Edgar L.G. Prochownik, Minister of Austria.

Mystic Beauty of White-Gravenor at night.

Scene during recent snowstorm.

Varsity Intercollegiate Debating Teams.

Rev. Edward A. Pace, Vice-Rector of C.U.

Rev. John E. Grootman, S.J.
Dean.

Hoya photo.

Harris & Ewing.

U. & U. photo.
Academy Honors To Be Awarded At Founders Exercises Tonight

Founders of University to Be Commemorated at Bi-Centennial Exercises—Two Academic Academy Honors Will Be Presented;
Apostolic Delegate Guest of Honor

Georgetown University today celebrates with special solemnity Founders Day with special exercises commemorating The University. The John Carroll Bi-Centennial exercises will be held this evening in Gaston Hall commencing at 8:30 p.m. As a fitting commemoration of the birth of John Carroll, His Excellency Mr. Edgar Leo Gustav Proehl, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Austria to the United States, will receive the Honors of the John Carroll Academy of Foreign Service. The Right Reverend Monsignor Edward Aloisius Pace, S.T.D., Ph.D., LL.D., Vice Rector of Catholic University, will receive the honors of the Philosophical Academy of Catholic University. This celebration is a notable high point in the long series of friendly contacts with our sister institution, the Catholic University of America.

COLONEL COOTES TO REVIEW R.O.T.C. UNIT

Junior Officers to Go to Camp Meade for Practice on Rifle Range

An announcement has been received from the Military Department that Col. Harry N. Cootes, Cavalry, commanding officer in charge of R. O. T. C. affairs for the Third Corps Area, will visit and inspect the Georgetown unit on Thursday, April 11. Colonel Cootes, who inspected the Georgetown unit last year, is an officer with a distinguished record both in war and in peace. He was Chief of Staff of the U.S. Artillery during the World War, and is the recipient of many decorations for his outstanding and efficient services. Colonel Cootes was the commanding officer at Fort Meyer, before going to his present position.

The R. O. T. C. unit engaged on last (Continued on Page 10)

GLUE CLUB TO GIVE CLASSICAL CONCERT

Program to Be Under Direction of Dr. Edward Donovan—Many Expected

On Sunday evening, March 31, the Georgetown Glee Club will present a program of classical and Old English selections at Gaston Hall. The Club will as usual be under the direction of Dr. E. P. Donovan, Mus. D., with the cooperation of Father Cerrute, S.J. The Mid-Lenten concerts by the Glee Club are an annual feature and are usually attended by a large number of students (Continued on Page 13)

Catholic Youth Movement To Hold Third Convocation This Saturday

Rev. George A. McDonald, S.J., to Direct Exercises—Meeting Called by Frank Hickey—Fr. Nevils to Give Invocation—Fr. McDonough to Speak

The third and final Catholic Youth Movement Convention of the scholastic year will meet Saturday at Georgetown University, when the Catholic young people of Washington will exchange their views on problems vitally affecting their interests. Delegates from all the Catholic colleges and high schools of the District will have an all-day session here to discuss their activities and to make plans for further action regarding the Mexican situation. In addition to Georgetown the following institutions will be represented: Trinity College, Georgetowm Visitation Convent, Immaculata Seminary, Academy of the Holy Cross, Gonzaga High School, Holy Trinity High School, Notre Dame Academy, Sacred Heart Academy, St. Anthony’s High School, and St. Paul’s Academy.

The third and final Catholic Youth Movement Convention of the scholastic year will meet Saturday at Georgetown University, when the Catholic young people of Washington will exchange their views on problems vitally affecting their interests. Delegates from all the Catholic colleges and high schools of the District will have an all-day session here to discuss their activities and to make plans for further action regarding the Mexican situation. In addition to Georgetown the following institutions will be represented: Trinity College, Georgetowm Visitation Convent, Immaculata Seminary, Academy of the Holy Cross, Gonzaga High School, Holy Trinity High School, Notre Dame Academy, Sacred Heart Academy, St. Anthony’s High School, and St. Paul’s Academy.

The third and final Catholic Youth Movement Convention of the scholastic year will meet Saturday at Georgetown University, when the Catholic young people of Washington will exchange their views on problems vitally affecting their interests. Delegates from all the Catholic colleges and high schools of the District will have an all-day session here to discuss their activities and to make plans for further action regarding the Mexican situation. In addition to Georgetown the following institutions will be represented: Trinity College, Georgetowm Visitation Convent, Immaculata Seminary, Academy of the Holy Cross, Gonzaga High School, Holy Trinity High School, Notre Dame Academy, Sacred Heart Academy, St. Anthony’s High School, and St. Paul’s Academy.

The third and final Catholic Youth Movement Convention of the scholastic year will meet Saturday at Georgetown University, when the Catholic young people of Washington will exchange their views on problems vitally affecting their interests. Delegates from all the Catholic colleges and high schools of the District will have an all-day session here to discuss their activities and to make plans for further action regarding the Mexican situation. In addition to Georgetown the following institutions will be represented: Trinity College, Georgetowm Visitation Convent, Immaculata Seminary, Academy of the Holy Cross, Gonzaga High School, Holy Trinity High School, Notre Dame Academy, Sacred Heart Academy, St. Anthony’s High School, and St. Paul’s Academy.
{\textbf{FOUNDER'S DAY}}

March the twentieth is a day which has a most marked significance in the history of every man who has found himself connected in any way with Georgetown. This day is so annual that it stands as an everlasting beacon penetrating into the clouds. This day represents and commemorates the Founder of the Potomac, as one of the most resounding living links which unite the past with the present. Founder's Day is the bond which links each succeeding generation and age with their most remembrance and better-riches by us. With all this before us, it is impossible for the men of Georgetown to remain dormant and inactive; the visions of John Carroll will finally emerge from the shadows, gleaming with the glory, the light and the power which his mind gave to them.

{\textbf{THE SEASON OF OPPORTUNITIES}}

We are well on our way into the Lenten season, and perhaps it would be advantageous if we pause for a moment and really consider how much or how little we are its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again its excellency for meditation. Our relation to our Creator, society's destination, salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincingly and profoundly written that they would provide its other aspects and opportunities. It is a fine time for becoming acquainted again of salvation, and are so convincing
Letters To The Editor

(EDITOR’S NOTE: Any letter that may appear in this column is not to be construed as the official position of this paper, and we are not responsible for what appears, whether it causes favorable comment or not. All such letters should be submitted to the Editorial Board of The Hoja at least a week before the issue in which it is to appear.)

QUIET PLEASE!

To the Editor of The Hoja:
I would like to take this means to register a protest against another curious Georgetown paradox. The authorities have been very solicitous of late in endeavoring to secure greater quiet on the corridors to facilitate study. We must never run our radios during study hours, and the prefects have become very prompt in breaking up any sessions that might keep the boys away from their books. All so we can have greater quiet and perhaps by this means prevent the recurrence of the large number of conditions. This is all very well, building a planulation, location, and other important factors, and the proposed department would be inefficient. An extemporaneous discussion followed, in which the speaker could witness the student. In the vote taken, the negative were chosen the student and Mr. F. D. W. was selected best speaker in the debate.

COMPETITIVE PRIZES

ST. JOHN BERCHMANS’ SANCTUARY SOCIETY
Mass Servers’ Appointments from April 17 to October 17
St. William-Copley 6.15—William Maley.
7.15—George W. Guifolye and Robert T. Phelan.
Crypt-Copley 6.30—John F. Kelley.
Sorority-St. Copley 7.00—Robert E. Curley.
Sacred Heart-Dalhgren 6.30—John J. Hannon.
7.00—Paul Betowski and Richard Lawler.
St. Elizabeth—Dalhgren 6.30—John D. Faller.
St. John—Infirmary 7.00—John J. Harvey.
St. Anne—Old North 6.30—William E. Bobe.
St. J. Berchmans—Infirmary 6.30—Robert Martin.
7.00—Frank Cashin.
N. A. Martyrs—Infirmary 6.30—Frank Feighan.
7.00—Lawrence Cooke.
St. Ignatius—Infirmary 6.30—Francis McVey.
7.00—Vincent Beatty.
7.00—Henry M. Leslie.
St. Alphonsus—Infirmary 6.30—William Shelly.
6.30—William Shelly.
Holy Angels—Infirmary 6.30—James Kerman.

WHITE DEBATES GOVT.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Messrs. Robnett and Dies Judged
Winners—Mr. Dies Voted
Best Speaker

The White Debating Society met last Wednesday to debate the question, “Resolved: That Congress should authorize the establishment of a Federal department of education, with a secretary in the President’s Cabinet.” The affirmative was represented by Mr. Perry and Mr. Trew, the negative by Mr. Robnett and Mr. Dies. Mr. Perry opened the debate by showing what had been agreed upon by both sides, and continued his speech by demonstrating our country’s need for such an organization, and the fundamental reasons why it should exist as a Federal department. Mr. Robnett continued the debate by showing the obvious lack of need or demand for a department of education with a secretary in the Cabinet. He added that the Governmental party was campaigning on the establishment of such a department.

Mr. Trew

Mr. Trew continued the debate for the affirmative by answering objections against the establishment of such a department. The affirmative declared that the department would collect and disseminate facts, and point out methods of construction which would be beneficial to the community. Mr. Perry concluded the debate by stating that the proposed department would be inefficient. An extemporaneous discussion followed in which Mr. Trew could witness the affirmative. In the vote taken, the negative were chosen the student, and Mr. Dies was selected best speaker in the debate.

COMPETITIVE PRIZES

FOR UNDERGRADUATES

Several Awards Offered in Field of Oratory, Essay Writing and Scholarship

It has always been the custom at Georgetown to foster the competitive spirit in the various fields of study by making awards and prizes to those who have shown proficiency of knowledge or an advanced degree of talent in some branch of study. The competitors for this medal are from the three upper classes. Each man has presented to the Dean of the College, a written copy of his original oration. Eight competitors have been chosen for the delivery of their orations, and the award of the medal will be determined upon the basis of 50 per cent for composition and 50 per cent for delivery.

Horace Medal

As a means of supporting the ancient knowledge of and interest in the classics, the friends of the late Rev. John J. Murphy, S.J., offer a medal to a student showing the greatest proficiency in ancient languages. The poem of Horace will be read in the poetry of Horace. The Georgetown students may increase their knowledge in special phases and characters of history, a medal is awarded to the student who shall prove himself wins the award for a subject pertaining to Poland. Each year, on October ninth, the anniversary of St. John’s death, three students selected pertaining to Poland, the

(Continued on Page 12)
DIFFICULT SCHEDULE CONFRONTS GOLF TEAM

Team to Be Chosen from Lynch, Galvin, Corcoran, Lee, Byrnes, and O'Brien

Starting in the early part of April, Georgetown's golf team will start one of the most extensive schedules ever played by a Hoya golf team. They will start the season off by playing Rollins and Florida Universities. May 10 and 11 the Hoyas will play on the Congressional course for the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf League matches. Largely through the efforts of Co-Captain Joe Lynch, who is president of the Intercollegiate Golf Association, the National Intercollegiate championship will be held at the Congressional course, June 24-29, for the first time in Washington.

Joe Lynch

Joe Lynch deserves much credit for bringing the difficult schedule to Washington, for it will again bring Georgetown back in the limelight in collegiate golf circles. Joe is the first of his family to play golf, and many others. This year Joe will be playing for the intercollegiate individual championship, and he will be defending the long-hitting honors won last year by a Hoyan, who won over George Von Ehm back in 1936. Joe's record, while he has been here at Georgetown, has been a brilliant one, and he deserves the honors which have been bestowed on him this year. The matches in June will bring to Washington some of the greatest amateurs in the country. To list a few of them, we have: The American and British amateur champion, Lawson Little, Jr., John Stillwell, and many others. This year Joe will be playing for the Intercollegiate individual championship, and he will be defending the long-hitting honors won last year when he averaged an average of 73-130 yards for the three drives in this side event. There will unquestionably be stiff competition from the Southeastern and Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Leagues.

ELEVEN GAMES LISTED ON BASEBALL CARD

Maryland to Be Met Twice—Dartmouth, Harvard, Duke, Penn State on Card

In the baseball schedule recently released by Manager Louis Camardella, the Georgetown nine is booked for 11 games. Of the 11 to be played, 9 games will be put on at the Hoyas' home field and the team will only make two trips, one to Annapolis and the other to college Park, to meet the U.S. Naval Academy and Maryland U., respectively. The schedule includes the leading teams in the nation and is designed to keep the Blue and Gray team on their toes if they do not want to come off second best in the majority of the contests.

Maryland Games

The hilltop nine will play two games with Maryland, one at College Park and one at home. These two games are part of the tri-sport program which marked the resumption of athletic relationship with the two schools. This year will mark the first of 30 years that teams from both schools have met on an athletic field consistently. The baseball series will be in the nature of deciding contests to see which of the two will hold the top honors in the first year of the newly resumed relationship. The schools have already met in two sports and have thus far broken even, with Maryland winning in football, but (Continued on page 6)

G. U. TRACKSTERS PLAN OUTDOOR CAMPAIGN

Seven Meets Listed on Season Schedule for Thin Clad—Practice to Be Resumed Next Week

With April first as the date set aside for initial call of outdoor track candidates, Georgetown track enthusiasts look forward to an outdoor season that should parallel the Hilltopgers' brilliant track career.

Coach Mulligan who has been issued Coach Mulligan is hopeful that he will be able to whip a team in shape in the limited time at his disposal as soon as possible represented at the Penn relays four times. Georgetown track enthusiasts did not want to come off second in the intercollegiate circles.

The Hilltoppers will compete at the powerful Naval Apprentice School and May 18 has been set aside as the date for the Georgetown Glenmagnam to encounter the flashy West Virginia crew at Morgantown. With a brilliant event as a fitting climax to what is hoped to be a successful outdoor season Georgetown will complete its schedule by competing in the famed Eastern Intercollegiate meets which will be held this year at Cambridge, Mass. This event is eagerly anticipated by every track enthusiast, and much is expected from Georgetown's track representatives.

Possibilities

As the outdoor season is still in the offering it is almost impossible to make any accurate predictions as to how the Hilltoppers will fare against the capable (Continued on page 6)
FOOTBALL SQUAD TO CLOSE SPRING SESSION

Entering the closing weeks of the current spring conditioning campaign for football candidates, Coach Jack Hagerty and his corps of seven assistants were well on the way to molding the turnout into the semblance of a first-rate football squad. Although the current maneuvers are primarily for the purpose of entering up, developing muscles and getting them in shape again after the winter break, the coaching staff is taking the opportunity of passing on a few pointers, and bits of experience to the aspirants, most of them freshmen.

Coaching Staff

Coach Hagerty has taken especial charge of the backfield candidates and has been putting them through back-the-line paces, and in the course thereof has discovered many lads of promise to whom he can look forward coming fall. Under Assistant Coaches Murtagh and Dubofsky, the candidates have been working out in intensive drill periods, all aimed at calculating the hard and fast technique of playing in the line of the heads of those out for football. Assistant Coaches Murtagh and Dubofsky are three veterans of many Georgetown football skirmishes. Frank Williams, last season's varsity center, is on hand teaching the playing of the pivot position. Dick Danner, veteran guard of last season's varsity team, is on hand to prominent tackle material. Material will pass on a few hints as to how to play the positions.

The largest turnout for a spring practice session in the recent history of the school, and with much promising material on hand from which to pick an eleven, the indications point to a coming fall season which should better the fine record laid down by last fall's football team.

Schedules for Season Start April 1; Intramural Baseball Leagues Organized

Georgetown's intramural activities will swing into the home stretch for the present school year on April 1 when the first Spring contest will be played. The Softball League begins first, with the Sophomores and Juniors scheduled to tangle, and the Hardball League gets under way the same week later with the freshmen. The aforementioned teams also inaugurating this schedule. Much interest is already manifest in these two phases of baseball and indeed there is always a heavy turnout in both leagues, and with the暨onment team in better of the two. Kearn competition from all upper classes, and from the versatile Freshmen who exhibited their prowess by copping the District basketball title is expected. The Sophomores at this date appear the most formidable on paper, with such men as Blasio, McCloskey, Cameron, Fitterman, and Krag all set to take over their positions which they handled so well last year. These teams, represented by such outstanding players as Musante, Watson, Chappa, Dziel, and

HOYA BASEBALL TEAM DRILLS FOR OPENER

Baseball practice is again under way, and at present the outlook for the coming season is rather bright. With about six veterans returning to the team and a fine group of newcomers available for the spring, the prospects are such as to cast a shadow of those from the past few years. As the final schedule is undecided yet, but it is believed that 12 or 13 games will be played before the season closes, the opening game should be well upon. On April 2 Georgetown meets the strong Dartmouth nine, at George-town.

Positions Open

The first team positions are not definitely filled, but we have some outstanding candidates to choose from. First is Perrine, the choice for the first base position, and he has been quite a competitor on last year's varsity baseball nine. His batting ability is outstanding, and he surely proves his place on the first team. Another veteran, Crenshaw, will hold down the third base post, and will probably assist in the pitching assignments. Ben Zola, Bob Ferrara and Jack Cunningham are the chief contenders for the second base position, with Ferrara holding a slight upper hand by virtue of his smooth hitting and batting ability. Malone, Maugham, and Andy Watson are the most notable outfielders, and it is uncertain which of these four will play first string. All are strong fielders and very potent bat wielders.

The pitching staff is composed of old timers and a rookie. Stieg and Cuffe, both veterans of the past few seasons, will bear the brunt of the pitching assignments. Ed Hargaden, last season's regular shortstop, has been converted into a pitcher and gives promise of success in his new position. McGuire is another potent pitcher who will help carry on the pitching staff's engagements successfully.

Ed Bodine and Don Giabeau are first in line for shortstop. Both have an uncertain ability of scooping them up, but if they can show how hard they can throw Bodine, a rookie in varsity ranks, can bat as his first time at bat. Both have an uncanny ability to get in great pegging arm makes him the choice for this position, but Giabeau is a close competitor and may see a great deal of service.

The team is fairly well rounded out, and with a few more weeks earnest practice a fairly successful club should result. Besides Dartmouth, two games are definitely scheduled with Maryland, on a play home-and-away basis, and also games with Richmond and the Naval Academy.

Hicks, will be able to give a good account of themselves. The juniors, showing a lack of interest in the recent baseball campaign, should be able to put a fairly good club on the diamond. Holden, the winning Sophomore, club include O'Hara, Van Buren, Zaino, Smith and Trouton. The Frosh, an unknown quantity as yet, can be expected to present a fighting dash for cold coffee and potato salad—always a feature. Open-air singing; open-air dancing; open-air-yay! And then to climax a day of real American boy and girl fun—they might all see a Buck Jones picture. This should meet with the approval of the most temperate.

What if you're looking for the managing editor and myself—the Shoreham is always nice in spring, too.

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL LEAGUES ORGANIZED

Schedules for Season Start April 1; Keen Competition Expected in Hardball, Indoor Leagues

Famous Last Words: "But, Baby, don't believe all those things you read in 'Quandaries.'

In his Broadway column the other day, Ed Sullivan, one of the more acute and less tiring of the Forty-second Street commentators, gives a note of praise and chiding to the producers of the New York show. "And Mr. Sullivan's words brought it home to me in a certain feeling of satisfaction to our critical acumen. For it was about a year ago that we half-believed Miss Logan when she, down here with Abe Lyman's band, chanted as well. With a fine spirit of the comic, with the Mildred Bailey tone of rebuke. And then a parenthesis of remarks, infinitely more intelligent, she seemed distinctly high-class and destined for rights. And now Miss Logan, breaking away from the aegis of Mr. Lyman, has hit the customers at the Cafe de Paris."

Spots writing in the evening papers in town is mostly of the departmental, impersonal craftsmanship type. Although the morning papers have Gallico and Runyon among the syndicated columns, and Bob Considine starring for the locals, the evening sheets don't fare so well.

Richard McCann, in the "News," is, I believe, one of the brightest and most entertaining of the evening screenwriters. With the lassitude of Pendeg, he is to the evening newspaper as Runyon is to the daily.

A few days ago, McCann very neatly blasted the oft-repeated fallacy: "Washington is a bum sports-town." Listening, in cold statistical form, a comparison of New York and Washington in relative attendance, Washington showed up very well as regards college football, basketball, and pro baseball. Boxing is the weak sport in the commercial market. That Washingtonians like good shows is evident from the C. U. crowds; but offered the stooges of Goldie Ahrens and company, they balk. Washington is not so much a bum sports-town as a haven for bum promoters.

For a few days, I didn't really want to see the cinema version of "Roberta." The New York production, which had been very colorful and lovely in music, had lacked pacing and a humor that is nowadays considered practically essential for a first-rate musical. But in their admission, the Hollywoodians have bettered already a good show. With two new songs by Jerome Kern, sparkling production, the smooth beauty of Irene Dunne, the West Coast moguls have mingled the artistry of Fred Astaire. And the dancing of Astaire, his lines, his piano-playing, is just that increased tempo the New York show missed. A fine musical film—"Roberta."
Not at all discouraged by the rather unsatisfactory showing of the Hilltop baseball team in his initial year as head coach, Ralph McCarthy at present is mulling what he think will be the most representative nine that has worn the Blue and Gray in some years. He has succeeded, as only expert mentors do, in instilling in the men under him that magnetic personality which so dominates his character. This foremost asset, coupled with the inspiring leadership that characterizes Capt. Joe Saverine, should go a long way in reestablishing Georgetown as one of the most formidable baseball teams in the East, a reputation which he possessed when Ralph himself was调料 on the team.

Facing a really difficult schedule, composed of the best colleges this section of the country can offer, Coach McCarthy is leaving no stone unturned in his quest for a winning ball club. Favoritism is unthinkable, and even the men who held down varsity positions last year must again prove that they are worthy of the same places on the present outfit. Although nothing is certain at this writing, we would not be at all surprised to see the following men start at the infield positions when the team faces Dartmouth in the opening game of the season a week hence: At Perrine, Bob Perrine, Gus Creighaw on the bases, with Ed Bodine in the shortfield post. "Saw," of course, will be behind the plate, where, as captain, he can utilize the authority of his position to the fullest advantage. As for the outfield, there is nothing much to report at the present time, so evenly matched are the men striving for positions. Yet, with such a man as Ralph McCarthy directing the activities of the team, through his inspiring field captain, we feel sure that Georgetown will rise to new heights, as far as intercollegiate baseball is concerned.

Several reports have come to our ears in the last few days (whether they be well founded or not is another question) to the effect that both Catholic University and Maryland University were decrying our policy of using our varsity boxing team in the extramural bouts that were held a short time ago. This is certainly fantastic rumor originated we do not know, but we would like to call certain basis in quite a few years, if our memory serves us correctly. Just where this team, through his inspiring field captain, we feel sure that Georgetown will rise to new heights, as far as intercollegiate baseball is concerned.

The schedule for the coming season is as follows:

VARSITY BASEBALL

(Continued from page 4)

Georgetown proving itself the master in basket ball.

Besides the two to be played with Maryland, the Hoyas will meet other worthy opponents in Harvard, Dartmouth, Penn State, and Duke. In addition the team will meet Temple U. on May 14. It will be recalled that in the two games played with Temple last year, the Blue and Gray came in on the short end of the score both times. This year their followers hope that they can score a victory decisive enough to offset both defeats of last year.

Opening Game

At present the team is rapidly rounding into form for its opening game with Harvard on April 2, at home. Although no outstanding players seem to have appeared, Coach McCarthy hopes to be able to send a well-balanced aggregation onto the field for this game. One of the main sources of interest during the coming season will be the person of Ed Hargaden. Ed has been converted from a shortstop into pitcher, and his many basketball followers are anxious to know how well he will fare against the opposing batsmen.

The schedule for the coming season is as follows:

SPRING INTRAMURAL SCHEDULES

SOFTBALL

April 1—Seniors vs. Sophs.
April 3—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 8—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 10—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 15—Sophs. vs. Frosh.
April 17—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 22—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 22—Seniors vs. Juniors.

HARDBALL

April 6—Seniors vs. Sophs.
April 7—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 13—Seniors vs. Fresh.
April 14—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 20—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 21—Sophs. vs. Fresh.

At this point it is fitting that we should extend our sincere compliments to Lew Atenson of the Washington Post for the generous attitude he exhibited a few days ago in commenting on the prospects of the Hoyas track team. Recalling at some length the Blue and Gray track stars of the past Mr. Atcherson went on to state that in the present Freshman relay team Georgetown has laid the foundation which with she expects to regain the pristine brilliance that accrued to her when Hilltop immortals of the past lorded over the collegiate domain. Citing the accomplishments of this brilliant yearling team Mr. Atenson stated that in the opinion of the experts "Georgetown would become a reigning power in the world of sports and will score in less than two years." We wish to take this opportunity, then, of expressing our appreciation to Mr. Atenson for his favorable dissertation concerning Georgetown's track status.

TENNIS

(Continued from page 4)

On the next day the lads will journey over to College Park to play the University of Maryland, in the second scheduled contest. This will mark the first tennis competition between these schools, and has been brought about by the renewal of athletic activities that started with the football game of last fall.

N. C. State Scheduled

After these games the squad will have a rest until after the Easter recess, when they will pick up racquets again, to play the courtsters from North Carolina State. N. C. State is nationally known for their exceptional court teams and for their contributions to national amateur tennis. They always boast a top-notch outfit, and this year should prove no exception. After this match the Hoyas should be back in the right groove to meet Catholic U. on the 3rd of May.

VETERANS FEW

When the squad reports to Coach Freddie Mesmer for practice drills it will be lean of seasoned material, and this spring's squad will have to be built up around three veterans along with those that have shown ability in the intramural matches of last year. Bill Cagney, No. 1 man, will captain the squad, and along with Carl Decker and Ed Henry, will be the only veteran material. Such competent stars as George Crowley, Bill Doherty, and his team mates, Dave Keane, Jack Quirk, and Bert Treacy, will be lean of seasoned material, and Freddie Mesmer will have fine players in the outfield, where, as captain, he can utilize the authority of his position to the fullest advantage. As for the infield, the team will be faced with the task of drawing from and with the help of these three, the final match of the season, will be played against Virginia Polytechnic Institute, at the Hilltop, the following afternoon.

These matches will be followed by a two-day-away trip, the first match to be a return one with Pitt at Pittsburgh and the other to be against West Virginia at Morgantown. Then at convenient intervals the team will engage in matches played in Washington and Jefferson, Temple, Loyola of Baltimore, and the United States Military Academy. The last game mentioned will be the only one of these that will be played away from Washington. This one, the final match of the season, will be played at Annapolis on the 8th of May.

SCHEDULE

April 1—Seniors vs. Sophs.
April 3—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 8—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 10—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 15—Sophs. vs. Frosh.
April 17—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 22—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 22—Seniors vs. Juniors.

April 2—Dartmouth at Washington.
April 4—Hampton at Washington.
April 11—Washington College at Washington.
April 17—Penn State at Washington.
April 25—Va. at Washington.
May 4—Temple at College Park.
May 9—Lawrence and Lee at Georgetown.
May 11—Naval Academy at Annapolis.
May 14—Temple at Washington.
May 18—Washington at Baltimore.

TRACK

(Continued from page 4)

Teams that will be matched against them. Judging from their indoor record, however, much hope is placed in the possibility of Captain Bill Doherty and his team mates, Dave Keane, Jack Quirk, and Bert Treacy. Our relay team has had a fairly successful season despite the many obstacles that have been forced to cope with during the past season.

As far as Freshmen track possibilities are concerned, Bill Doherty, who has been showing the most improvement in the relay, will be chosen to represent the Hoyas. Measuring 5 feet 11 inches and weighing 150 pounds, he will be a threat in the sprints.

Spring having been officially ushered in, and the experts serving notice that the cherry blossoms will be in full bloom in a short time, we begin to ponder about the 1929 schedule of athletics. Warder, Hogue, Hanks, and Brown are four speedy quarter-milers who will compete favorably with any yearling tracksters in the country.

The Hoyas

April 1—Seniors vs. Sophs.
April 3—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 8—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 10—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 15—Sophs. vs. Frosh.
April 17—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 22—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 22—Seniors vs. Juniors.

April 29—Sophs. vs. Fresh.
May 3—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 6—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 13—Juniors vs. Fresh.
May 13—Seniors vs. Fresh.
May 15—Seniors vs. Sophs.
May 22—Seniors vs. Juniors.

April 27—Seniors vs. Sophs.
April 28—Juniors vs. Fresh.
May 4—Juniors vs. Fresh.
May 5—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 12—Juniors vs. Sophs.

SCHEDULE

April 1—Seniors vs. Sophs.
April 3—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 8—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 10—Juniors vs. Sophs.
April 15—Sophs. vs. Frosh.
April 17—Seniors vs. Juniors.
April 22—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 22—Seniors vs. Juniors.

April 29—Sophs. vs. Fresh.
May 3—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 6—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 13—Juniors vs. Fresh.
May 13—Seniors vs. Fresh.
May 15—Seniors vs. Sophs.
May 22—Seniors vs. Juniors.

April 27—Seniors vs. Sophs.
April 28—Juniors vs. Fresh.
May 4—Juniors vs. Fresh.
May 5—Juniors vs. Sophs.
May 12—Juniors vs. Sophs.
Week-end. Canceling the contracts with making venture by Jack Benny on the man, received a nice letter over the past Company three-hour Saturday night his tour, in order to arrange their Sun­ Coast, Bestor must accompany him on Ball on May 10th. Due to a picture­ Don Bestor's orchestra, for the Senior part of Benny's repertoire, being treated mittee can still choose Benny Goodman, for smooth, balanced effect. If you like that night of May 10th, with his high the big band on that National Biscuit slow tempo numbers compose the greater brand of musical entertainment. The going Coast-to-Coast hookup ever since into a rat race. Benny Goodman has fashion without turning the ball room into a stooge. In the midst of a terrific good reason, unless it might be to disregard his script and ad lib. The stooge, bewildered but deciding to play ball, rolled them in the aisles with unac­ customed witty come-backs. Now the revised stooge code strictly forbids its members to behave in anything but an 'umble manner. So when Pearl, roaring with good humor, cracked 'Tomorrow, I'm going to fire you,' his dependents went mad with the sheer wit of this sally. But not the stooge. For five minutes later the stooge was on his way out—permanently.

Anything else Sir?

Nothing else they Satisfy!

Cigarettes are made for your pleasure and for your enjoyment...nothing else.

And when a cigarette gives you the enjoyment that Chesterfields do there are no "ifs" "ands"or "buts" about it...

They Satisfy!
Actor you are, and immediately left for Florida. We hear that the Gamma tea was just a Gamma tea! Georgetown is getting to be quite a social school.

Jim Albano and Joe Smith have joined the ranks. Reeves went home and came back... so what. Lynch went home and came back... so what. Why doesn't somebody go home and stay there? "Titus" Conaway's "Puritan Girl" paid the Hilltop a visit, and are we honored... .

R. O. T. C. (Continued from page 1)

Thursday in the first formation drill for the Army Day parade. The formation is 14 men in depth and 14 men in width, making a solid square. The unit will be approximately a block long, with over 250 men participating in the event. The troops will be preceded by the band, the bugle corps, under the command of the cadet officers.

Rifle Range

The Junior Class will be taken to Fort Meade for practice with the rifle, pistol, and machine gun, on April 13. Arrangements have been made for the courtesy of Col. John Breuer, Sixty-sixth Infantry. This fine opportunity will greatly assist the juniors in preparing to make an excellent record at camp this summer. Credit and thanks are due to the authorities at Fort Meade for providing this excellent opportunity. Lunch will be served on the range.

Band practice will be held in the gymnasium on Tuesday, March 26, due to the celebration of Founder's Day. Practice is held each week in preparation for the concert to be given by the Army Band in the latter part of April, on the campus.

Rifle Scores

The following report has been received from the Rifle Range:

U. of Dayton...1,823 G. U. .......1,825
Wash. U. .......1,791 G. U. .......1,825
U. of Maine .......1,766 G. U. .......1,825
Creighton .......1,747 G. U. .......1,825
Coe College .......1,747 G. U. .......1,825

Winners for high score for week ending March 16:

High score (old member), prize two movie tickets or one carton cigarettes—Terry Dave.
Second high score (old member), prize one movie ticket or one-half carton cigarettes—Collins, W. R.
High score (new member), prize two movie tickets or one carton cigarettes—Lang, J. W.
Second high score (new member), prize one movie ticket or one-half carton cigarettes—Alfaro, R. E.

Winners may receive their prizes from Captain DeWear.

New Appointments

On March 22 the following appointments and assignments of cadet officers were announced, effective immediately:

Field and Staff—Major Edward A. Doyle, battalion commander; Capt. Robert E. Cary, battalion adjutant; 1st Lt. Thomas A. O'Callaghan, battalion plans and training officer; 1st Lt. Hyme A. Budd, battalion supply officer; 1st Lt. Wm. R. Collins, battalion intelligence officer.

From any angle
I'm your best friend

I give you the mildest smoke, the best-tasting smoke. I do not irritate your throat. You wonder what makes me different. For one thing, it's center leaves. I spurn the little, sticky, top leaves... so bitter to the taste. I scorn the coarse bottom leaves, so harsh and unappetizing. I am careful of your friendship, for I am made only of the mild, fragrant, expensive center leaves. That's why I sign myself ''Your best friend.''

I am your Lucky Strike

Luckies use only the center leaves... center leaves give you the mildest smoke

They Taste Better

was indeed a memorable day in the history of Old North buzzed anew with excitement when it was learned that the first President was expected to land.

Washington must have been deeply gratified when the day was learned that the first President was expected to land.

President of the University, Washington selected topic of English literature, which he in his name fostering work in the field of literature. The award is made on the basis of the best essay on a selected topic of English literature, which for this year will treat of "Catholic Morality and Piety in the Morte D'Arthur of Sir Thomas Malory."

The speaker showed that when the star disappeared, the Magi, like the sensible men they were, fell back upon their resources, and thus were unconsiously carrying out a principle to be enunciated centuries later by St. Ignatius, a principle that will tide us, also, over any difficulty. "Pray and work; pray as if everything depended on your efforts. ’Are we assailed by temptation that seems unconquerable? It never is unconquerable, of course, for we shall never be tempted beyond our strength. " ‘Pray and work; pray and work as if everything depended on your efforts. ’Are we assailed by temptation that seems unconquerable? It never is unconquerable, of course, for we shall never be tempted beyond our strength."

Washington must have been deeply impressed with Georgetown, because five members of his family later attended here. Bushrod and Augustine Washington, sons of Laurence. Washington's brother, and George W., another Mount (Continued on page 13)
United States, entertain any requests for an advisory opinion touching any dispute or question in which the United States has or claims an interest. At the conclusion of the rebuttal, Mr. Walter Connolly gave a very thorough and pointed criticism, citing several faults and virtues of the speakers. The decision in the debate was given to Cosgrove and Jarvis, of the affirmative, while George Haney was voted the best speaker.

Mr. Beckwith

Mr. Beckwith, S.J., moderator of the debate, spoke briefly on criticisms and methods of making rebuttals. Mr. John Donnelly, president of the Society, then announced the next debates. Messrs. Sinnott and Lee, of the affirmative, and Messrs. Bullschmidt and Lange, of the negative, will debate the question of Government ownership of public utilities. On March 20, Messrs. Kindregan and Dailey will hold on the question: "Resolved, That the United States Should Have a Navy Second to None." The debate on March 27 will be on the question: "Resolved, That the United States Should Guarantee All Bank Deposits." Messrs. Cashin and Nurre will uphold the affirmative, while Messrs. Kindregan and Dailey will take the negative side of the argument.

THE RARE OLD VIRTUE

It is a lamentable fact that what Frank Kent, the political commentator for the Baltimore Sun, termed, "The rare old virtue," is rapidly vanishing from the American political arena. Kent used this phrase with application to Carter Glass, the eminent Senator from Virginia. It simply means having the courage of one's convictions. There are probably other members of our nation's most prominent political forum who possess this virtue, but sadly enough they can be counted on the fingers of one hand.

The average citizen will unblushingly admit that most of our legislative representatives vote, not for what they think is best for the country but for the issue which will gain them popularity among their constituents and be most propitious to their reelection. Mr. Citizen passes over this with a shrug of the shoulder. He seems to think that it is beneath him to concern himself with what is best. Could he be so wrong?

A retrospection into our country's past history shows us that the small, clear voices, backed by sincerity and intelligence, have carried a lot farther and been remembered longer than the cacophony of the political opportunists.

We Americans should place a greater premium on this, "the rare old virtue." A re-examination of our past shows us that the small, clear voices, backed by sincerity and intelligence, have carried a lot farther and been remembered longer than a histrionic display of exhibitionism.

THE MOBILIZATION FOR CATHOLIC ACTION

The student body of Georgetown should be keenly interested in a movement recently launched by the Knights of Columbus and known as the Mobilization for Catholic Action. The program of the Knights is world-wide and already is gathering strength and impetus in every corner of the globe. It comes at a fitting time to meet a need that every thinking man must recognize.

Pope Pius XI is often called the "Pope of Catholic Action." The title has been merited by his constant request that the Catholic people throughout the world show an active interest in their faith and in all to which it is related. The Holy Father realizes that to meet successfully the difficulties with which we are confronted in the world today, we must be real Catholics, active ones. Therefore, we are urged as laymen to cooperate in every way possible in the work of the clergy. The Knights of Columbus have always had a strong arm upon which the clergy might find support. In their Mobilization for Catholic Action they have offered each and every one of us a means to actively cooperate in the wishes of the Holy Father. The Student Body of Georgetown should be keenly interested in this movement.

There is no doubt that there is need today in the United States for a united front against the forces fighting Christian ideals and the teachings of Catholicism. We are aware of the Communist propaganda that is circulating all about us; we have seen the need of a Legion of Decency to call a halt to the irresponsible march of the motion picture industry; we constantly hear of the humiliations and hardships that our Catholic brethren are suffering in Mexico. These are but a few of the problems with which Catholicism is confronted. There is a vital need for strong Catholics, for Catholic leaders, and for Catholic unity. A profusion of faith is not enough. Example, cooperation, and leadership are demanded by the Vicar of Christ. A strong Catholic organization is the most effective means by which our Christian principles can be preserved and propagated. The Knights of Columbus is such an organization and in their Mobilization for Catholic Action are asking us to join them and take a definite part in this great work. Shall we not throw our shoulders to the wheel and help this much-needed movement?

In the words of Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, "Singed out by our Holy Father for his paternal approbation and designated by Christ's Vicar as the standard-bearer of Catholic Action the Knights of Columbus will be able to render a greater and better service to God, Church, and Country, if this campaign is, as it deserves to be, universally successful."
On Other Campuses

By Gus Gallagher, '36

According to "The Missouri Student," in a debate held at the University of Minnesota, "an old maid drive more useful on a farm than a wheelbarrow?" the old maid lost by three votes.

The "Hawk," of St. Joseph's College, proves that it is a high-flying bird when it reports that the college it represents is situated on the highest land within the city limits of Philadelphia.

"Notes on How to Keep From Growing Old," reports the Quilqeqe Candie, should always include the following warning: "Always read with locomotives to crossings; engineers like it; it breaks up the monotony of their job. Always pass the car ahead on curves or turns. Don't use your horn; it may untrue the other fellow and cause him to turn out too far. Always demand half the road, the middle half. Insist on your right. Never stop, look, or listen at the railroad crossing, as it consumes time. Always lock your brakes when skidding. It makes the job more artistic. In sloppy weather drive close to pedestrians. Dry cleaners appreciate it. Never look around when you back up. There is never anything from you.

From the Lehigh "Brown and White" we learn that a faculty member at that university is complaining because LEBR workers are being paid 1 cent a minute for working, or 40 cents an hour.

From College Park, Md., we learn that our neighbor, Maryland, has abolished final exams for seniors and that the holding of such exams for undergraduates is made optional with instructors. The idea behind the move seems to be to shift emphasis for exams, eliminating "cramping," to the maintenance of high scholastic standards all through the year. Our own Hilltop student council, in attempting recently to secure a like innovation here, is evidently moving in a popular direction.

"Two students in finance had just come out of the prof's office where they had just learned the budget. "One said. 'Is that so? Wottoyado?' 'Oh, we go to Idaho,' the other. "It was all your fault that I flunked that quiz. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars paid stock was?" 'Yeah, I remember.' "Well, a 'hella lof isn't the answer.'"—Northeastern News.

The Manhattan "Quadrangle" amuses with this bit: "I would like to enumerate six little things which you should not say to the one-and-only when you take him out: 1. 'Girl, aren't you dressed up?' 2. 'Why, you look so good, I didn't recognize you.' 3. 'Mother used to have the prettiest dress just like that.' 4. 'How do you manage for the rent?' 5. 'You look like some one I've met but it didn't make much impression; I can't think who it was.' 6. 'I see you washed your hair.'"

SHORT STORY

"Three Southern California students were stopped on a street yesterday by members of the local constabulary. The last's minions wanted to know what was going on, what they were doing, etc., etc. 'We're waiting for a street car,' they chorused. 'Not new to us, though."—"Daily Trojan."

He tells of the coach who instructed the quarterback to take the receiving end of the line, "Tartan," "is credited to the inebriate who replied, when warned that too much drink− benefited because we hate to be re−

On the subject of punning because we hate to be re−

"Two students in finance had just come out of the prof's office where they had just learned the budget. "One said. 'Is that so? Wottoyado?' 'Oh, we go to Idaho,' the other. "It was all your fault that I flunked that quiz. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars paid stock was?" 'Yeah, I remember.' "Well, a 'hella lof isn't the answer.'"—Northeastern News.

The Manhattan "Quadrangle" amuses with this bit: "I would like to enumerate six little things which you should not say to the one-and-only when you take him out: 1. 'Girl, aren't you dressed up?' 2. 'Why, you look so good, I didn't recognize you.' 3. 'Mother used to have the prettiest dress just like that.' 4. 'How do you manage for the rent?' 5. 'You look like some one I've met but it didn't make much impression; I can't think who it was.' 6. 'I see you washed your hair.'"

SHORT STORY

"Three Southern California students were stopped on a street yesterday by members of the local constabulary. The last's minions wanted to know what was going on, what they were doing, etc., etc. 'We're waiting for a street car,' they chorused. 'Not new to us, though."—"Daily Trojan."

He tells of the coach who instructed the quarterback to take the receiving end of the line, "Tartan," "is credited to the inebriate who replied, when warned that too much drink− benefited because we hate to be re−

On the subject of punning because we hate to be re−

"Two students in finance had just come out of the prof's office where they had just learned the budget. "One said. 'Is that so? Wottoyado?' 'Oh, we go to Idaho,' the other. "It was all your fault that I flunked that quiz. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars paid stock was?" 'Yeah, I remember.' "Well, a 'hella lof isn't the answer.'"—Northeastern News.

The Manhattan "Quadrangle" amuses with this bit: "I would like to enumerate six little things which you should not say to the one-and-only when you take him out: 1. 'Girl, aren't you dressed up?' 2. 'Why, you look so good, I didn't recognize you.' 3. 'Mother used to have the prettiest dress just like that.' 4. 'How do you manage for the rent?' 5. 'You look like some one I've met but it didn't make much impression; I can't think who it was.' 6. 'I see you washed your hair.'"

SHORT STORY

"Three Southern California students were stopped on a street yesterday by members of the local constabulary. The last's minions wanted to know what was going on, what they were doing, etc., etc. 'We're waiting for a street car,' they chorused. 'Not new to us, though."—"Daily Trojan."

He tells of the coach who instructed the quarterback to take the receiving end of the line, "Tartan," "is credited to the inebriate who replied, when warned that too much drink− benefited because we hate to be re−

On the subject of punning because we hate to be re−

"Two students in finance had just come out of the prof's office where they had just learned the budget. "One said. 'Is that so? Wottoyado?' 'Oh, we go to Idaho,' the other. "It was all your fault that I flunked that quiz. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars paid stock was?" 'Yeah, I remember.' "Well, a 'hella lof isn't the answer.'"—Northeastern News.

The Manhattan "Quadrangle" amuses with this bit: "I would like to enumerate six little things which you should not say to the one-and-only when you take him out: 1. 'Girl, aren't you dressed up?' 2. 'Why, you look so good, I didn't recognize you.' 3. 'Mother used to have the prettiest dress just like that.' 4. 'How do you manage for the rent?' 5. 'You look like some one I've met but it didn't make much impression; I can't think who it was.' 6. 'I see you washed your hair.'"

SHORT STORY

"Three Southern California students were stopped on a street yesterday by members of the local constabulary. The last's minions wanted to know what was going on, what they were doing, etc., etc. 'We're waiting for a street car,' they chorused. 'Not new to us, though."—"Daily Trojan."

He tells of the coach who instructed the quarterback to take the receiving end of the line, "Tartan," "is credited to the inebriate who replied, when warned that too much drink− benefited because we hate to be re−

On the subject of punning because we hate to be re−

"Two students in finance had just come out of the prof's office where they had just learned the budget. "One said. 'Is that so? Wottoyado?' 'Oh, we go to Idaho,' the other. "It was all your fault that I flunked that quiz. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars paid stock was?" 'Yeah, I remember.' "Well, a 'hella lof isn't the answer.'"—Northeastern News.

The Manhattan "Quadrangle" amuses with this bit: "I would like to enumerate six little things which you should not say to the one-and-only when you take him out: 1. 'Girl, aren't you dressed up?' 2. 'Why, you look so good, I didn't recognize you.' 3. 'Mother used to have the prettiest dress just like that.' 4. 'How do you manage for the rent?' 5. 'You look like some one I've met but it didn't make much impression; I can't think who it was.' 6. 'I see you washed your hair.'"

SHORT STORY

"Three Southern California students were stopped on a street yesterday by members of the local constabulary. The last's minions wanted to know what was going on, what they were doing, etc., etc. 'We're waiting for a street car,' they chorused. 'Not new to us, though."—"Daily Trojan."

He tells of the coach who instructed the quarterback to take the receiving end of the line, "Tartan," "is credited to the inebriate who replied, when warned that too much drink− benefited because we hate to be re−

On the subject of punning because we hate to be re−

"Two students in finance had just come out of the prof's office where they had just learned the budget. "One said. 'Is that so? Wottoyado?' 'Oh, we go to Idaho,' the other. "It was all your fault that I flunked that quiz. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars paid stock was?" 'Yeah, I remember.' "Well, a 'hella lof isn't the answer.'"—Northeastern News.

The Manhattan "Quadrangle" amuses with this bit: "I would like to enumerate six little things which you should not say to the one-and-only when you take him out: 1. 'Girl, aren't you dressed up?' 2. 'Why, you look so good, I didn't recognize you.' 3. 'Mother used to have the prettiest dress just like that.' 4. 'How do you manage for the rent?' 5. 'You look like some one I've met but it didn't make much impression; I can't think who it was.' 6. 'I see you washed your hair.'"

SHORT STORY

"Three Southern California students were stopped on a street yesterday by members of the local constabulary. The last's minions wanted to know what was going on, what they were doing, etc., etc. 'We're waiting for a street car,' they chorused. 'Not new to us, though."—"Daily Trojan."

He tells of the coach who instructed the quarterback to take the receiving end of the line, "Tartan," "is credited to the inebriate who replied, when warned that too much drink− benefited because we hate to be re−

On the subject of punning because we hate to be re−

"Two students in finance had just come out of the prof's office where they had just learned the budget. "One said. 'Is that so? Wottoyado?' 'Oh, we go to Idaho,' the other. "It was all your fault that I flunked that quiz. Remember when I asked you how much a million dollars paid stock was?" 'Yeah, I remember.' "Well, a 'hella lof isn't the answer.'"—Northeastern News.

The Manhattan "Quadrangle" amuses with this bit: "I would like to enumerate six little things which you should not say to the one-and-only when you take him out: 1. 'Girl, aren't you dressed up?' 2. 'Why, you look so good, I didn't recognize you.' 3. 'Mother used to have the prettiest dress just like that.' 4. 'How do you manage for the rent?' 5. 'You look like some one I've met but it didn't make much impression; I can't think who it was.' 6. 'I see you washed your hair.'"
DR. RAFFA ADDRESSES
G. U. ITALIAN CLUB
Professor of Georgetown Foreign Service School Speaks on "Men of Renaissance"

On Wednesday evening, March 6, 1935, another interesting meeting of the Italian Club was called to order by its capable president, Samuel Castiglione. At this meeting the members and guests of the club participated in a round table discussion under the direction of Dr. Raffa of the School of Foreign Service.

Dr. Raffa, who is both a professor of public speaking and an authority on the NRA, delivered an enlightening talk entitled, "Men of the Renaissance."

Dr. Raffa analyzed the origin of the Renaissance, tracing the origin in Italy, France, and Germany. Having acquainted the audience with the conditions and outlooks of the people of Europe at this time, thus establishing the setting for his characters, he introduced some of the figures who played prominent roles in the development of the arts and sciences, speaking at length upon the versatility of characters such as Leonardo Da Vinci.

After the talk Dr. Raffa answered numerous pertinent questions which were asked by the club members.

The club will hold another meeting shortly at which a talk will be delivered upon "Dante," by an outstanding authority on Dante. Several members are now preparing papers upon the different phases of Italian culture, which will be read at future meetings.

The next meeting of the Italian Club will be held at the home of Professor Caino, the moderator, on the evening of March 27, 1935. Non-members are cordially invited to attend.

ATTENTION COLLEGE STORE!

According to the opinion held by many of the gentry around this institution, a college store is an establishment created for the express purpose of selling sundry and indispensable articles to the students attending that college. We had at Georgetown a college store. But we have watched it slowly, but definitely disintegrate to the mere shadow of its former self, and evolve into a mere book-store selling, as a sideline, articles of jewelry. Now, we don't particularly mind the disappearance of the soda fountain, the paucity of hours which find the store accessible, and the general lack of pristine and age-mellowed atmosphere, but we do want to know, why has the sale of stamps been discontinued? That consideration, at least, should be respected for the poor book-buying student who spends an appreciable enough sum of money to compensate for the "lack of profit" and "bother" so necessarily connected with stamp-selling. It's the folks at home, and others, who suffer eventually, since very few are willing to make a pilgrimage to Sugar's for such an insignificant, yet so vitally important an article as a stamp. Moreover, the cafeteria is equally inconvenient to the isolated inhabitants of Ryan, Maguire, Healy and New North, not only by distance, and by virtue of the 9 o'clock curfew. Thus we issue this call to arms by all red-blooded stamp purchasers to rise, adopting the resounding slogan: "bigger and better stamps at the college store."

Yours for Farley,

A Dismayed Stamp-Licker.
"I'M AN ENGINEER—working on the San Francisco-Oakland Bridge. Before that, six years in the army taught me the value of smoking a Camel when 'below par.' I smoke all the Camels I want, too, without getting jumpynerves. And Camels are mild and gentle to the throat." (Signed) RALPH A. TUDOR

"I'M SPECIALIZING IN HISTORY—French and English history," says Laurence Brewer. "In addition, I have a job in the library for four hours a day, and I also work up data and material for the debating team. I'll tell you—it keeps me going hard. I've got more work than time. When I'm hard pressed, smoking Camels is not only a pleasure—it's a help, too. For when I feel 'fed up' —and it seems as though my energy were all used up— I smoke a Camel and get a lift in energy. Camels have a swell, rich flavor; due, I presume, to the use of choicer tobaccos. I smoke as many as I want to—for Camels don't ruffle my nerves." (Signed) LAURENCE ALFRED BREWER, '37

"EVERY WOMAN prefers a milder cigarette. For years I've been smoking Camels because they are mild—and at the same time have a delightful rich flavor. I know these things don't just happen in a cigarette. There must be a reason, and I think it lies in the fact that Camels use finer tobaccos." (Signed) HELENE BRADSHAW

"Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS — Turkish and Domestic — than any other popular brand." (Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.

MILLIONS MORE FOR YOUR ENJOYMENT!

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!
Home F. Schwagel, Georgetown's successful Director of Publicity.

Varsity Football Coaching Staff. 1, to r., "Mush," Jack and George.

Tracksters who are looking forward to outdoor season.

Backfield candidates in action during Spring Training.

Everybody knows Harry, versatile trainer of Georgetown athletes.
Above—Bill Cagney, Captain of Tennis
Hoya photo.

Upper Center—Ed Hargaden, Captain of Basketball
Tennohert photo.

Below—Joe Lynch, Co-Captain of Golf
Harris & Ewing.

Above—Joe Galvin, Co-Captain of Golf
Harris & Ewing.

Lower Center—Bill Docherty, Captain of Track
Hoya photo.

Below—Joe Saverine, Captain of Baseball
Hoya photo.