FOREIGN SERVICE FRAT HAS DANCE

Delta Phi Epsilon Holds Spring Semester Dance—Members of the F. S. Faculty Present.

Delta Phi Epsilon, the oldest Foreign Service Fraternity, held its first dance of the spring semester at its new chapter house at 1606 Twentieth street, N. W., last Saturday evening, January 21st. The affair, which was given in honor of the Faculty of the Foreign Service School and the members of the other two fraternities in the school, was attended by the over one hundred couples who were comfortably accommodated in the spacious new home of the fraternity.

In addition to a large number of guests from the F. S. Delhi, and Kappa Alpha fraternities the following members of the Faculty were present: Dr. William F. Noble, of the School of Foreign Service, Hon. William Gulliver, Counselor of the American Embassy in Southard, Dr. William P. Cresson, Dr. Richard S. Harvey, and Dr. Arnold Spanbooth.

The chapter house was attractively decorated in black and gold, the fraternity colors and in blue and gray, the Georgetown colors. The music was furnished by the Carolinians and the refreshments were served by Rauscher.

JUNIOR DEBATING SOCIETY MEETS

Moderator Appeals for Active Interest—Urges All to Read the Newly-Printed Constitution—Dan O'Donoghue Chosen Vice-President.

On Thursday evening, February 5, Gaston Debating Society held its first meeting of the second semester in the Philodemic Room. The meeting was held for the purpose of electing the officers for the second half of the school year. The men chosen to guide the good ship "Gaston" into the port of success, which means victory over White in the annual inter-society debates, and former members of the school colors, are: Christopher Clark, President; Daniel O'Donoghue, '27, President; William Dempsey, '27, Vice-President; Martin Harding, '27, Secretary; and every one has plenty of free time, to know and understand the principles upon which the society is founded and exists.

TICKETS ON SALE.

Tickets for the annual George-town A. A. indoor games, which are to be held Saturday, February 21, in Convention Hall, were placed on sale yesterday. These tickets may be procured at Spaldings. Local track enthusiasts are urged to make application for seats early, due to the fact that the features carded are certain to draw a full house.

STUDENT MEETING AT AUDITORIUM

Mr. Samuel Cross Introduced to the Student Body—Fr. Lyons Urges Loyalty.

As has been the custom of the Foreign Service School to hold a general assembly at the opening of each semester, a general assembly for the spring semester of this year was held at the Auditorium of the School last Friday evening, Feb- ruary 6, at 8:30 p. m. Rev. Charles V. Lyons, S. J., President of the University, addressed the student body. Other notable speakers were Mr. Samuel Cross and the distinguished professor of Interna- tional Law, James B. Scott. Rev. Ed- mund Walsh, S. J., Regent of the school conducted the ceremony.

Fr. Walsh introduced to the student body Mr. Cross, a new addition to the Faculty, who was the place vacated by Professor Allan Goldsmith. An ap- preciation of warm welcome was admin- istered by a long applause from the stu- dent body. Mr. Cross was formerly Commercial Attaché at Brussels, Bel- gium, and his long stay and experience in Europe is authority enough to suggest to every one of the student body the use of "open mind" in dealing with other people.

F. S. PROFESSOR ACCEPTS POSITION

Col. Goldsmith Resigns From F. S. Faculty—Accepts Important Assignment in Europe.

The officials of the school of Foreign Service announce with great regret that Col. Alan G. Goldsmith, who for several years past has given so ably the courses on "Europe as an Export Field" and "European Seminar" in the School of Foreign Service of Georgetown University, has resigned from his position as Chief of the European Division of the U. S. Department of Commerce and is leaving Washington to take up an important position, at a large salary, in Europe, representing one of the largest American paper manufacturers. Col. Goldsmith is leaving immediately for an extensive tour in practically all the prin- cipal countries of Europe, making an in- vestigation of the export possibilities for the paper concern which he will repre- sent. For several years past, Col. Gold- smith has had charge of the European Division of the Bureau of Foreign and

DINNER IN HONOR OF TWO JESUITS

A testimonial banquet commemorating the last vows in religion of the Rev. George E. Hanlon, S. J., Chaplain of the College, and the Rev. Louis J. Gal- lagher, S. J., Dean of the College, was given in the Ryan Dining Room, George- town Col. D. O'Donoghue, on Sunday evening at 6:30. Father Hanlon and Father Gallagher were the honored guests and were given a big ovation when they entered the hall. Bet-ween the courses of a tasty menu, Mr. Gerald Murphy, President of the Yard, introduced the Fathers and led cheers for them individually.

Father Gallagher when called upon responded with a short talk on "College Spirit.

HOSPITAL SHOW ATTRAITS CROWD

Charity Performance of Rose Marie, Sponsored by Georgetown Hospital Board, a Social and Financial Success.

On Monday evening, February 9, a benefit performance of the Musical Comedy, "Rose Marie," was given in the heart of the Washington theatre-goers on its initial presentation in this city. The hospital's performance proved to be a huge success both from a financial and an entertainment standpoint. All the available seats at Pol's for the benefit performance were sold in advance, thus assuring a large financial return which will be used for the establishment and maintenance of a free ward in the University Hospital.

DOOMESDAY BOOKE NEARLY COMPLETE

Most Important Details of Year-Book Completion Published in 1925 Edition—Mr. Robert McLellan is Editor-in-Chief.

With the most important details of the volume completed, the staff of the Domestoy Book are now at work on the smaller but necessary departments of the publication. One department in which there is quite a large opening for more material is the humorous stories and satire section. Now that some of the boys have passed all the exams, or at least all the boys have passed some of the exams (at any rate, they're all over), and every one has plenty of free time, the editorial staff hopes that these circumstances and all the rest of the factors of some appropriately adopted satires and hu- morous stories. There is a large and practically unrestricted field in this line and that there is surely no lack of talent at this style of writing has been clearly evidenced in the past. The staff at the Hilltop is desirous of obtaining the co-operation of all, because, inasmuch as the College Department is the seat of the University, it is up to the Hilltoppers to make a particularly brilliant showing in their section.

INTERNATIONALIST OF NOTE RETURNS FROM S.A.

Was Head of U. S. Delegation—Received Doctor of Laws From San Marcos University.

Dr. James Brown Scott, the distinguished American lawyer and professor, returned from Lima, Peru, where he represented the U. S. Government at the Pan-American Scientific Congress. At the same time, Dr. Scott, as the President of the American Institute of International Law, presided for the informal meetings of the Institute that were held in Lima in connection with the Congress. Dr. Scott is the head of the U. S. delegation that is co-operating with the delegation from each of the other twenty American republics to prepare a code of international law for the use of the twenty-one American republics. While in Peru, Dr. Scott was showered with many honors, among other things, the President of Peru honored him by making him an official guest of the Peruvian nation during his stay there.

One of the unusual honors that Dr. Scott brought back with him was the Honorary Doctor of Laws of the Faculty of Political and Economic Science of the University of San Marcos. This is the oldest university in the Western Hemisphere, having been founded in 1551 by Charles V. It is interesting to note that Dr. Scott's Bachelor's degree was obtained from Harvard, the oldest university in the United States. He studied subsequently in Berlin, Heidelberg, Paris, and other places. He has the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence from the University of Heidelberg. Dr. Scott, who is well known to Washingtonians and internationalists throughout the world, has had a very active and varied career. He is probably the foremost international lawyer in America at present. He is chairman of the Committee on International Law of the American Bar Association; Secretary of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace; Vice-President of the L'Institut de Droit International; Vice-President of the American Society of International Law; Lawyer of the Academy of International Law at The Hague, etc. He has represented the United States at The Hague Conference, various Pan-American conferences, the Paris Peace Conference, the Washington limitation of arms conference. He has been solicitor of the Department of State; Chairman of the Joint Neutrality Board during the World War, and various other positions of distinction in connection with the foreign relations of the United States.

The graduates of the School of Foreign Service are assuming rapidly positions of importance after their graduation. The latest one is Mr. Chas. B. Scully, who graduated from the School last June, and who has just been appointed to the responsible position of Assistant Naval Engineer of the Hydrographic Office, U. S. Navy Department, at a very good salary.

Mr. Scully, who specialized in the shipping course while in the School of Foreign Service, wrote the School a letter in which he states that his education and shipping course, helped him greatly in preparing to take this responsible position.

Club Stories Written Up.

An innovation and one of the many improvements in the Hilltop section of the book will be the detailed stories of the activities of all the societies and clubs in the College Department, such as the Debating Societies, the Chemical Society, the Pathfinders' Club and the Literary Societies. Social activities will also be given much more recognition in this year's edition. Devotees of sport will find much of extreme interest in the new work, due attention being given to our excellent track team. Those who have been national champions on the Hilltop at present and it will be found that there is a dearth of words to do full justice to the illustrious achievements of these wing-footed lads. But it is hoped that the laudatory phrases in praise of these men, together with photos, will serve in the future to recall pleasant remembrances of Hilltop days. Intra-Mural athletics, which flourish at Georgetown as in no other eastern college or university, will also be handled, and it is not at all unlikely that pictures of the respective teams in their natty attire will be printed in the volume.

Work of Art.

Joseph Rouse, '24, captain of the rifle team, has been storing some bullets lately, with a grapelock camera, busying himself about the campus so that no one and nothing is safe from his deadly lens. "Joe" is doing great work toward insuring the safety of the publication from an artistic viewpoint. The editor-in-chief of the Domesday Book, Mr. Robert McLellan of the Law School, has had considerable experience in art work and also has been connected with a local newspaper. With Mr. McLellan working along with the other capable artists and cartoonists who are contributing their labors to the volume, a Domesday that can not fail to more than hold its own beside any year book in the country is certain to be produced.

A novel guy is Jerry Black, he borked Five and paid it back.

DINNER IN HONOR OF TWO JESUITS

Spirit. He told of the right and wrong concept of school spirit and urged that the students of Georgetown consider their duty to their Alma Mater. His speech was filled with wit and humor, but wholesome and serious withal. He kept his bearers in an uproar with his ready wit, and made a strong appeal when he announced that he and Father Hanlon had decided that a free day alone would properly commemorate the occasion. To the pleasure and surprise of all the residents of the dormitory and of all suspended students, he went further and added upon the Prefect of Discipline to erase all demerits from the books. Father McDonough answered in characteristic fashion, declaring that "if there was anything that Father Gallagher has not given away," he would give it up himself. He accordingly informed the students that all the demerits would be forgotten and the week would begin with a clean record book.

Father Hanlon was introduced but had delegated Father Gallagher to voice his sentiments on the occasion. At this point, a special guest, "Sammy" Mandell, unofficial light-weight champion of the United States, was introduced by Mr. Murphy. He expressed his pleasure at being able to attend a Georgetown function, saying that he was "glad to be here and be one of the bunch." At the conclusion of the banquet, the Blue and Gray Alma Mater was sung by all present, as is the custom at all College celebrations.

Father Gallagher came to the Hilltop last September to assume the duties of Dean. Before that time he had been a member of the Papal Relief Mission in Russia, and had later spent some time in Ireland. Father Hanlon is Moderator of the Sodality and Professor of French and Apologetics at the College. The student banquet marked the end of a series of events held in honor of the two Jesuits. Previously to last Sunday's affair, a faculty banquet and reception, as well as a student reception had been tendered the priests.

Dr. James Brown Scott has just returned to Washington from New York, where he was the principal speaker at the banquet of the Pan American Society given in commemoration of the famous Peruvian victory of Ayacucho. His address on that occasion contained a keen and sympathetic presentation of the most desirable type of Pan-Americanism, based on real understanding and sympathy with the conditions and aspirations of our neighboring Republics.

CARDINAL'S CUP WON BY HILLTOP QUARTET

The past week has been one of repeated success for the Georgetown track athletes. The biggest event of the week was the competition for the Cardinal O'Connell Trophy at the annual indoor games of the Boston Knights of Columbus held last Saturday in the Bay State city. The cup, which becomes the permanent possession of the team winning the 1,500 yard relay three times, was brought back to Washington by the Blue and Gray quartet.

The team composed of Captain Kimny, Paul Herlihy, James Burgers, and Vernon Asher took the lead from the start and was never headed. Holy Cross and Boston College finished in the order named. The flying Blue and Gray quartet covered the distance in the very fast time of three minutes, six and one-fifth seconds. This was the first major race of the year and the Georgetown runners did not fail to fulfill the hopes and expectations of their followers. They deserve much credit for the performance which only goes to further impress upon the minds of the sporting public that the Georgetown athletes are to be reckoned with in all future college athletic competition.

Earlier in the week Vernon Asher won the special invitation 500 meter race at the Western Union A.A. meet held in New York. His team-mate, Jimmy Burgers, beat out the rest of the field to finish second. The winner's time was one minute and one-fifth second.

Saturday night at the Wilco A.A. indoor games at New York, George Masters was beaten by a few yards by Al Hellfrich, the Penn State star, in the 600 yard race. The Blue and Gray star came up from fourth place on the last lap and just missed passing the flying Hellfrich.

Oxford and Cambridge Universities have accepted a joint invitation from Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Cornell to take part in two track meets in the United States next summer.

It's tough, by gosh.
To be a Frosh.
They chase me round,
Just like a bound,
I'd rather be stone dead.
They test my mind
To try and find
Some fault, and then they grin.
They think it jest,
To try and find
They're doing their best,
It's much worse to get out. —The Hotbed.

CATHOLIC PRESS MONTH.

The month of February for the past two years has been designated by the Catholic Press Association as Press Month in the United States and Canada. The purpose of such dedication has been to engage for the Catholic press the enthusiastic and generous support of all Catholics, inducing this support by creating an intelligent interest in the Press itself.

The common obligation of the Catholic body upon this point is quite clear. We must support our Catholic Press. It is absolutely essential to the existence of the Church in this country today that it possess and successfully operate an intelligent, vigorous, well-informed press, which, like the Church's service, feeding diocesan organs of equal merit, as that the Church must control its own system of parochial instruction. The goal in either case is identical, and under the present condition of so many infallibly ignorant popes in American journalism, one means is as necessary as the other.

Such considerations have been often stressed, not to be forgotten, we hope, or ignored. What is much less known and hardly of less importance in awakening our support for a wider and a better Catholic Press is to have some general notion of what has already been accomplished. As in everything else, we must go back to a point before the war in order to have a great press. And that point is the experience of a much misunderstood thesis, "A Free Press in a Free State." As a re-interpretation of a sailing vessel and his wife had been stabbed to death. Circumstantial evidence had seen him here and another there but he did present an alibi. One person relates the following tale:

Value of Time.

And what's pathetic is, that Dentists should know better, and usually do. We believe there's more purpose and less illusion about Dentists and Dentistry than any other course in the University. Sometimes, we fear, the same is gradually becoming true of Medicine. But for growing their own minds and the goal to which they are trying to lead the class. And it's an excellent quality in a work-a-day world and will do as much as anything else to change the picture to a rest-a-month world.

Won't it be great to sail away? Oh, yes, yes, yes! But it's sixteen times as good to stay, Nevertheless!

Letter Box

Editor of the Hoya: I think you will be interested in the enclosed announcement. We are printing an article in The Open Road which accuses the younger generation of five "Fs"—Ignorance, Immorality, Indifference, Irrreligion, and Irresponsibility—and are asking young people in college and school and out in business to defend themselves against these serious charges. As far as I know, this is the first time youth has been given a national opportunity to come back at its accusers. Up to the present time, as some one in our office remarked, youth has been more chinned against than chinning.

As you probably know, The Open Road is published by a group of young college graduates and that explains our interest in having the youth of the country give some serious thought to the question whether it is going to be able to meet these responsibilities now being thrust upon it.

If you can spare a few moments I shall greatly appreciate a few words from you in regard to the New Generation and the importance of the present discussion. Will you also call the attention of your English Department and of your Debutante Society to this Open Road undertaking?

Sincerely yours,

CLARENCE B. ENSTY, Editor The Open Road.

WHITELIGHT ELECTS OFFICERS

office, and Mr. William K. McGowan was chosen without opposition.

President Brady, following the elections, expressed his appreciation of the confidence shown in the present leaders and said that they all realized the greater responsibility that comes with official duties in the second semester. Recalling the splendid victories annexed by the White Sox to the class of '28 and '24, Mr. Brady emphasized the necessity of perseverance and co-operation if the society is to repeat its former success.

Mr. Dennis Comey, S. J., the Chancellor, offered a word of encouragement at this point. He, too, brought out the advisability of working together for the advantage of the club in the approaching contest with their rival society, the Gaston organization. He announced that prior to the debate, selection of the team that will represent White will be made by three judges. The try-outs will be open to all members.

The business accumulated during the long period of suspension of activities was then taken up and disposed of by the meeting.

The first half of the year has been marked by well conducted and close debates, on subjects calculated to bring out the best of the participants' oratorical abilities. From the start, the Gaston-White debate, the year's climax, has been held before the members and they have not lost sight of its significance. It is the opinion of the members that a win for White would give a well-grounded claim of permanent superiority since the decision has come to the younger society for two years in succession already. Although every member of last year's triumphant team was a Sophomore and was consequently lost to the society in last June, considerable talent is reported to be available among the Freshmen and several gifted orators are included in the number of present Sophomores who wear White keys. The try-outs for team places are held, there is sure to be much competition and a strong team will be found from the test. Every man is taking a lively interest in the society's welfare and the tendency is to produce a formidable team for the big meeting and go far toward another triumph for the glory of White.

Washington and Lee University recently opened their new chemistry laboratory. It is splendidly equipped in every respect.

FELIX has decided to go to Europe

Feliz, the well-known catawampus of the screen, wrote to us the other day and said he wanted to work his way to Europe. The star catcherback of the Catown eleven charged his "mid-terms" harder than he ever hit an opposing feline out, and received a pink unconditional release, good until September, 1925.

Feliz explained in his letter that he was in the pink of condition and was willing to stoke, peel potatoes, or catch rats bare-handed. We wrote Felix that Cunard ships were all oil-driven and needed no stokers, and as for rats on a Cunard ship, they just didn't exist. We also asked Felix if he had heard of our new College Cabin service for Congenial Cats—Clean and Comfy. Evidently he hadn't, for he's just telegraphed us to "send him the dope." We wired back—

BLUE AND GRAY ATHLETES TO HAVE BUSY WEEK END ON TRACK AND COURT

Seven Men Entered in the New York A. C. Meet—Marsters and Burgess in the Knights of St. Anthony Games—Fordham and Harvard Track Teams Will Visit Ryan Gymnasium—Rifle Team to Meet Pittsburgh.

By Laurence E. Sullivan, ’28.

The Georgetown athletic teams will swing into active competition again this week-end in another attempt to add to the Blue and Gray trophy case. Their success last week, especially on the outdoor track boards, gives promise that this event will be brought back to the Hilltop to continue.

The track men will center their interest in New York City Saturday night and in Brooklyn next Wednesday evening. The record-breaking relay quartets will be in attendance and will be given a championship wares.

The basketball players are slated to spend one of the busiest week-ends of their careers when they play host to two of the strongest teams on their schedule of games. To make the going more interesting, the games come on successive nights at the Ryan Gymnasium. The championship event of interest on the court will be the encounter with the strong Fordham University five on Friday night. The Maroon is always represented by a powerful court team, but the combination which will display its wares at the Hilltop tomorrow is considered one of the best that ever carried the colors of the New York colleges. The rifle team, at present engaged in two telegraphic contests, will take another whirl over the telegraphic wires. From indications the wires will be "burning up" while the expected close scores are transmitted during the coming week.

New York A. C. Games.

The annual New York Athletic Club indoor track meet will be held Saturday night in New York and will be graced by the presence of numerous Georgetown track representatives, among them one of the most popular in the Empire City and never fails to attract a large gathering of spectators to witness the quick and speedy assemblage of track stars. To this management committee will send seven members of the track team, who are counted on to bring home a goodly number of trophies.

Heading the list is the entry of Jimmy Burgess and "Birmingham". The颜色, a co-color, and "Winged Foot" indoor gathering and is an invitation affair to which only the best men at the distance are invited to compete. The national-quarter-mile champion will match his strides with some of the fastest expers of the long dash and, judging from the manner in which he has progressed since last season, will have the honor of finishing the half-mile before the rest of the field. Leading the Hilltop flyer will be Allan Hellfrich, the Pennsylvania State star who defeated both Ascher and Burgess in the opening race

Swinburne will carry the Blue and Gray colors in the various indoor meets this season. Kay Watson, the Illinois A. C. crack will also be "burning up" over the Hilltop tomorrow and will be "burning up" over the Hilltop tomorrow and will be expected opponents of the three Hilltoppers

Having recovered from the injury sustained at the junior national indoor championship games early in the season, Emerson Norton will be ready to take on the Georgetown colors in three events. RYAN BREAKS TRIPLE TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

Ryan Defeats Maguire 12-6 in Tight Game—Both Teams Unable to Score in First Quarter.

On Wednesday morning, January the fourth, Ryan Quoquabuck was the scene of a spirited battle of basketball. The contestants were the representatives of Maguire and Ryan Halls. Both teams sported their newly acquired uniforms and were well groomed at all times. A desperate two-round closing rally earned Sammy Mandell, Rockford (Ill.) lightweight, a victory over Sid Terris, the clever, speedy little east sider, in their twelve-round bout Friday night in the Madison Square Garden before a crowd of 12,821 light fans, who paid $60,766 for the privilege of seeing these two contenders in action for the honor of unofficially succeeding to Benny Leonard's crown.

The writer herewith presents a few points of interest regarding Georgetown's connection with the Cardinal O'Connell trophy which Hilltop runners recently captured for permanent possession. In 1922, the inaugural year of competition, the G. U. squad ran in this order: LeGendre, Brewer, Marsters and Kinnally; in 1923, Plankis, Kinnally, Gezan and Herlihy; last year, Gaffey, Burgess, Haas and Herlihy; Holy Cross winning over Georgetown; and in 1925, Captain George Kinnally, James Burgess, Paul Herlihy, and Vernon Ascher. The last quartet's time was 3:06. Each man ran 350 yards, making a total of 1,550 for the distance each year.

The following excerpt was taken from H. C. Byrd's column in the Washington Star of a recent issue: "One of the stars of the country, in talking to the writer not long ago, made the statement that Burgess, now running for Georgetown, is one of the best middle-distance runners in the country and would be heard from before the end of the season. 'It is my opinion,' said this man, 'that Burgess is brilliant and has it in him to clean up. You watch him go and recall before the end of the season how near right I am.' By way of comment we would say that it hardly seems necessary to put any of the others in the country down for the season for Burgess has already 'come through.'"

An indication of the superiority of Georgetown's one-mile team over other outfits in the country can be obtained from a glance at the standings of the Boston A. A. Meet. Seven one-mile relay events were on the program, the winners being: Bates, Worcester Poly, Muhlenberg, Maine, Dartmouth, Newark A. C., and Georgetown. Among the losers were Amherst, Lafayette, Brown, and the Millrose A. A. Georgetown's time was 3:37 2/5, their second slowest of the year, while Dartmouth turned in the fastest time of the other quartets, 3:33 3/5.

Jimmy Conolly, former Georgetown track captain, is keeping himself very much in the lime-light during this present indoor campaign. He has repeatedly turned in some startling performances and his entry is listed among the more important meets of the East. Connelly seems destined for a successful season, both indoor and outdoor, and undoubtedly great things will be performed by Jimmy on the cinders this spring.

Since their defeat by Georgetown, recently, the Wake Forest College basketball team has won six consecutive victories. Some of the strongest combinations in the South have fallen before the Deacons, which is evidence that the Hilltoppers performed no small act by downing the Southerners in the opening struggle of the season.

At present New Jersey boasts the mainstays of Georgetown's basketball team. Captain Brogan, Sweany, Finley, and Farley—all regulars—are products of the Coast State.

I sent my boy to Princeton, I put him on the back; I spent ten thousand dollars And got a quarter back.
Boston Writers Give Generous Praise—Time Called Remarkable—Competition of the Highest In One of the Best Relays Ever Held.

Special writers for all the Boston Sunday papers spoke in high praise of the accomplishment of the Georgetown team in annexing their third victory in the Cardinal O'Connell Cup competition and so carrying the cup back to Washington. Tom McCabe of the Boston Herald had these kind words to say:

"Georgetown, tied with Harvard for the honors last evening in the fourth annual Knights of Columbus games in Mechanics' Hall. The blue and gray relay warriors gained permanent possession of the Cardinal O'Connell trophy, emblazoned on the Catholic College Relay championship as the 150 yard leg at the finish line. . . . There never was any better relay race than the Catholic College team contest, which went to Georgetown in the remarkable time of 3 minutes and 6 1-5 seconds. The Washington collegians gained permanent possession of the beautiful Cardinal William H. O'Connell Cup by running a fastest race from the gun, and what a race it was! A very small blanket could have covered the track. On each leg of the race. The gathering was in a frenzy all the way, and no wonder. George Kinney of Dorchester, opening for the Washington team on the outside, got the first corner from Joe McKillop of B. C. and Ed Higgins of Holy Cross. McKillop jumped fast on the stretch and managed to lead the procession on the first whirl of the oval. Higgins tried several times to get up, but had to wait until the last corner, where he burst past McKillop to finish a yard behind Kinney at the start. Ascher's heart. He had lots of reserve.

"Joe McKinney led off for Boston, Eddie Higgins for Holy Cross and George Kinney for Georgetown. At the bell clap, however, both Kinney and Higgins went past McKillop and the Georgetown runner turned over a two-year yard to help his relay, Burgess, over Burns of Holy Cross, while Bill McKillop, the second Boston man, had a three-year handicap to overcome. Both the Worcester and Boston runners made up some of the lost ground in the second relay, so that Paul Herlihy, a 1-3 yard boy, had only a yard lead, starting the third relay for the Washington college. . . . The final relay was a thrilling dash, with the crowd yelling itself hoarse for Bill Mulvihill of Holy Cross to overhaul Vernon Ascher, Georgetown's anchor man.

"But Ascher had enough running left to uncork a sprint and win by a couple of yards, while the Boston College runner was three yards behind his rival. The time, 3 minutes and 6 1-5 seconds, was exceptionally fast, only a couple of seconds behind the track record.

"And so one more chapter is written in the brilliant record of the 1925 track team, which has already earned the unquestionable distinction of being hailed as the greatest squad Georgetown ever possessed.

"And one remembers there have been track teams here on the Hilltop in the past of no mean capacity or mediocre accomplishment."

Georgetown University Hospital. As the facilities at the present time for the care of charity cases in the District are very poor, it is especially important to provide funds for the upkeep of these charity wards. In so far as these benefit performances are one of the chief sources of revenue for the upkeep of charity wards anyone who purchased tickets for the benefit show of "Rose Marie" may consider his money not only well invested from a standpoint of providing a fine evening's entertainment but also by the fact that he has aided a very worthy charity organization.

Mr. Sylvester J. Roll, who graduated from the School of Foreign Service in June, 1921, has just returned from a rather extended stay in Stockholm, Sweden, where he has been on the staff of the American Consulate General.

Mr. Roll has resigned from the Consular Service in order to take up a position as Secretary to the Trade Commissioner at Stockholm. After a short stay in this country, Mr. Roll will return to Sweden to resume his new duties under the direction of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The officials of the School have just learned, with considerable pleasure, that one of the first graduates of the school, Mr. Richard P. Rutrick, who completed his course here in 1921, has recently received a substantial promotion to the rank of Consul in the U. S. Consular Service. Mr. Rutrick is now occupying the position of Consul at Guayaquil, Ecuador.

The University of Vermont is considering a school for the instruction of cheer-leaders. There is an enrollment of twenty in the school at the present time.
