Holy Cross Springs Surprise in Defeating Georgetown

Purple Triumphs, 10-0, in Game That Sends Many Hilltop Stars to Bench—Blue and Gray Offensive Unable to Pierce Visitors’ Line.

Holy Cross traveled to Washington last week on its second defeat to Georgetown’s string this year and to avenge their defeat by the Blue and Gray in the season’s opener. The visitors scored a drop kick from the 25-yard line in the third quarter and intercepted a forward pass for a touchdown in the final period, and as Broussard gained the extra point on the conversion, the final score Holy Cross 10, Georgetown 0.

The spectacular feature of the Hilltoppers’ play was a fighting spirit on defense that all through the first half kept the ball moving back and forth in the midfield, and in the last quarter held the Purple on the one-foot line for three downs, finally taking the ball from them without a score. It was a magnificent stand and the line deserves credit for a stonewall defense in what seemed a hopeless situation. Such a defense, however, proved of little use, for Georgetown was unable to gain either through the line or by the forward pass route, and shortly after Simondinger intercepted a forward and ran for a touchdown.

In the final analysis Georgetown was unable to stand the strain. The game all the way through was of the hardest kind, and old injuries were continually cropping out in the Hilltoppers. They went to the bench, and others, while able to remain in the game, were hampered in their effectiveness.

"Wiggy" King, playing for the first time since the Cincinnati game, is on the bench again with a recurrence of his former injury. Flavin was another who suffered injury during the contest, and though able to continue the game he was far from fit to carry the ball with usual effectiveness. Butler was also injured in the third quarter in tackling McMahorn after a 35-yard run.

The only time during the game when the Blue and Gray attack attained any power was in the third quarter, when, on the way by three points scored by Holy Cross from a drop kick they carried the ball from their own 30-yard line to the Purple 48-yard line. Straight line plunging was responsible for the gain. Here the aerial work that was resorted to failed and Kenyon was thrown for a loss and Flavin regained the ball for the Blue and Gray attack attained any power.

On the last play of the game Holy Cross was penalized five yards for a holding foul, but Flavin failed to gain on the third and fourth downs away from the goal line. The ball was put in play on Holy Cross' 45-yard line. Lowe got five yards at right tackle, and Kenyon two yards in the same place. Holy Cross was penalized five yards for offside, giving Georgetown the ball on its own 45-yard line.

Flavin got five yards at left tackle, Lowe failed to gain and punted outside on Holy Cross’ 25-yard line. Simondinger returned the punt from the Purple and failed to gain, and shortly afterward Flavin’s punt was blocked. Holy Cross recovered the ball on Georgetown’s 35-yard line. Roipke failed to gain, but the second time gained five yards. Two forward passes failed and it was Georgetown’s ball. Flavin punted to McMahon, who brought the back ball to the Blue and Gray’s 40-yard line. A forward pass, Simondinger to McMahon, gained six yards. McMahorn failed to gain and the ball was again in Georgetown’s possession. DuFour fumbled, but Flavin regained the ball. McMahorn and Blue and Gray by intercepting a forward pass as the half ended.

The second half began with a long run by McMahorn from kick-off, but Simondinger was soon forced to punt to Continued on Page Six

FRESHMEN WIN FALL TRACK MEET

First-Year Men Score 83 1/2 Points in Event—Maroney Takes Individual Honors.

The annual fall interclass track meet of Georgetown University held Wednesday, November 1, ended with victory for the Freshmen, who totaled 227 points. The Blue and Gray runners were the Seniors with 28 points.

Individual honors went to Francis M. Maroney, ’23, for the mile run, who scored 31 points of the 28 obtained by his class. The new men showed up well, especially in the sprints, where three first places and a second; Plansky, who came second in two events, and Skane, who ran a fine mile.

With the addition of these men, and several other new men who showed well in the meet, Coach O’Reilly expects a successful season in track.

The results of the meet are as follows:

100-yard dash—Won by Haas ’24; second, O’Byrne ’23; third, Kinnally ’25.

New President of Class of 1923 Elected at Recent Meeting.

Probably the most exciting event of the Law Class of ‘23 was the recent election of class officers, held under the direction of Ex-President Dick Herbert.

It required three ballots to decide the winner, and at the conclusion it was a glorious sight to see Messrs. Dally, Doberty, and Quinn, the defeated but winners, and their loyal supporters rise and join with the supporters of the victor in a resounding ovation for Al Kane, the greatest and most popular leader ever chosen by a class at the Law School.

President Kane adopted the platform of Andy Gump, when he sounded his famous slogan, “I wear no man’s collar,” and “I am 100 per cent for the class of 1923.”

The contests for the other offices were not far behind in interest, and after a spirited scramble the following sterling gentlemen were chosen to fill high offices of trust:

Secretary, Joseph Cain.
Treasurer, T. Kelly.
Sergeant-at-arms, P. J. Sullivan.
Historian, S. De Neale.

After the elections an impromptu celebration was held at the St. Chi Fraternity House for Al Kane, which was attended by many of the students. The gaiety was continued throughout the evening with the vanquished and the victors for all offices and their constituents, who aided in making it a great success.

TEAM LEAVES TO MEET GEORGIA TECH

Squad in Crippled Condition. Wire From Field to Ryan Gym to Bring News of Game.

The football team leaves for Atlanta this afternoon to meet Georgia Tech on Grant Field. Their defeat at the hands of Holy Cross last week will send some of the players away nursing injuries.

"Wiggy" King will be out of the game altogether, as the result of a recurrence of an injury sustained in the Cincinnati game. Flavin, Butler, Quinn, Byrne and Malley have been hurt, but with the exception of Quinn and King all the regulars are expected to make the trip.

Twenty-two men will be taken and are expected to arrive in Atlanta in time for a light work-out on Friday.

Under the auspices of The Hoy, a private wire will be run from Grant Field to Ryan Gymnasium, giving a play-by-play account of the game. An entertainment will be provided in the Gym between the halves.
RHYTHM HALL DEFEATS MCGUIRE IN FOOTBALL

First of Inter-Hall Gridiron Clashes Held on Varsity Field.

Kinnally Is Star.

Last Sunday on Varsity Field the first of the inter-hall football games took place when the "Ida M. Ryans" clashed with the "Molly Maguires." From the first blow of the whistle the contest waxed hot and fast, and when the dust had settled for the day the "Ida Lions" emerged victors at the favorable end of a 12-0 score.

Promptly at 10 A.M. the two teams ran out on the field to run through a few signals amidst the applause of their respective rooters. "Jack" McGowan, unable to play because of an injured ankle, was quick to originate some cheers, which he led for the Ryan aggregation.

The supporters of the Maguires were not far behind him. So the crowd watched with interest and enthusiasm as the 22 men who had not donned shoulder pads since "prep" school days lined up for the kick-off.

The Ryan's got off to a fast start, and by means of straight football carried the ball down the field and over the line for a touchdown. Though surprised by the early attack of their opponents, the Maguires soon tightened up and prevented further scoring. In the second half the ball traveled up and down the field until late in the third quarter. Kinnally carried it around left end for a 35-yard run and a touchdown as before, his drop-kick for another point failed. In the last half of play the Ryan's game came more open and several forward passes were good for short gains until one team or the other obtained possession of the pigskin. The game ended without further scoring. The line-up:

Major Hobson gives out extensive list of matches to be undertaken.

The recent smoker held at the luxurious new home of the Gamma Eta Gamma on K Street, was the first of a series of entertainments scheduled by Chancellor Joe Cantrel of Iota Chapter for the ensuing year.

Chancellor Cantrel, now an active member of the District of Columbia bar, lived up to his brilliant reputation for "putting it over" and is to be congratulated for the orderly and entertaining manner in which he handled the arrangements, to the complete satisfaction of an attendance numbering about one hundred. Members of the committee, introducing Professors Frank Spring Perry and Arthur A. Alexander, both members of Iota Chapter, paid them glowing tributes, and after listening to the enlightening and entertaining remarks of the collegiate toastmasters, all voted a rousing tribute of the Chancellor with a rousing cheer.

The main address of the evening was delivered by Robt. E. J. Whalen '17, who dwelled at length upon the merits of Gamma Eta Gamma as a fraternity and in his characteristic style stressed the accomplishments of Georgetown and George-town men, and judging from the attentive manner in which his remarks were received, and the ovation accorded him, he has endeared himself in the hearts of every man present.

Jack Hagerty eloquently delivered "Victor Hugo's Plea for His Son," and some jury is due for a treat when Jack defends his first criminal suit, judging from the impression made upon his listeners.

The program was interspersed by several musical numbers rendered by Messrs. Henry Wallis and Jack Daly, and vocal selections by Emmet Daly of the class of '24, and Jack White of the class of '23.

A UNIVERSITY PAPER.

In an editorial in these columns several weeks ago we came to the fore with the announcement that the present year of THE HOYA was to witness a wide divergence of the policies of the paper from that of the past. The publication was to become a University weekly and was to cease functioning as a purely Hilltop production.

That we have carried out the major portion of these plans is only too well known to the various departments of the University. We must admit, however, that the Law School has not come in for the publicity that its size and importance should command, but this is entirely not our fault. We made several attempts to enlist the aid of members of the Law School in the matter of publicity work, all to no avail. Hence it is obvious that without the source to furnish the news we were unable to publish Law activities in our columns.

The appointment of Mr. James J. Jennings, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., of the Freshman class at the Law School should, however, clear matters for the satisfaction of all concerned. Mr. Jennings, who has had much experience in the newspaper field, is an Associated Press correspondent, and he will be assisted by Mr. John S. White of the Senior class. These two men will be our representatives, and we have agreed to handle as best we may everything of any importance in Law School activities.

Under a new system to be tried out we look for a betterment of past conditions and hope that the future will witness unstinted co-operation in the matter of publicity from everyone concerned.

Medical and Dental School activities are also to be covered, and THE HOYA is contemplating the appointment of representatives in these schools of the University. When this is effected every department of the University will be represented on the staff of THE HOYA, and we will then rest assured that the publication will be a University production not only in name but in fact.

Naturally we look for a reciprocity of spirit from those to be benefited, and we are expecting a generous response from the entire student body to our appeal for support and co-operation in maintaining the finances of the paper during the coming year. Thus far we have met with fair success in our endeavors along these lines from the students of the downtown schools, but in proportion to the number of students enrolled in the University the number of supporters of THE HOYA is very small.

Of the two thousand odd students in the downtown departments, but two hundred and fifty are regular purchasers of the paper, and it is obvious that this is but a small proportion.

We are hopeful, however, that when once the student body has been awakened to the fact that we mean business and that our plans and policies are not merely "space fillers," that our appeal will not be disregarded. For the convenience of the morning Law class THE HOYA will be on sale in the future at the school every Friday morning and at the Medical building on the same day.

This is the first real effort ever made by THE HOYA to bring about the unity and oneness that has been talked about as the ideal situation for the betterment of general University progress, and we are confident that it shall be successful. We are doing our share and expect you to do yours. The future of Georgetown unity and cooperation is in your hands and we are hopeful that you will do your best to further its present progress, successfully something should be done to better past conditions and to guard against a recurrence of the same.

A WORTHY MOVEMENT.

In our years at Georgetown we have yet to meet with a project that was so deserving of the support of everyone on the Hilltop as the one which is now being conducted by the recently reorganized Paul Society—a drive for members with the purpose of giving charity to the needy and the doing of good in every instance where it is required.

Under the direction of Rev. Thomas L. Gasson, Dean of the Graduate School, and Mr. James F. Rutledge, of the Senior class, a reorganization of the Society, which is one of the oldest at the College, is being attempted and the membership drive is now well under way. The leaders of the Society are energetic and painstaking in this undertaking and they are hopeful that it will be a success.

Years ago Georgetown was particularly noted for the splendid work accomplished in this line of endeavor, and this matter should again become a reason for pride and interest among the Hilltop students. The drive is something that should be given the hearty endorsement of everyone at Georgetown. Membership in an organization having for its purpose the spreading of the principle of charity and good is a thing that embraces Christian charity. Experience that will be invaluable in later life can be gathered from association with the less fortunate, and we recommend membership in the Society to everyone.

Often as a Georgetown student is called upon to perform a little extra work in outside activities and much as his support is asked for in College affairs, yet it should be remembered that the greatest good is derived from the greatest activity and that the busy man and not the idler is the one that is always sought out for the bigger things of life.

INTER-CLASS SPORTS
TO BE ORGANIZED

George L. Burke, '24, to Have Charge of Competition in All Branches of Sport.

The proposed formation of inter-class leagues in the various branches of sport which exist on the Hilltop is making favorable and progressive steps. This praiseworthy plan is being conducted under the able leadership of Mr. George L. Burke, president of the Class of 1924.

An introductory announcement regarding the purposes and desires of Mr. Burke for successfully bringing to materiali-Zation the plans as conceived by him were announced in last week's HOYA.

The plans, for successfully bringing to materializa-tion the plans as conceived by him were announced in last week's HOYA. Since that time the probability of the plans has been increased by Mr. Burke encouraging approval of the proposal as it is to be adopted, and will devote much time to the furtherance of the idea in that he fully realizes the conducive benefits major athletics will gain with inter-class frays as a stepping stone.

Such contests have been staged by Blue and Gray students in former years, but only in a somewhat half-hearted and disinterested fashion. Hence, being a reval of a previously carried-out policy it is the intention of Mr. Burke to afford the students some objective for which to strive, and in this way to make inter-class rivalry keen, also an outstanding feature of student life in Georgetown College.

At present Mr. O'Reilly has submitted a high standing concern an order for several medals, trophies and the like.

These will be awarded as part honors to the meritorious participants of the many students whom it is hoped will engage in the several branches of sport open to them.

To those who successfully complete the requirements class numerals will be awarded.

Managers for the respective teams will be elected by the members of the class that the competitive aggregation will represent. It is also hoped that soon a faculty director or advisor will be appointed to act as overseer of each division. While current matters and difficulties are being developed and solved, Mr. Comey, S. J., will act in the capacity of general inter-
class athletic prefect.

In all probability the traditional Freshman-Sophomore tilt will hold the limelight in football. This season being the initial year of the one-year rule at Georgetown, the yearlings have an excellent working machine to put on the gridiron, and in which they place much hope.
Sophomores on the varsity squad are eligble for the second-year team, thereby strengthening the second year men's aspirations. A novel idea has been put forth by Mr. Burke for the successful completion of a football season. Many stellar performers being on either the varsity squad or Freshman squad they will be unable to engage in class activities for early pigskin laurels; therefore lack of a chance to entertain himself, and thereby render a more just account of himself to those actively interested in what was considered the big contest of the evening. Of late years Georgetown has had much. With a well organized league to refer to Mr. Burke aspires to produce some crack pre-liminary and between-the-halves battles that will keep up the interest and enthusiasm throughout the evening. This move is expected to be very helpful to the varsity as it would give them more time, and would tend to decrease any possible occurrence of disinterest on the part of the spectators.

Not since the spring of 1920 has swimming been looked upon as a Geo-

town sport. During that season a well-organized committee ran an inter-class
swimming meet which gained the praise of the student body. There is a very serviceable outdoor swimming pool in the "Hollow" and is used very extensively in the spring in an inter-class or inter-hall meet.

Coveted awards and numerals will be presented the winners and runners-up of the meet.

Though the season is far distant, and definite announcements can not at the time be put forth by Mr. Burke regarding baseball, he expects to carry out about the same policy as was pursued last baseball season. The diamond sport held high and unlimited attention last season in the college which prompted the Eastern intercollegiate baseball nine for the past college ball season.

SPORTS

By W. H. Daly

After two consecutive defeats Georgetown will attempt to retrieve her standing in the intercollegiate football domain Saturday afternoon at Grant Field, Atlanta, by a win over Georgia Tech. Coach Alexander's “Golden Tornado” has had none too successful a year, having been defeated by Bob Folwell’s Midshipmen at Annapolis and by Knute Rockne’s sterling Notre Dame club on successive Saturdays, and Coach Exendine is in hopes of downing the Yellow Jackets in the coming engagement.

Tech is conceded to be the favorite, as the game is on their home grounds, where she has been defeated only twice in the history of Grant Field. Washington and Lee was the first team to defeat Tech on Grant Field and the victory of the South Bend aggregation two weeks ago made the second loss. Hilltop team has invaded Atlanta for the past three years, and on each occasion has been forced to bow to the superior power of Coach Alexander’s eleven. As Georgetown is in poor physical shape for the encounter, following the grueling struggles of the past three weeks with Fordham, Quantico Marines and Holy Cross, the outlook is hardly an optimistic one. The Blue and Gray came out of the recent Purple game with several injurys to several regulars, the Hilltoppers held as the game ended. Another Georgetown pass was intercepted after the kick-off, but the Hilltoppers held as the game ended.

FRESHMEN vs. STAUNTON.

While Coach Exendine’s Varsity eleven is playing the “Golden Tornado” at Atlanta, Jackie Maloney’s yearling outfit will clash with the strong Staunton Military Academy team at Staunton, Va. Two weeks ago the Cadets demonstrated their power with a decisive victory over the Navy, and the Virginia school is possessed of one of the finest schoolboy elevens in her history.

The Freshmen are well prepared for the battle, as Coach Maloney, former Georgetown leader, has been schooling his charges in the rudiments of the Exendine system, and their showing against the Varsity in their weekly scrimmages stamp them as a powerful eleven. In the Frosch backfield will be Tony Planisky at fullback, Metzger and Haggerty at the halves, and Foley at quarterback. The make-up of the line will probably be Pugh and Beatty at ends, Schumacher and Joyce at tackle, Walker and Featherstone guards, and Golsen center. In addition to these men Slane, Cronin, and Driscoll should see action in part of the game in the backfield, while Cul len, McKone, Kelley, and Tardie are likely to be called upon for line duty.

Basketball Schedule.

Manager Thomas A. White is busily engaged in listing contests for the coming basketball season. Already several strong teams have been secured to meet the Hilltoppers and the year promises to be one of the busiest in recent years. A contest that should arouse much interest locally is the match with the Navy five at Annapolis on January 31st. Lafayette and South Carolina have also been scheduled as well as a dual engagement with the George Washington team, one game to be played in Ryan Gym and the return battle at the Coliseum. Several other important Eastern and Southern aggregations are to appear on the local court, and present indications are that the coming season will be one of the best in several years.

Special Wire to Ryan Gym.

Under the auspices of The Hoy, a special wire will be run direct from Grant Field, giving the student body a detailed first-rate account of the Georgetown-Georgia Tech game at Atlanta. Every play will be announced in the Ryan Gym immediately after it has been made. An entertainment will be provided during the halves. Martin E. Maloney, head cheer leader, will direct the cheering.

St. Vincent de Paul has Drive

Georgetown, as a Catholic institution, has always responded reliably to the many charitable appeals made to its students. Under such conditions the St. Vincent de Paul Society has flourished here, and in the past has accomplished magnificent work among the poor of Washington and the vicinity of Georgetown. During the last year, however, a censurable lack of support on the part of the student body prevented the complete realization of such extensive plans as had been made for charitable activity at that time.

Three weeks ago, at the first meeting of the year, the Society was completely reorganized. Mr. James Rutledge, '23, was elected president, and will be supported by Mr. Vincent Murphy, '24, vice president; Mr. John Gahan, '23, secretary, and Mr. Louis Laplace, '24, treasurer. Under the direction of Rev. Thomas I. Gasson, S.J., Faculty Supervisor, the scope of the Society's work, this year, was outlined.

At the suggestion of Rev. John B. Creeden, S.J., President of the University, cooperation will be effected with the Christ Child Society, in Washington. In this way the duties of the active members, among other things, will be to give instruction to classes of young boys at the Christ Child Settlement House, at various times during the year. No member will be called on for more than one night every other week and, as the time is only for an hour during the evening, the sacrifice should not prove too great. On the other hand, the work promises to be very interesting, as the classes will be, for the most part, in elementary history, religion, etc., and in various forms of athletics. The greater the active membership enrolled in the Society, the less often will the members be called upon for active work.

Other forms of charity will also be undertaken, and these made possible by the subscriptions of the associate members. In the course of the year a collection of old clothes will be solicited from the students, and this distributed among the poor children around Georgetown.

FIRST OF MONDAY
LECTURES GIVEN

Father Thomas I. Gasson Delivers Discourse on Dreams.

Last Monday afternoon in Gaston Hall

the Georgetown Monday lectures were inaugurated by the Rev. Thomas I. Gas-

son, S.J., who discoursed on “Dreams,

Dreaming, and Dreamers,” the first lecture, pointed the seeming paradox as received by his appreciative audience, and showed a thorough knowledge of the subject. Upwards of two hundred and fifty were present to listen to Father

Gasson’s interesting words. The discourse extended throughout the best part of an hour.

Father Gasson, in opening the lecture, pointed the seeming paradox as regards the Church’s opinion of dreams.

The paradox, he showed, consists in that while the Church teaches it isn’t right to believe in dreams, yet the Scriptures

are full of them and their interpretations. This difficulty he cleared by differentiating between natural and supernatural dreams. He said, in part:

“We cannot be held accountable for things while we are asleep; our wills at that time cannot be exercised. Therefore, God can use dreams for a purpose.”

“It doesn’t follow,” he continued, “that He’ll use every dream for His purpose.”

He further discoursed on dreams from

English and German literature, giving extracts from Shakespeare and Schiller.

These extracts proved to be very interesting.

The next lecture, on “Our Trees in Autumn and Spring,” will be given next

Monday by the Rev. J. A. S. Bros-

nan, S.J.
