COLORADO GRADUATES ORGANIZED.

FATHER NEVILS TENDERED BANQUET IN DENVER—ANNUAL GATHERING PLANNED.

An Alumni Association has been formed of Georgetown men residing in Colorado by Fr. Nevils, who, while visiting Denver, in the interests of the Greater Georgetown drive, organized the society. A banquet was given in his honor at which the officers of the association were elected. Dr. Arthur Hart was named president, George E. Braggs, vice-president, and Edward Hamlen, secretary. The other honor guests included, Rev. J. Henry Tiben, Bishop of Denver; Dr. Heber Harper, Chancellor of Denver University and Very Rev. R. M. Kelly, S. J., President of Regis College.

The meeting was an enjoyable one and it was decided to hold a banquet annually for the fostering of school spirit, and the furtherance of the mutual interests of the alumni.

RIFLE TEAM WINS ST. JOHN'S MEET

First Dual Match Won by Hilltoppers—Saffarrans and Russell Shoot Possible Scores.

The Rifle Team won its first contest by defeating St. John's in a dual match. The Georgetown team has settled down by defeating St. John's in a dual match. The Georgetown team has settled down by defeating St. John's in a dual match. The Georgetown team has settled down by defeating St. John's in a dual match. The team was clocked at 3:34 2-5. Rutger's runners ran over a twenty-yard advantage to Eastman and the latter runner added two yards. Murray held his ground.

Although greatly hampered by graduation of several veterans of last year's crew the book is bright. The team, as evidenced by graduation are Sheedy, Malley, Flavin, Sheridan and Florence. However, Coach O'Reilly has several stars as the nucleus of the team which will represent the Blue and Gray.

Firstly Murphy will again be seen in left field, while Mudd, the hard-hitting center fielder, will again take care of that territory. Uranil will again be seen at shortstop in all probability. From last year's subs and Freshmen team, Coach O'Reilly will have a wealth of material to draw upon. With a year's experience they should prove valuable to the "Silver Fox." The vacancy left by Paul Florence, who has signed a contract with the Giants, is a hard one to fill. How ever Jim Cunningham, Eddie Snell, Wigg King, Jack McGowan and Murray, giant Frosh backstop and Varsity tackle, may fill in on their respective spots in the "Big Blond Chicagoan." The infield positions left vacant by the graduation of veterans will no doubt be taken from the list of last year's Varsity and Freshmen squad. O'Reilly, Mike Donnell and Don McNeely, who did splendidly last year, will probably be the lead men. The team has several prospects in the Freshmen in addition to the other good stuff.

LAW SCHOOL TO HOLD DEBATE

Third Contest to Be Held February Fifteenth—Question Decided Upon—Speakers Chosen.

The question of debate has been decided upon after several subjects have been considered, the question being: "Resolved, that the United States enter the world court as proposed by the late President Harding." The question is one of great importance at the present time and because of the fact that many strong arguments can be advanced by both sides, the debate should prove to be a most interesting one.

The following gentlemen have been selected to represent their societies: The Junior Society: First speaker, Mr. Joseph Donahue of Massachusetts; second speaker, Mr. William McGuire of Washington, D. C. The Senior Society: First speaker, Mr. Don ald Burke of Rhode Island; second speaker, Mr. John T. Hicks of Virginia.

G. U. TRACK TEAM SCORES TWICE

Georgetown added new track laurels to a season already auspiciously begun when last Saturday night at Brooklyn, N. Y., and before the red-clad crowd, the Georgetown team, under the able coaching of James K. Cunningham, added three events to the list of events which the Blue and Gray have already won.

NEW ASSOCIATION AT LAW SCHOOL

First Steps Taken to Bring About Closer Cooperation Among Students—Morning and Evening Classes to Unite in Activities. Revival of Georgetown Union Foreseen.

Closeness of cooperation in student activities at the Law School is being brought about under a newly organized association of class presidents directly responsible to the heads of the institution.

The initial step of the Law School to bring about more coordination in student affairs is to be followed by similar organizations in the other departments of the university and has the support of the Reverend John R. Creeden, S. J., President of Georgetown University.

With each department represented by an association of class presidents, the most natural movement to follow would be a revival of the Georgetown Union, the suspension of which has been a long contributing factor to the widening of the gulf between the professional schools and the college, in the opinion of some of the Georgetown faculty.

Law School Association. The Law School Association, which will have general supervision over all class matters, consists of the following presidents: Donald F. O'Regan, first-year class; John J. Linn, second-year class; Theodore King, first-year evening class; and Austin F. Canfield, third-year class; Walter Shea, second-year evening class; and Edward Swiggott, third-year class. The Law School Association has been formed for the purpose of bringing closer the co-operation of the students of the Law School with the college and the professional departments.
GEORGETOWN QUINTET LOSES TO NAVY

First Defeat of Season Administered by Annapolis Midshipmen—Accurate Passing and Shooting, Together With Excellent Team Play, Prove Too Much for Blue and Gray Tossers in Fast Game.

The Georgetown University quintet traveled to Annapolis last Saturday and suffered defeat at the hands of the Naval Academy five by a score of 44 to 13. It was the third straight defeat for Blue and Gray five encountered this season. A junger seemed to have jumped on the leather sphere and held it in position for the visiting lads during the entire struggle. The many breaks of the game fell to the Navy lads, who took every advantage of their stride and tossed the ball for counter after counter.

The contest spoke well for the midshipmen, especially during the last stages of the game, when they performed some excellent passing of the ball and the whipping of the cords for a toll of points. The performance of George Carney deserves some merit, as it showed his every endeavor to lead on his team and bring victory to the Hilltop lads.

Probably the big factor in deciding the issue lay in the fact of O'Keefe's being taken out of the play after he had a head-on encounter with McKee, the Academy captain. The Blue and Gray center tried to carry on the game, but the strain soon told and Farley was sent to the sidelines.

Blue and Gray Starts Well.

The starting whistle found the Hilltop lads in a last stride. For the first seven or eight minutes of play the Navy passing did not materialize and many throws went into the hands of Georgetown players or out of bounds. The Blue and Gray lads had many tries, but it took some time before they accustomed themselves to the Academy's floor and get their shooting eyes on the corded hoops. As the contest waged on the Sailors became more accurate in their passing and shooting. When the halting period for the first half was called it showed the home team leading by a count of 18 to 5.

As the contest went on the Navy men switched on the passing and shooting. When half way around Burgess stumbled and fell. It cost the team a loss of 25 yards. Gaffey made up 5 yards and Herlihy, anchor man put forth a superhuman effort but the lead was too much, and Holy Cross breezed in the winner by five yards.

Line-up and Summary.

ASSOCIATION AT LAW SCHOOL

Daniel F. McKenna, Second-year morning class, and Edward J. Hunt, third-year morning class.

Difficult Work to Accomplish.

The association has the big objective of keeping its team ahead by virtue of the rapid increase in the numbers attending the morning school, which will graduate its first class in June, while the morning registration, as compared with that of the evening registration, constitutes a decided minority, the fact remains that the morning section is just as potent a factor of the Law School as the evening section. One of the first problems before the association is to devise a means of bringing about a closer co-operative movement between the two sections.

At its last meeting the association took up the question of encouraging greater attendance at the prize debates between the Senior and Junior debating societies. Recommendations were made to the faculty that hereafter the audience should be granted the privilege of selecting the winning side in debates, leaving the selection of the best individual debater to the decision of judges appointed for that purpose.

G. U. TRACK TEAM SCORES TWICE

Crimson Defeated

Gegan, Holden, Brooks and Marsters showed Harvard just how superior Georgetown was when they defeated the Crimson by almost a half a lap in a special 3-mile relay held at the K. of C.gamma.

Georgetown had two legs on the Cardinal O'Connell trophy cup and had she captured the 3-mile relay event last Saturday night, the prize would be now resting in the Hirst Library.

Accident Loses Race.

When the assistant called the teams, Georgetown lined up with Harvard College and Holy Cross. Hiss led off for G. U., and handed over a lead to Burgess. Here an accident occurred the result of which Georgetown lost the race. When half way around Burgess stumbled and fell. It cost the team a loss of 25 yards. Gaffey made up 5 yards and Herlihy, anchor man put forth a super-human effort but the lead was too much, and Holy Cross breezed in the winner by five yards.

"The perfect cream in the perfect container"

(This is the way one user describes Williams and the new Hinge-Cap)

Men buy Williams expecting to find their main satisfaction in the Hinge-Cap. But when they first use the cream they get an equally pleasant surprise. The heavier lather, the greater thoroughness with which it softens the beard, make a hit at once. Then, Williams lather lubricates the hairs off. And last, there's that delightful after-care of the skin. Truly, you'll find that with the Hinge-Cap Williams is "miles ahead." It's a pure cream without coloring matter of any kind.

$250 in prizes

For the best content of two-words or less on the subject of the Williams Hinge-Cap, we offer the following prizes: 1st prize $100; 2nd prize $50; two 3rd prizes, $25 each; any undergraduate or graduate student is eligible. If two or more persons submit identical slogans deemed worthy of prizes, the full amount of the prize will be divided among them. Contest closes at midnight March 14, 1924. Winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Submit any number of slogans but write on one side of paper only, putting name, address, college and class at top of each sheet. Address letters to Content Editor, The J. S. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Conn.

present state of affairs, which may be summed up as a wilful, deliberate and open violation of the Constitution of the United States by a large part of the citizens of the nation.

The education by the prohibitionists of the majority, to the advantages of voting for a strictly dry country was well under way. The measures which were so far adopted were successful in that they educated and that schooling did not go far enough. Until that majority is taught that viola-tions of the law are not only not to be countenanced, but must be punished. Whether the prohibition, prohibition will be more than an evil as a good.

At least nine-tenths of the people of the country must believe in, work for and act-ually uphold the eighteenth amendment before the law can have the desired effect. Even then this majority will have some, 11,000,000 to gradually convert and educate to the viewpoint of the many.

The work might well begin in our schools, colleges and universities. Youth is ever adaptable, and if the America of tomorrow is to be saved from the conditions of today, the women and men of the country must perceive fully the magnitude of that which will soon rest upon their shoulders in this regard. They must ap-preciate the law, its full intent, and its advantage to them. They should be made familiar with the resolve to uphold that law with all the power their citizenship and position in life will warrant.

Too great a number of the modern college students are inclined to revolt against the Volstead act. True enough, it is somewhat natural for youth to strain against the restraint of law and law. But it would be false to lay the violation of the prohibition law by so many college students at the door of revolt. Rather, there is a halo of the advantage book only in the world of the young mind around the “party” in which the forbidden waters flow. It seems a great sport to go through the devious arrangements should be made to secure the flowed. The restrictions placed by federal, state, city and institutional authorities do little to curb the traffic. Despite the punishments meted out by all these for such infringements of the law, the average without, the violations go on and will go on. We have only to mention the long-forever from sources of habit and the dangers of these of the new generation.

I, for my part, am not so much interested in the practice of drinking among college students depends upon a steady and gradual education, upon the good that rests upon the more learned of the people of the country to uphold the law of the nation, more than the resultant evils of a deep friendship for the late John Barleycorn.

Neither coach nor executive officer, nor members of the rifle team, are en-rolled in the well-known “Alum Club.” One, however, in the intercollegiate match held in New York last Saturday, finished eighth in a list of eighteen. While the conditions were not as favor-able for us as for the older colleges, the fow\nes were under the same handicaps. Coaches and members are satisfied that all did theirbest to uphold the nation at the head of the list. Much practice is the order preparatory for the long grind which lies ahead. Old Smokey of Georgetown will be one of the chief con-tenders.

Brown University has adopted the system of allowing unlimited cuts from classes to those whose scholastic standing is high.

President A. L. Lowell of Harvard University in his annual report to the board of overseers suggested that at least temporarily the number of students in the college be limited. He said "We have been brought, for the present, to a position, where either the service we can render to our students must be reduced or their number for a time must be limited; and between these alternatives we can hardly hesitate."

Abe: "I can't swim. Throw papa your watch, and I'll pray for you."—Exchange.

The president of the University of North Carolina, in a recent address, stated that more than one-half of the students of that university are dependent upon themselves in whole or in part in order to get through school.

He also said that most students were choosing different occupations from those of their fathers. Ninety-five per cent of the 750 freshmen indicated that they intended to take up different occupations from those of their father's.

FATIMA
November first will find Captain Sheehan's warriors on a foreign field. They will be traveling down to South America to combat the strong Furman team. This aggregation almost annually produces one of the most notable crises in the South Atlantic section. Prior to meeting Georgetown, they will defeat Newberry College, Delaware University, Mercer, Georgia University, Davidson College, and South Carolina College.

One of the biggest and most spectacular games on the new schedule is that with the University of Pittsburgh. This will be played at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. The Quaker City boys are famous enough to warrant major consideration. The Quaker City will be written off the score that Cornell was held to last fall. It is probable that this section will again be available which means the northern mentor will lose little time in whipping his combination quickly into shape for the contest with the Washingtonians.

As a mid-season contest this should prove to be of great Eastern popularity. Last fall when Maryland squared out a 3 to 0 win over these Quakers, there was no lesser crowd of over 20,000,000 in attendance. The Parisian will give the Quaker fans the idea of the Love Quaker fans and what the gridiron game and especially between the Quaker City and South Atlantic elements of good standing.

The Third Corps Army game, though played away from home, will be a meeting until last year. The charges of Coach Major Sülles, U. S. A., took the long end of the count, but, only at the expense of a bitter struggle. This game and that with the Owls are of unusual interest for it gives followers of both teams an excellent opportunity to compare them for their big contest that follows.

Trip to New Orleans.

Georgetown's last two scheduling games will be played away from home, the initial one being with Loyola in New Orleans. In view of the annual rival, Fordham, in the Yankee Stadium, at New York City. Both are Jesuit institutions. In view of the fact that William "Bill" K. Flynn, of Taunton, Mass., ex-Holy Cross backfield ace in 19 and 20, is directing Loyola, there will be more than likely be a strong semblance of last year's game, played by his men and those instructed by coach Cleo O'Donnell at the Worces-ter track and field meet last year. The charges of the Owls are expected to be of great Eastern popularity and will be a repetition of last week's affair, but the affair. A win at the B. A. A. games would put the Hoyas in a 600 yard special.'

Net, got past 806 to 8 last year and 86 to 8 this year. It is estimated that it will lose little time in whipping its combination quickly into shape for the contest with the Washingtonians.

Eugene Gallery, who was one of the judges of the Prize Debate, was so impressed by the discussion and ability of the debaters that he has requested the Philonomosian Society to debate the same subject before the Knights of Columbus. It is understood that this will be the first of a number of public discussions by the Philonomosian Society.
