to well founded reports, the Georgetown track team should have little difficulty in winning a large majority of the events at the South Atlantic Intercollegiate Association track and field events at Richmond this week. This opinion was given additional credence by Mr. Clark, head of athletics at V. M. L., who was accredited with the statement that the other entries in the yearly event would have chances that were decidedly slim when compared with those of Georgetown. He picks the Blue and Gray to win the meet easily.

Last year Georgetown finished 20 points ahead of her nearest competitor, Virginia, who scored a total of 44 points for the entire meet.

Two years ago, when this classic was held on Varisty field, the Blue and Gray had held up their end of the argument, and is attested by a tribute to him from one of the American administration men, in reference to Americans,  followed.

Next Saturday the yearlings will journey to Emmettsburg to engage in the major events of the meet.

Maroney and Plansky have been entered in a number of events and are bound to be found among the high-point scorers of the meet, if present in decidely good form.

In the three running events the features lie in Maroney and Plansky, who can well hold their end of the argument. Hooker and McAdams will take care of the high jump, while Volkman and Sheedy will draw action in the pole vault.

The nine-run start in the opening frame was disastrous for the Pennsylvanians and three runs in each of these chapters took away all hope they ever held of winning the contest. From the third inning on it was all Georgetown and not once during this time were theKeystone Staters dangerous.

Freshman Society Changes Name
To Be Known Simply as "The Literary Society"—Mr. N. H. Clare Elected President.

On Monday evening of this week that organization formed this year under the leadership of Cyril C. Clemens, known as the Freshman Literary Society, met in Room L, and not only elected new officers for the coming year, but changed the society's name that it may accommodate students of all classes in future years.

The new title under which the society will hereafter be known is simply "The Literary Society of Georgetown College," as was proposed earlier in the year, this will give members of all classes who are literary enthusiasts an opportunity of enrolling in its ranks.

An elaborate schedule is tentatively being prepared for a very active year during 1923-1924. Several lectures are being arranged for, and an excellent array of ideas are being given consideration to make this organization one of the foremost in college ranks.

Officers elected for the coming year are Mr. N. Holmes Clare, of Bronxville, N. Y., president; Mr. J. Gordon Riddal-de, of Washington, D. C, vice president; Mr. William Casper Smith, York, Pa., secretary; and Mr. John V. Mc-

Kone, Tunnelton, W. Va., treasurer.

The many successful and important accomplishments achieved by the retiring president and founder of the society were not overlooked. A warmly sincere vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Clemens. In thanking his fellow members he commended their remarkable cooperative spirit, reflected upon the accomplishments of that body during the current school year, and expressed his desire that the organization might continue to grow and flourish in future years.

JUNIOR BANQUET
TO BE ON MAY 16

Faculty Will Be Guests of Class.
Committee Plans on Large Attendance.

Final arrangements have been made and all things are ready for the Junior Banquet which is to be held at the Hotel Lafayette, 16th and I Streets N. W., on Wednesday, May 16, at 7:15 P. M. The committee has gone to great trouble to make this banquet a success. The ballroom of the hotel usually open to the guests will be turned into a private dining room. The room will be beautifully decorated to give the proper atmosphere. The Georgetown Collegians are to render their best and almost continuous music.

Instead of giving favors the committee is having made an expensive program, which they promise will be the best ever seen at Georgetown. Invitations have been extended to the members of the Junior faculty, who will be the guests of honor of the class. Appropriate after-dinner speeches have also been arranged. Members of the class have shown great interest in the affair and a large attendance is assured to make the big formal function a success.
