Hilltoppers Lead 10 to 0 at End of Half—Georgia Tech Captures Hard-fought Game in Closing Periods—The Yellow Jackets’ Whirlwind Attack Proves Too Potent for G. U.

The Yellow Jacket jinx again hooded the Blue and Gray last Saturday at Atlanta, when Georgetown bowed to Tech after leading for the first half in an exceptionally spectacular game.

It was the fifth consecutive defeat at the hands of the Techs, and the Hilltoppers practically had the game won, until the final period, when repeated penalties and a very skillful drive pushed Maloney’s team deep into their own territory and Tech carried the ball over three times. Twice in the third quarter they scored and again in the final period in the last few minutes.

Georgetown scored her lone touchdown in the first quarter when Hagerty intercepted a forward yard pass on the twenty-five yard line and brought the crowd to its feet by running forty-eight yards through the whole Tech team. It was the feature of the game. In the second quarter the Hilltoppers tacked three more yards. Byrne stepped back on the twenty-seven-yard line and succeeded in putting the ball between the lines after a hard kick from placement. This closed the scoring for Georgetown.

Albright, substituting for I. Williams at left half, was the minute man for the Golden Tornado. In the third period, a wonderful broken field running he placed the ball across the line twice for Tech, Farnsworth failing to gain the subsequent point.

Georgetown Starts Scoring.

Tech won the toss and elected to defend the north goal. Plansky kicked off to Reeves, who brought the ball to his twenty-five-yard line. Butler threw Wycoff for no gain. The Tech back tried it again and got six yards through right tackles. Williams made three yards and Hunt two. It was first down on the Tech forty-yard line. Plansky kicked off to the Tech twenty-yard line. Plansky got two.

Father Heredia, Distinguished Authority on Spiritism, Will Lecture in Gaston Hall. Spiritual Frauds Exposed.

On Friday evening at 8:15 o’clock, Fr. Heredia, of the College of the City of New York, will lecture in Gaston Hall on spiritism. Fr. Heredia is one of the most deadly foes of this new religion, which people affecting liberalism and advanced thought feel they must admire. He convicts of fraud. The audience will be present to the meeting at the University Hospital. A remarkable health rating was given the new class.

Freshmen of Downtown School Become Acquainted With Classmates—Social Committee Appointed.

A committee was named to arrange for a smoker and other social activities during the coming year. A motion was made and adopted to select a temporary chairman. As he called the roll, each student responded and told from what state he hailed. The committee chairman introduced each student to the others and members of the class served to obviate the difficulties of getting acquainted.

Many students work during the day and have little opportunity to see each other outside of class.

Society Formed by Day Students.

A meeting of the day students, at which Mr. Kilroy, ’34, presided, was held Wednesday noon, October 17th, at 12:30 p.m. A constitution, drafted by Mr. Sullivan, was read for approval of the body. After much discussion the constitution was referred to a committee composed of a member from each class. The meeting was closed. The body is to be elected to represent the body.

Other matters of importance were debated upon during the session, but the settlement and adjustment of details were waived until the return of Fr. Nevils. The Rev. Moderator is, at present, in Pittsburgh, in the interest of the Georgetown University Endowment Fund.

The meeting was closed with a suggestion by Mr. Kilroy that the members present spread the idea of the club to all the student scholars. The club has the hearty approval and sanction of Rev. William Tallon, Dean of the School of Arts and Science.
There were two minutes left to play. Hunt went through center for a touchdown. Farnsworth, failed to get the extra point. Fair kicked off of Georgetown and Metzger caught the ball. A forward pass, Byrne to Brooks was incomplete. Georgetown tried another forward and it was intercepted by Moore on the Hilltopper's 35-yard line. The game ended here.

PRE-LEGAL SMOKER
HELD LAST FRIDAY

Function Held at University Club—Music and Addresses Help Make Evening Enjoyable.

Pre-legal students of Georgetown University held their first social function of the year on Friday last at the University Club, where they enjoyed a smoker. The committee in charge endeavored to secure every means to make the affair a success. Mr. Field, of Connecticut, the principal speaker of the evening, pointed out to the embryo lawyers the importance of their course at Georgetown. He emphasized the necessity of every man giving his best efforts to all the activities of his class.

The musical program of the evening was under the able direction of Mr. Doran and Mr. Leechan. Several selections were rendered during the course of the evening which tended to augment the affair to a high degree; after the entertainment refreshments were served.

The committee consisted of Mr. Cannon, chairman; Mr. Kah, toastmaster; Mr. Moran and Mr. King.

GLEE CLUB TRAVELS TO MARYLAND

Musical Organization to Offer Its First Concert of the Year Next Friday—Double Quartet to Appear—Five Soloists Are Listed.

The Glee Club is prepared to deliver its first concert. It will appear before St. Michael's Parish, Leonardstown, Md., on Friday evening, October 26th. The committee in charge endeavored to secure every means to make the affair a grand success. SENIOR SMOKER ON NOVEMBER SEVENTH Committee Selected and Place Chosen—Campus Celebrities to Be Present—Souvenir Menu Booklet Being Prepared.

The evening of Wednesday, November 7th, has been selected by the Senior class as the most appropriate time for the Annual Smoker. Harvey's will be the scene of the occasion. The able committee, consisting of Chairman Mr. William J. Downey of Massachusetts, assisted by Messrs. John A. Goodwin of New York City, Francis King of Massachusetts, Francis J. Mahoney, also of Massachusetts, and Bert F. Quinn of New York, have reserved to every means possible to make the affair a grand success.

Notable Speakers

Mr. John H. Daly of Atlanta, class president, will preside as toastmaster. Mr. Hanway Grasty of Mississippi, president of the yard, and Mr. James E. Russell, Jr., of Connecticut, editor of the Hoya, are expected to address the gathering, together with Coach John H. Mahoney and Captain Paul R. Florence, is of the varsity football ranks. Several other Seniors will be called upon by Mr. Daly, but the Cohonguroton staff especially will be prominent in view of the fact that the men of 1924 have at last made the long-hoped-for College annual a reality.

In addition Captains Marsters and Murphy are on the list of principal speakers.

Committeeman John A. Goodwin, also chief associate editor of the Cohonguroton, has been chosen to prepare an elaborate souvenir menu booklet. As Mr. Goodwin is famous not only for exceptional artistic abilities but also in his possession of a keen sense of humor, the souvenir promises to be an attracting element at the Senior "Get-together."

THE HOYA
CONCERNING A LETTER.

In the "letter-box" of this issue, printed on this page, there is a communication from one who is an Associate Editor of the Catholic weekly, America. Neither Father Treacy nor the magazine America need an introduction to the readers of the Hoy. The writer's cryptic criticism, however, is worthy of the attention of all Georgetown men.

Concerning the first part, about the Literary Society, we agree most heartily with the opinion of Father. When the society was organized last year the Hoy played a prominent part in that organization by giving to the new-born publication a fair field and a free hand. Since then we have taken every care that the doings of the "Litt." should be known to our readers. Encouraged by this and other expressions of approval, the society has grown and flourished to its present high position in the collegiate literary world.

America, is good reading, and as such finds a prominent place on the tables of the Riggs Library. The fact that Georgetown students have not, as yet this year, and we are glad to be able to state that the beginning of the school year is a time and season for "settling down” and making the first inroads into the pages of popular books. It is not a "fashion"; it is a serious and thoughtful way of life that he finds it necessary to take up outside reading to any great extent. However, now that the students have fairly well accustomed themselves to the rigors of school, class, study, and group work, we urge, together with Father Treacy, that they send to the office of America as large a subscription as was forwarded this time last year. For it is reported that such a type of young student who has an interest in the activities of the civic, ecclesiastical, and literary worlds is able to obtain a comprehensive unbiased resume of all these in its well-written pages.

DEFEATED?

We have seen our eleven beaten three times in succession. They bowed down at our very gates before the onslaughts of the Marine team, they were outgeneraled by the Tigers at Princeton, and they were outfought and outrushed by Georgia Tech. We have gone with eager expectation to American League Park only to have our hopes dashed to the ground. We journeyed to Princeton only to hear the victorious roar of the Tigers’ cubes. And we watched the score-board for the returns from Atlanta with eyes that were all too unwilling to read the news thereupon.

Yet, last Monday evening in Ryan refectory that team was cheered to the echo. We have heard no word of criticism—nothing but the hearty encouragement of a loyal student body. And we know, that in the five games that remain to be played, Georgetown men will root for that squad and send it on to the five fields with that same support.

Our pen is a poor one to eulogize such spirit, Georgetown men, but we venture to proclaim that spirit to the world, to place it down in black and white, and to tell the alumni of this University that their successors are most worthy ones. Finally, it will bear to every man of you, first, the praise that is yours before the man in molekins; secondly, our recognition of the most vital force in the institution today.

Coach O’Reilly displays good judgment in his handling of one who will be out on the same track meet. This sensible requirement eliminates all danger of overuse of the student and possible serious injury that those who ordinarily would not have prepared themselves, would risk.

Dr. G. B. Trible, connected with the Georgetown University Hospital in formidable difficulty at Emergency Hospital last week. He removed an open safety pin from the throat of a 16-month-old girl, and saved the child’s life.

FATHER EMMET.

The restoration of FATHER EMMET, but its influence still runs with us. That it was a success no one can deny. Filled with the breath of life and with the light of his priestly calling, the Reverend Father Emmet has performed one more service to our country.

The eloquence of his work, the evident sincerity in his voice, the novelty and charm which his personality have been the note-worthy features of the exercises of the past few days. For a few weeks the college has begun the year anew, with a firm faith in God and His Church and an ever-increasing desire to promote its interests.

Father Emmet knows Georgetown well and the Georgetowner of the past quarter of a century has profited by that love he bears her. For years he has taught in her academic halls and later filled the office of Prefect of Discipline. He has watched Georgetown grow, he has seen the class after class go out into the world with the blessing of their Alma Mater. And for the past several years he has kept in active touch with the college through his post at the Georgetown Preparatory School.

FATHER EMMET has passed and Father Emmet is no longer with us in the chapel. But the note which he still remains a part of Georgetown, whether here or elsewhere. We shall always claim him as one of ours; for that when he is again called upon to give the Blue and Gray his best, he will answer with all the pride and love of a man that marked his recent stay among us.

An Appreciation.

The Hoy extends the thanks of the student body of the College to the Choir of St. Paul's Church for the courtesy extended last Sunday at Mass of the Holy Ghost. The choir consists of: Arthur, Miss Alice Howard, Miss Anna Moyinhan, Miss Agnes L. Barnes, Miss Anna Neary, Edward P. Donavan; sopranos, Miss Margaret Aylmer, Mrs. C. L. Chase, Mrs. T. Frank Mee-

To THE EDITOR OF THE HOYA:

In last week’s Hoy I noticed that the Literary Society is a real student activity, sponsored, promoted, managed, by the Georgetown students. When the college student is coming into his own, this item deserves greater publicity. But there is a puzzle connected with this praiseworthy fact, for the student of Georgetown, so keen for literature, neg-lect good reading at the special student reading room of the hundreds of Holy Cross, and Fordham, and to the other Catholic college for men and wom-

Debating

Phalidemic Society.

On Tuesday evening, the time-honored Phalidemic Society gathered a large number of its members to debate with which the new season was begun. Care was taken in choosing the speakers to insure the success of the first debate. Mr. Frank Mahoney and Mr. Louis Slattery defended the World Court against the attacks of Mr. James Drumm and Mr. J. Gibbons Burke. This first debate was one that could bear description and justice in which the society is held at the college. The noteworthy feature was the ease and freedom with which forceful words and well rounded sentences were delivered. There was no direct clash over any difficult point. Less thought was given to personal rivalry and to scoring a point than to the development of an array of strong constructive arguments. The vote of the society awarded the decision to the negative and bestowed the honor as best speaker upon Mr. Burke. Last year Mr. Burke was awarded the Hamilton medal, which carries with it a recognition of supremacy in extemporaneous debating.

After the debate, Mr. Amedeo Giordano and Mr. Edward De Castro were admitted to membership. For the debate two weeks from that meeting, Mr. John Keating and Mr. G. L. Burke were put on the affirmative and Mr. F. C. Sullivan and Mr. J. E. Dalley on the negative.

Gaston.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Gaston Debating Society, held Wednesday evening, October 17, the society realized the advantages and value derived from extemporaneous speaking, decided to award, as a further incentive, a gold medal to the member chosen as the best extropeaker the greatest number of times throughout the year. The subject for debate for the next meeting, November 15th, was announced as follows: “Resolved, That a stable government and internal injuries."

Mr. James F. Rutledge and Mr. John A. Romweber, famous members of the Romweber-Rutledge firm, of the class of ’23, are both successfully launched towards a career in the business world. "Rut" is established very promisingly in the hardware trade; while "The Flying Dutchman" is connected with the American Furniture Company in Indiana.

Mr. Cyril C. Murphy, ’23, has secured the Ford agency at Blue Earth, Minnesota and reports are that he is doing “very well.”

Mr. Joseph C. McNamara, ’23, is residing in Williamsport, Pa., while connected with a coal concern.

Arthur B. Meah, manager of last year’s famous track team, is at present registered in the insurance business in Hartford.

Mr. John P. Cooney, ’23, has entered the business world also. The "May-Cooney Co." of Huntsville and Birmingham, Alabama, is the fortunate concern.

William H. Daly, ’23, former editor-in-chief of the HoyA, in addition to attending Harvard Law School, has been appointed by the School Board of Lawrence, Mass., as an instructor in English in the local high school.

Robert McCann, ’23, former president of the yard, is connected with a telephone company in West Virginia.

Carl Werts, ’23, the scintillating center of last year’s Variety, and "the man who beat Lafayette," was seriously injured in an automobile accident last week. While motoring up to Princeton to see the Notre Dame-Princeton game, the machine was struck by a fast train, and Carl suffered two broken shoulders and internal injuries.

Alumni Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mangan are the parents of a baby son, born September 15 at Pittston, Pa. Mr. Mangan is a former member of the class of 1923.

The arrival of a baby son was announced at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Crosby on October 4 at Great Neck, N. Y. Mr. Crosby, ’23, has announced his candidacy for New York state assemblyman on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Michael Donahoe, A. B., ’15, is a second year theologian at the North American College, Rome. Although far from his Alma Mater, he manages to keep in close touch with Georgetown and its activities.

Word has been received that Fr. Pamphaus, a graduate of the Athenaeum Manila and ex-’15, Georgetown, is taking a post graduate course in Rome.

NORTHERN LIGHTS Scintillate, but Cannot Down the Terrible Tigers of Healy—Hard-fought Game Marks Opening of Inter-Hall Season at Hilltop.

Amid the vociferous shouts of their peculiarly garbled, but ardent supporters under the guidance of James Burke, the Northern Lights danced two Tigers to a fiercely contested scoreless tie in the opening game of the inter-hall football series, before an unusually large crowd of Hilltoppers. For an opening game the contest was interesting, with brilliant ball-sawing across the field for the first quarter with neither team having the advantage. Healy kicked off to the Lights who scored in this half when the field, but were stopped before going far. Unsuccessful by the ground route, they essayed a pass which was intercepted by Reilly. The Tigers then made their attempts to gain a scoring position but were unsuccessful. Back and forth went the ball on exchanges of punts, but were gaining greatly on the other until the Lights by a series of line plays and passes placed the ball on Healy's 20-yard line. Nine yards more were made and the half ended with the ball in the Lights' possession on the Tiger's 11-yard line.

The Lights opened the second half by kicking off to the Tigers. Again Healy attempted to go forward which was intercepted by Russel on the Tigers' 30-yard line and the Lights were once more in a position to score, but failed. Healy punted to Egan on the 25-yard line, which was returned five. Egan was a consistent ground game artist and his sure tackle, running with the ball, and receiving, by the aerial route, marked him as a stellar performer. During the fourth period the Tigers received their only change when they managed to reach the Lights' 30-yard line, but were held for downs. McGowan attempted a pass which was intercepted by Snell, former Lynn classical captain, whose wrist has been troubling him, is in a much better condition now and will likely be Florence's running-mate Saturday.

SHEEHAN PLAYS WELL.

Big Fred Sheehan, ex-North Abington captain and St. John's fullback, is a dependable line veteran who has performed with consistent effectiveness. He is a matriculation on the Hilltop. Playing his first two years at tackle but was shifted to tackle this season. In his new position he has performed very creditably. He is one of the hundred-pound mark, but despite his size is an active performer.

Coaching Report in Gym.

The Army has beaten Dickinson College 10-0 at Navy a creditable battle; Washington College, who gave the Marines potent opposition; and Virginia Polytechnic Institute, one of the best fighting machines shown in this part of the country for many seasons. When Army rested, V. P. I. downed Maryland University 16-7, while the pre-season the college Park Tigers Brommers University of Pennsylvania 3 to 0, and looked like probable South Atlantic champions.

FRESHMEN DOWN MT. SAINT MARY'S

Coach Kenyon's Men Humble Maryland Team by a 6 to 0 Score—Well Contested Game.

The Georgetown University Freshmen defeated Mt. Saint Mary's Prep on Saturday last, in their first game of the season by a score of 6 to 0. McLain of the Frosh, carried the ball across the line for the visitors in the early part of the second period.

Frosh Score.

Bill Kenyon's yearlings showed up well in their plays. Donald Flavin, brother of Captain Charlie Flavin, performed well in the early part of the game. Finske, also outstanding last year, was placed on the line and had a field day. Jack Flavin, performed well in the early play, shifted to tackle this season. In his new position he has performed very creditably. He is one of the hundred-pound mark, but despite his size is an active performer.

Wood Point Captain in Line-up.

Lient. "Fritz" Breidster, well known to football fans as the "Toreador," is likely to face Georgetown as a lineman. Breidster is captain of the West Point aggregation this year, but owing to constantly recurring knee weakness, he has not had a very successful season. To date the Engineers star end has been giving himself with assisting Major Alexander Day in line-up coaching the line.

INTER-CLASS TRACK MEET NEXT THURSDAY

Plans for Fall Competition Complete—Numerous Events Scheduled—Cross Country Team Practices.

The annual inter-class track meet will be held next Thursday, November first, on Varsity Field. Always arousing the unanimous interest of cabin path enthusiasts, the meet this year gives promise of great benefit, as well as notable display of talent. At the inter-class meet held last fall, Coach O'Reilly discovered a number of promising athletes among those who participated, notably Flansky and Has, and it is quite probable that contenders for varsity honors will be uncovered in the coming meet. No one will be permitted to enter who has not had his entry passed upon by Coach O'Reilly. Entries may be handed in at Number Two Healy or Number Thirty-seven yan.

The list of events: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, one-mile run, two-mile run, hurdle run, hurdles, high jump, broad jump, long jump, put, javelin, pole vault, discus.

Cross-Country Team.

Plans are being formulated for a cross-country team at the University. A three-mile time trial is to be held next week in which Captain Marstmar displayed remarkable stamina and speed in a whirlwind finish. It is therefore likely that plans mature the Georgetown Cross-Country team will be entered in the South Atlantic competition. SOPHOMORES HOLD ANNUAL SMOKER

Second-Year Class Function One of the Best—Well Known Speakers Are Guests of Twenty-six — Committee Congratulated for Successful Endeavor.

The Sophomore Class of the College held its annual Smoker last Wednesday evening at the Madrillon with more than eighty members present. In the opinion of the guests who attended, it was one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever staged by a second-year organization.

At the outset of activity, Mr. John Powers, chairman of the committee, introduced Mr. Louis O'Leary, class president, as toastmaster for the evening. He in turn presented the following guests, who all gave very interesting and appreciative talks: Mr. James H. Grasty, president of the yard; Mr. George Masters, captain of track; Mr. James Russell, editor of the HOYA; Mr. George L. Burke, Senior Student Council representative, and Mr. John H. Daly, president of 1924.

Those largely responsible for the success of the Smoker were: Mr. John J. Powers, chairman, of New Jersey; Mr. William B. O'Mahoney, of New Jersey, and Mr. Joseph Wholey of Rhode Island.

4. For Weal or Woe, or I'm sorry that I have but one strife to give to my country.—Henry Volstead.
   The interesting autobiography of a man who sacrificed all to preserve the inalienable rights of his countrymen, especially those who died in France and Flanders.
5. Just Before the Battle, Brother, or a horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse.—Ben Irish.
   A gripping narrative in which the setting takes us across ocean wastes and acquaints us with a likeable hero.

Opponents Bid for Place on Schedule.

The management of the rifle team is arranging the schedule for the coming year. It is a question of selecting the best schedule from the number of challenges that are pouring in on last year’s intercollegiate champions. With Sergt. Donoughue, veteran rifle coach, and most of last year’s championship team back this year, the outlook for the coming season is exceedingly bright.
