ANNUAL RETREAT TO START MONDAY

Fathers Robert S. Lloyd and Charles J. Gallagher Will Conduct Exercises

The big week is coming—actually it isn’t a week, but only three days—are bigger than any days in the life of God and laymen. This is not the big week, which is next week, we have the annual Retreat, regarded as the most vital event in the entire school year. The older students for their experience of other Retreats, know how important this period is. And there is a day by day increasing of the number of students and faculty members in Gaston Hall.

The Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Father John E. Grattan, S.J., Dean of the College, who was assisted by Reverend Charles J. Foley, S.J., and Mr. Taylor J. Deacon and Sub-Deacon.

Plans Presentation

Paul de Kruif Author of Play; Cast Lists Made for "Yellow Jack"

Immediately following the Thanksgiving holidays, the Mask and Bauble Club will present "Yellow Jack" at the varsity play for the 1936-37 dramatic season.

This play, written by Sidney Howard and in collaboration with Father John E. Grattan, is one of the most unusual productions ever seen at the University. The plot deals with the so-called "Yellow Jack" war raging against yellow fever under the leadership of such brilliant minds as Drs. Walter Reed, Carlos Carvalho, Gorgas, Agonmate, and Lazear.

Paul de Kruif, who has had outstanding success in making the subject of medicinal research interesting to the public through such books as "Microbe Hunters," has been equally successful in adding the production of a first-rate acting play, while at the same time remaining true to science and history. The subject of scientific war upon disease, which has gained immense popularity in the movies and on the stage through such productions as "The Life of Louis Pasteur" and "Arrowsmith," is expected to thoroughly appeal to the masses of the Mask and Bauble club.

The setting for the play is to consist of several small sets upon the stage, one of which will constantly serve as the scene of action while the others are being changed. This rapid EXIT (Continued on page 14)

GEORGETOWN MILITARY UNIT TO PARADE MONDAY; TENTATIVE R.O.T.C. APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Father O'Leary to Celebrate Benediction After Address to Assemble

The Georgetown R.O.T.C. unit will participate in the Columbus Day parade of the K of C on Monday evening, October 12. The parade will form at the clubhouse of the K of C, and march to the statue of Columbus at the Union Station Plaza, where the President of Georgetown University, Rev. Arthur A. O'Leary, S.J., will give an address. The parade will proceed to the National Guard Armory, where the address will be given by a representative of the National Guard. The address will be followed by a parade of the R.O.T.C. unit, which will be led by a Color Guard and a Bagpipe band.

The seniors in the corps will be temporarily detailed until October 19, when the first list of appointments will be issued. These appointments will remain until after the Christmas holidays, when a new appointment will be made, the latter to last until Easter, at which time the final appointments will be made. This system of rotation will be followed, in order to give each man an opportunity to display his ability, so that eventually the most qualified will be given the final appointments.

This year the combined branch of the Georgetown infantry unit has been reorganized into the 120th Infantry of the District of Columbia National Guard. At its head is Major John J. McCormick, a graduate of Georgetown.

Sgt. Alexander and Lawler Receive Promotions; Officers’ Uniforms Ordered

The formal inception of the academic year of 1936-1937 was observed by both the members of the faculty and the student body on Monday, September 28. The ceremonies, which lasted throughout the forenoon, consisted of Mass of the Holy Cross, which was celebrated in Dahlgren Chapel, and convocation of students and faculty members in Gaston Hall.

The Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Father John E. Grattan, S.J., Dean of the College, who was assisted by Reverend Charles J. Foley, S.J., and Mr. Taylor J. Deacon and Sub-Deacon.

Medals Awarded

The convocation which was held in Gaston Hall was preceded by Rev. Arthur A. O’Leary, S.J., President of the University, who then prayed, which was given by Fathers Robert S. Lloyd and Charles J. Gallagher, S.J., all awarded to those students who had achieved honors in the 1935-1936 year. The awards were given to students who had distinguished themselves in the previous scholastic year and urged all students to strive to better themselves both intellectually and spiritually during the course of the scholastic year which they were about to enter.

College Purposes

Father O'Leary then outlined the principles of the University which he believed to be the most important purpose of the University which he believed to be the most important purpose of the University. He also explained that the University was to be a place where men might be able to live according to the principles and rules and laws enacted in our first Constitution.

Trainer of Men

Having explained the purpose of the University, Father Rector then pointed out the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University, and the success which had been achieved in realizing the aims of the modern University.
CONCERNING THE NATION
By John H. Rafo, '37

From time immemorial, the student body has taken pride in being the students of a great university. This is not to say that we are a great school. What we mean is that we are students of a great school. It is an admission that we cannot function without the facilities and resources provided by the university. It is a recognition that our achievements are a direct result of the university's efforts to provide us with the best possible education.

But what of the university itself? Is it not a reflection of the values and aspirations of its students? Is it not a testament to the spirit of cooperation and selflessness that we hold dear? Is it not a symbol of the strength and unity that we seek to embody?

We must not forget that the university is not merely a collection of buildings and resources. It is a community, a family, a family of students dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge. And it is this community that we must strive to uphold and strengthen.

So let us not be satisfied with merely being students of a great school. Let us strive to be the best students we can be, and in doing so, help to shape the university into the institution that we all aspire to be part of.

And so we begin. We wait for the inevitable tide of criticism, and we are ready. For in the present issue you see the result of the hard work and dedication of our staff. These are lofty aspirations despite their apparent simplicity. They require us to give the utmost cooperation at all times. And yet we will succeed, for we are the Georgetown community.}

PLEA FOR SPIRIT

The returning members of the Sophomore Class greeted the new freshmen with the usual loud cries and not much else. The hazing which has long been the tradition at Georgetown seems to be badly lacking. Sophomores are forbidden to raise their voices to the freshmen at any time except for the 25-minute period in the evening and "duck-walking has disappeared completely. There is no longer any sign of freshmen bowing obeisance to the all-powerful sophomores and snapping up all of the last minute's items before they have ceased to exist for the freshmen. For this unhappy state of affairs the sophomores are not to blame. They are doing everything allowed them by the authorities and it is the authorities whom we would ask for an explanation.

We have no doubt that the reasons which prompted them in effect to eliminate hazing were very worthy ones but we ask them to consider the other side of the question. Are the returning members of the Sophomore Class giving up their rights? Is it not essential that absolute unity is achieved in this matter? Are the freshmen content with the situation? Is the hazing caused by the Sophomore Class? Is not the hazing caused by the Freshman Class? Are there any signs of hazing in the Sophomore Class? Is the Freshman Class content with the situation?

New Cover and More Illustrations to Be Features of Magazine

The Georgetown College Journal, one of the oldest and yet most modern institutions of Georgetown University, announces its sixty-fifth year of publication as it goes to press each fall. This year, the alumni will have a larger decorative display of student life. Georgetown College is recognized in the fourth annual meeting of the senior class, at which time this historic publication has featured since 1870. During the seventy-five years of its existence, it has carried a news items which are replete with the activities of the College, the formality of the eighteenth, the spirit of the twenties, and the crescendo of the post-war college spirit, and on to the present with a monthly array of the finest of literary achievements in art and literary matters.

New Deal
This year is to bring about a "New Deal" in the Journal. The editor of the new feature will be a new cover as yet not decided upon, but will be one to carry as the best of the men who have used it in previous years. Probably the best of the men's ideas is in the amount of illustrations to be used during the coming year. It is expected that the Journal will be a kind of a fairy tale, a romance of the College, a story of the history of the institution, and a description of the Journal's progress since it was first appointed a new faculty moderator.

Hoya Collegians, Under Direction of Samuel Castigliano, Play for Affair—Hundred Couples in Attendance—Peter J. Brennan Chairman of Committee

Last Friday, under the auspices of the Senior Class, the members of the Freshman Class were introduced to the lovely ladies of the University and Immaculata. One might apply say that the Class of '40 made their debut into the social whirl of the Nation's Capital. The some of this annual affair was the Brent Copley Lounge, and the music was furnished by the "King of Swing" Sam, and his "Collegians." Promptly at 4 P.M. the Freshmen assembled, and with smooth lines and finesse of the Class, some 200 strong, was herded into the Quadrangle for the so-called "Meet of the Newcomers," as it is generally called.

POWERFUL HOYA TEAM CRUSHES DELAWARE

Hilltoppers Favored to Tame Bearcats

Hoyas Await Hard Battle—Hoya Eleven Shows Power

Having humiliated Delaware in a most convincing manner Georgetown confidently turns its gaze toward a game which was prior to their engagement with the University of Cincinnati to be played on the greenwound of Soldier Stadium in Cincinnati on Saturday evening. The game was to be played on Saturday evening, under the finest lighting system in the country according to all notices received. This by no means will be a novel experiment for the boys from the banks of the Ohio, having inaugurated their sea son in this manner when they met the Michigan team on the banks of Virgina. Neither will it be the first time that the Hoyas and Eagles will have played after dark, nine of the eleven starting line-up years in the night game against Albright.

Notable Coaches

The Bearcats, as they are known to their ardent followers, are coached by Russ Cohen, who was a favorite of Southern football fans previous to his graduation from Virginia University in 1914. The task of coaching the team is handled by Tom Brown, the All-American tackle from the University of Southern California in 1932, who for three years, with his teammates, Eric Smith, formed what was possibly the best tackle combination on the Pacific Coast.

Last year the Red and Black had a very successful season, winning seven and losing two, tying for first honors in the Big Eight conference. The team was coached by John Mulligan, who was succeeded by Jack Hagerty's "G" men. Supporting Gant in the forward will be the experienced Tackleton (27) of the Bulldogs, the former All-American mentor.

Schooled in line play by their renowned former director, who was forced to resign last January when his graduation from Vanderbilt University in 1930, the Hoyas go to work in this manner when they met the Michigan team on the banks of Virginia. The Hoyas and Eagles will meet under the lights of the stadium at 2:30, Saturday, the Hoyas expected to have the upper hand.

Fifteen Men Answer

The Hoyas are favored in this contest, the Hoyas having scored 29.5 points to 20.5 of the Bearcats in the first four games of the season. The Hoyas have scored touchdowns on three of the first four occasions while the Bearcats have scored on two of the first four occasions. The Hoyas are expected to win this game easily.

Hilltoppers Score Smashing Victory Over Opponents in Opener, 39-0

Visitors Unable to Cope With Georgetown's Superior Power—Ferrers, Moulin, Keating Shines on Defense—Line Play a Feature

Georgetown opened its 1936 football season in grand style last Saturday at Stadium when it completely overpowered Delaware's scrappy representatives by the score of 39-0. The Hoyas opened the game with a touchdown and while the game was over before the half, the Hoyas scored on the second half to assert a 6-0 lead. Ferrers displayed his characteristic style in the first half with a series of long passes in the first half. Ferrers, Moulin, Keating and Barabas played brilliantly in the Hoyas backfield, and Sprayer, Straka, Hardy and Moulin played an effective and defensive line play.

Early Score

Payne kicked off for Delaware, and Vaught returned the ball 33 yards before the Hoyas scored their first touchdown. Payne kicked off for the extra point, but the Hoyas scored on a pass from Ferrers to Moulin, and the Hoyas led 6-0. Later in the first quarter, Ferrers displayed his characteristic style in the first half with a series of long passes in the first half. Ferrers, Moulin, Keating and Barabas played brilliantly in the Hoyas backfield, and Sprayer, Straka, Hardy and Moulin played an effective and defensive line play.

INTRAMURALS EXCITE GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Successful Year in View as New Interests Arise—New Director

Georgetown University's 1936 intramural season opened under full swing today. The list was picked open last Saturday on the intramural field when six teams engaged in the first tussles of the year and made surprisingly good showings, in spite of the fact that most of the teams were unseasoned. Ferrers, Moulin, Keating and Barabas played brilliantly in the Hoyas backfield, and Sprayer, Straka, Hardy and Moulin played an effective and defensive line play.

In the opening whistle blew for the first time, there was a lot of talk about the future of Georgetown. This year, when the team took the field, there were high hopes. Thousands of Georgetowners had been a fullback for the Hoyas for the past three years, and now, with the departure of the previous star, the team was looking for a new leader.

As is the case with most mortals, even those who have been born, each life is but a dream. There is a case with William Duff, of course. Who will be the next man to take over his place? Another one on the Hoyas? Or will the next man be a new man altogether?

Athlete and Scholar

Under the auspices of Coach Bill Schofield, former Connecticut State, the Hoyas have been both athletically and academically successful. During the course of his senior year, he was regular replacement on the Hoyas relay team. But what about the future? Who will take his place? The answer is in the hands of the fans. Bill Schofield, former Connecticut State, will be a tremendous success.

Formation and Hand Work

The Hoyas have been a model of formation and hand work. They have been known as a team that can handle the ball and make good yardage, and they have continued to do so. The Hoyas have been known for their strong blocking and running, powerful line work, and a pretty fair passing attack, a thing which Georgetown has not had for some time, all helped in the final outcome of the game. For the Hoyas was a big dinner, but a little unacceptable for football. The Hoyas did not seem to bother the Hoyas, as the final score seemed to indicate, and wholesale substitutions helped the Hoyas.

Once again Ye Olde Prognosticator is back on the job trying his hand at picking the weekly games. This week we have a tough job to start with such as Army-Columbia, Dartmouth-Holy Cross and many others too numerous to mention, so let's get down to business. I'm going into my trance, wait, I have it and the first one is Georgetown over Cincinnati, due to the excellent showing of the Hoyas in last week's opener. Russ Cohen's boys are not to be underestimated though, and the Bearcats should give the Hoyas plenty of opposition.

Brown-Harvard. Old John Harvard should romp over an up and coming though inexperienced Brown Bear. Our friend and ex-neighbor at last has some workable material.

Bucknell-Miami (Fla.). Here is an interesting game for "G" men to watch with two future opponents locking horns. We pick Bucknell due to its early season form.

Army-Columbia. This is a tough one. (Time out till I toss a coin.) Heads it is so I'll say Columbia winning over the Mules by a close score.

Dartmouth-Holy Cross. Another brain twister but we pick Dartmouth brains over Holy Cross brawn. (I think my Psyc for that one.) The Indians are definitely headed for greater heights and should stop the Crusaders as they stopped Yale in last season's upset.

Syracuse-Baldwin Wallace. Here is one to boost our average, in spite of Marc Hellinger's choice, we choose the Orange Bowl champions over the Crusaders. The Orange Bowl champs looked plenty strong in their opener.

Fordham-Southern Methodist. Another close one with plenty to choose from on both sides. As A1 Smith would say, "Let's look at the records." We pick the Mustangs, last year's Rose Bowl entry over the East's strongest, (Another zip in Psyc) with the winner my choice for a Bowl bid this year.

Manhattan-No. Carolina. Another close one with N. C. a slight favorite over our arch rivals from the Big Town. Hank Anderson's boys should outfight an over-publicized Jasper team.

N. Y. U.-Penn Military. We pick the shrinking Violets to average their devastating defeat at the hands of Ohio State last week. They came out of a tough battle with few injuries and P. M. C. should feel the force of their fury.

Maryland-No. Carolina. The old timers to go down with their hats on their shoulders. With Bill Guykeson out of the lineup the Tarheels should find it pretty easy picking. This one is also of great interest to the Hoya fans.

Ohio State-Pittsburgh. (Don't say I didn't tell you.) By far the toughest one to pick, on a strong hunch, yours truly leaves you for the week, by picking, the Pitt Panthers in an upset over the Buckeyes in spite of Ohio's one-sided victory over N. Y. U. We may lose our job for this one but if not we'll be back next week with some more hot choices.

RENEW NON-RESIDENT SODALITY COMMITTEE

Monsignor Agnew and Gartner Discuss Sanctity and Apostolic Committe

Immediately after Convocation on last Monday, the non-resident branch of Our Lady's Sodality was reorganized for the coming year.

Mr. Samuel Agnew, the prefect opened the session before the representative body in Copley Lounge. He proceeded to give a brief history of the Sodality, stressing Georgetown's renowned position as being the first American home of the Sodality. A succinct description of the various committees and the demands they make on their members was given by assistant prefect, Mr. Harford Gartner. He made a special point of the Apostolic Committee which, last year, did such fine work in the nearby parish of Anacostia.

Father McDonough, the spirit director and head of the Sodality organization here at Georgetown for the past several years, in turn spoke of the merits of the Sodality, both in encouraging personal sanctity and in doing good works for the benefit and edification of others. He pointed out the need to a literature committee to produce, as well as distribute, good Catholic literature. However, he left it to the members as to whether or not they could arrange and carry out the work of such an undertaking.

The prefect reviewed briefly the policies of the Sodality for the benefit of the freshmen and other newcomers, and urged all to take an active part in the Sodality. In the past, the poor families were the beneficiaries, but they'll soon learn that it does not pay. Our having the Freshman Class is simply carrying on a tradition—there are absolutely no personal issues involved. The idea is to make the prep school heroes forget the big shot stuff—everyone here at Georgetown is treated as an equal.

from the center which took the Healy backfield man too long to get to cover the ball. Healy had to kick on the fourth. Ryan-Maguire also was forced to kick after three downs of no gain, then giving up a pass to Corbitt. Healy, who might have scored, but he was brought back on a penalty. With no gain on the record, Oehler intercepted a pass from Duffy. Gain ing five yards by a short pass on the right, Ryan-Maguire turned and passed, on the second, when it was knocked down. They lost the regu lar down on the six. Healy got no where on their third, and they lost the ball by an interception on the second.

Touchdown Pass

Oehler first threw a long pass to Hogan who took it on the five. They gained over the goal line to score a touchdown. Ryan-Maguire kicked off and after there was an exchange of passes back and forth, for two touchdowns with no scoring. Healy tried his best to get a touchdown, but in the game ended with the score 6-0 in favor of the Georgetown Sophomores.

JESUITS ISSUE PLEA FOR USED STAMPS

Collected by Georgetown Students Help Support Foreign Missions

Out from the Mission Stamp Exchange in Woodstock, Md comes a hearty note of thanks to Georgetown students for their contributions of cancelled stamps for the Foreign Missions during the past year.

"Are you still working with us and for us," they ask. "The summer order has not interfered with our program, for we are still keeping 'on the go.' Of course, the Mission Stamp Exchange is quite confident that you, too, have not lost any of your zeal in this campaign of collecting stamps for the Missions in the Philippine Islands. We can’t fail to acknowledge last year’s splendid cooperation with hearty thanks. The outcome of our drive was very pleasing, no wonder, then, the future, depending on you, promises so much."

Bill receives his L.L.B. from G. U. this year and hopes to practice law amo the scene of his former triumphs, Waterleigh Courts. And if you know Bill Duffy, you know he’ll succeed.

It will be of interest to the old students, as well as to the newcomers, to know that the Georgetown-Fordham football game will be reported on the Georgetown University Gridgraph.

The Gridgraph is operated by means of direct wire to the side-linen at Cincinnati. The board is arranged in such a way that a light designates the play being executed.

The game is slated to be played on Saturday, October 10. Admission will be 25 cents.

SOFT BALL (Continued from page 5) pan with a beautiful swing-drive. The stage was all set for DeMar, and being a former Dumbarton artiste, the latter did not fail his calling as he hit the first ball pitched far over the left gardener’s sky-pace for what might have been a home run had DeMar chosen to run it out. Cannon home was leading the winning run and all was well.

In justice to the Fresh it must be said that they put up a great front and had the Seniors plenty scared all the way. Also the Seniors must be commended for the way they fought back and for their superb fielding. DeMar was making his first start of the year and needed this splendid support. He was well-handled by "Shoeless" McLaughlin, ancient catcher, who was equipped with Tommy McManus for his 100th debut by kind teammates.

STUDENT COLLECTION BENEFITS MISSION

Gifts Enable Fr. Daly to Expand—Sends Personal Thanks to All

Away off in the Philippines Islands the name of Georgetown and Georgetown-Daly comes a Missionary. The grateful superior of our adopted mission in Toilaplog, Rev. David A. Daly, S.J., sends an earnest expression of thanks for our generous aid. "You check for $430.58," he writes, "reached me. I am indeed deeply grateful to the students of Georgetown for this generous amount. Would that I could tell you all that it meant to me. I have three more teachers this year than I had last year and when I made up my pay roll for the first month and realized how much more I would have to pay out this year for salaries I began to get worried. How would I ever make ends meet? But when your gift came and the whole outlook took on a different aspect. That is why I said that I could tell you all that it meant to me."

Many Difficulties

"One of our big tasks these days is to make the people Ecclesiasticos Congress-minded, that is a big task, but the new Catholic papers of which I am now writing are helping very much. It is very strange that our mission reaches only a small per cent of the people. In the United States our English which has been taught in the schools for over 50 years, so that it is a large number of people that have to learn to speak the language and learn English. Even with four papers there are large groups still untouched. It is another difficulty amongst which we labor."

"When the Georgetown men return to classes, please tell them that I am deeply grateful to them for their continued generosity to this Mission and its Missionary. Tell them also that in return I pray for them every day, and shall continue to do so that God may bless them and reward them for their self-sacrificing zeal."

Earlier in the year a contribution of $252.25 had been forwarded to Father Daly and gratefully acknowledged by him. The total for the year was, therefore, $1,625 and this was an increase of $145.01 over our contribution of the previous year. This donation is made up of the collections at the Sunday Masses and our Miss-Box collections during Lent. In addition to money contributions the cancelled stamps sent to the Woodstock Stamp Exchange through the Sodality gets a goodly sum for the Foreign Missions.

F. S. DEBATE SOCIETY
PLANS REORGANIZATION
Plans Made for Revision of Society's Constitution—Schedu­le for Debates Tentative

Many enthusiastic candidates for membership in the Walash Debating Society, of the Foreign Service School, additions to old members, attended an organization meeting held in the Philological Room, Thursday evening. Mr. Frank T. and Mr. L. Macauley presided.

A plan for revision of the society's constitution was discussed. Prior to last year, debates other than intramural were not sanctioned. The Walash De­bating Team entered the inter-collegiate field last spring and earned victories over delating teams representing Maryland, Virginia and Franklin and Marshall. They also participated in radio debates locally and as Virginia.

The chairman, in his remarks, ex­pressed the hope that the society would have a successful season in the exten­sion of its work and that all the members would co-operate to further the reputation of the society.

Society's Aim
Mr. Macauley said that the commit­tee of five to which the business is re­ferred will spend several months in research, analyzing all the society's previous mat­erial. He reminded the group that the aim of the society was not only to produce competent, well-informed de­bating teams, but to develop eloquent speakers among its members.

WATER PIPES WERE BIG THINGS

The play opens in the year 1929 and subsequently shifts back to 1900, from which point the events leading up to the opening are portrayed. The climax occurs in 1929 when a serum for the fever is perfected by means of experiments on the Indian rheumatic monkey. This monkey was discovered after years of search for some animal other than man which is subject to the deadly disease caused by the bite of the mosquito.

The part of Walter Reed is being taken by Frank Miller, president of the Mask and Bauble Club. There is no distinct leading part, but the roles of Reed and the four other heroic doctors are among the most prominent. Dr. Agramonte is being played by Alfred Hoyland, '39; Dr. Lazaeri is portrayed by Miles McCahill, '39; James McDonough, '39; plays Dr. Goran; and Daniel Joseph O'Donnell, Jr., of Chicago, Ill., plays Dr. Carol.

With Camels, mealtime is more pleasant—digestion is stimulated—alkalinity increased

In our busy lives, mealtime is apt to catch us at a disadvantage. We're often under nervous tension and physical strain. As a result, the free flow of digestive fluids is slowed down. How quickly Camels change this. For when you enjoy Camels the digestive fluids are gently and naturally restored to fuller flow. Alkalinity is increased. Time and again, physiological laboratories have checked this welcome effect of smoking Camels.

Camels are mild—you can enjoy them any time. They never jangle your nerves. Camels set you right!
