Prologue:

In the twentieth year of his reign as King of England, William the Conqueror commanded a minute and searching inquiry into his land and its people. So impressive was the thoroughness of this inquest, that his subjects deemed it comparable to the day of their final judgement—the "domesday." Thus came the survey's public record to be known as the "Domesday Booke." Since 1908, a modern-day version of this chronicle, Ye Domesday Booke, has related the deeds and details not of a kingdom's populace, but a university's...

In the Spring of 1788 John Carroll declared, “We shall begin the building of our Academy this summer ... on one of the most lovely situations that imagination can frame.” In the interim two centuries, his Academy has been expanded, transformed and refined. Today, Carroll continues to look over Healy Circle with quiet pride and approval. And justly so, for he is constantly surrounded by magnificent structures and magnificent minds.

The Washington skyline of 1999 would be unrecognizable to our founder – what with a new cathedral, towering monuments and, of course, hundreds of buildings where there used to be only uninterrupted greenery. Yet, the University that he established still daily inspires awe in those who see its spires for the first time – and even in those who have caught the sight a million times before.

Georgetown forever
In the twentieth year of his reign as King of England, William the Conqueror commanded a minute and searching inquiry into his land and his people. So impressive was the thoroughness of this inquest, that his subjects deemed it comparable to the day of their final judgement—the "domesday." Since 1908, a modern-day version of this chronicle, Ye Domesday Booke, has related the deeds and details not of a kingdom’s populace, but a university’s ...
"Time goes by so fast, people go in and out of your life. You must never miss the opportunity to tell these people how much they mean to you."

- "Cheers"
Reach out and touch a life.
Make somebody’s fairy tale come true.
Why? Because you know how.
No cameras. No medals.
Just hearts and minds connecting.
In a silent moment
To make us all proud.
“To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a little better; whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is the meaning of success.”

-Ralph Waldo Emerson
Were you on the bus that missed the turn off? Raw oysters anyone? Did you starve while waiting for the real food? Miniature golf much? Did you square dance? Did you get annoyed when we couldn't do the 1999 on the grassy hill? Did you go on the hay ride? Did you have to walk across the Key Bridge because your bus couldn't make it up the off-ramp? Or did the brakes go out on your bus on the way back to campus?

The Women of GUST 1998-99:

Lenaya Miller,
MSB '01, Captain

Shahidah Bilal,
CAS '00, Co-Captain
The Georgetown University Step Team was founded on January 29, 1995, to build unity and school spirit through the performing art of stepping. GUST has appeared in Late Night at Leavy, Star Search, the University at Buffalo Step Troupe's Step Extravaganza, and GUST's very own 1998 Fall Show, which highlighted numerous teams from the metropolitan area. GUST is dedicated to utilizing the ancient African tradition of stepping to ensure that Georgetown lives forever.

Filipinos are well known for their "stick dance," the Tinikling. It symbolizes two birds showing their agility by flying in and out of a trap without getting caught.
The BHANA Barbecue

62 Student Life
For many Hoyas, the BHANA Barbecue was a great opportunity for students of color from all classes to come together in a friendly, family atmosphere. Sponsored by the Center for Minority Educational Affairs, this first BHANA (Black, Hispanic, Asian, and Native American) Barbecue was formerly hosted by Campus Ministries as the African-American Barbecue.
Although few tears were shed, the BHANA was a bittersweet occasion as Seniors of color said their farewells to the underclassmen who had looked up to them for so long, from both afar and up close. Who could forget the many leaders that would be graduating, including past presidents of clubs, resident assistants, and GUSA representatives?

Man Versus Nature
Whether you've been studying abroad for the year, or you just went to Cancun for Spring Break, Hoyas like to travel. In fact, 50% of students end up traveling abroad to study at some point in their four years here. And for those of us who spend all four years in Washington, that certainly doesn't mean we didn't get out some. You went skiing in Vermont for Christmas, you drove to Florida for Spring Break, you visited your roommate in New Jersey for Easter. Wherever we went, we had a blast going there!

Affectionately referred to as “The Rot,” “The Caf,” “Mari-Rot,” etc., you either loved or hated the Marriott Dining Services - the vast majority of us hated it. Remember signing up for the 14-meal a week, or Carte Blanche freshman year, then moving down to block meal plans the next semester? Or did you just cancel your meal plan altogether? While the quality of the food was hit or miss, many of us will remember meals in New South and “Darn-hell.” The class of 99 gives props to the staff who worked hard putting food on our tables, especially Darnall’s ever-popular Kathy.

“Out of the night that covers me
Black as a pit from pole to pole
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul . . .”

From Invictus
William E. Henley
Larger than life, far more than a coach, a mentor, a father figure, a teacher, an educator, a challenge, a contradiction. It was not always easy to be a Georgetown Basketball fan for the last 27 years. The discussions were never just about basketball, they were about John Thompson. Consequently they were about basketball, education, race, controversy. John Thompson inspired these discussions, he provoked them, he welcomed them. He never wanted it to be easy.

The basketball speaks for itself; whether it be overall wins (596-239) post season appearances (24 consecutive), graduation rate (97% - 76 of 78 students who stayed four years) or players drafted by the NBA (26). His teams have won; won the 1984 National Championship, appeared in three Final Fours and played in 20 NCAA Tournaments. He was named “Coach of the Year” seven times. He coached the 1988 US Men’s Basketball Olympic Team and in 1999 was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

John Thompson’s 27 years at Georgetown were much more than basketball. They were about “proposition 42” and bringing issues of economic and educational discrimination to the forefront. They were about academics and the belief that education was as important as playing basketball. They were about discipline, and equality, and loyalty, and determination. They were about using the attention that came from Georgetown Basketball to rouse discussions on the tough subjects.

No, it wasn’t always easy to be a Georgetown Basketball fan. It was maddening and frustrating and challenging. But it was always interesting.

The End of An Era
Passing the Torch
"The more things change, the more they stay the same", could have been the motto for the Hoyas’ 1998-99 season. The change was one of the biggest a team can experience, as John Thompson stepped down in January after serving as head coach at Georgetown for the past 27 years. Thompson was then inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in June. Thompson’s long-time assistant, Craig Esherick, took over the coaching duties on January 8. Esherick immediately showed that both his promotion was the right decision, and that the Georgetown tradition would live on as the Hoyas defeated Providence 75-70 on January 9, for his first collegiate win.
On January 9, 1999, with John Thompson's resignation and Esherick, a former player under Thompson now at the helm, the Hoyas were determined to keep their postseason streak alive. After a tough stretch in which Georgetown lost five out of six games by a combined 15 points, including a seven-point loss to the eventual national champion Connecticut, the Hoyas rebounded to win six of their next nine to earn a bid to the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). The NIT berth marked the 25th-consecutive year that Georgetown has advanced to postseason play. Georgetown clinched the NIT bid after defeating Providence in the first round of the BIG EAST Tournament, before falling to second-seeded Miami in the quarterfinals. The Hoyas lost at Princeton in the first round of the NIT.

Individually, a pair of first-year players led the Hoyas, as backcourt mates sophomore Anthony Perry and freshman Kevin Braswell paced the team in scoring with 14.0 and 13.5 points per game, respectively. Perry added 4.7 rebounds per game, while Braswell averaged 4.5 assists and 2.7 steals. Additionally, both players were named to the 1999 BIG EAST All-Rookie Team. Sophomore guard/forward Nat Burton joined Perry and Braswell in averaging double figures with 11.4 points per game. Senior forward Jameel Watkins led the team in rebounding with 7.2 boards per game, to go along with 7.8 points per outing. Sophomore center Ruben Boumtje Boumtje was a dominating defensive force inside in his first full year for Georgetown. Boumtje Boumtje led the team with 2.9 blocks per game and was right behind Watkins in rebounding with 7.0 per contest, along with 8.5 points per game.

The women's basketball program at Georgetown, a scholarship, national program which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, dates back to 1970 and the Hoyas have posted an overall record of 342-337 (.504). In the 1992-93 season, the Hoyas had their finest campaign, tying for the BIG EAST regular season title and making a run into the "Sweet 16" of the NCAA Tournament, their first-ever appearance in postseason play. Six former Hoyas have played professionally overseas after graduation. Head Coach Patrick Knapp is in his 14th season at the helm of the program.

The women's basketball team had an impressive 1998-99 season as it finished with an 18-12 overall record and a 10-8 mark in the extremely competitive BIG EAST Conference. Georgetown earned a bid to the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT), marking the Hoyas' second postseason appearance in the history of the basketball program. By winning 18 games in 1998-99, Georgetown doubled its win total... from the previous year, and in doing so, achieved the biggest single season turnaround in school history.

Georgetown won seven of its last nine regular season games to put itself in a position to gain a postseason berth. GU closed the regular season with a win over Villanova to secure the fifth seed in the BIG EAST Championship. The Hoyas defeated Pittsburgh and Boston College before falling to Connecticut in the BIG EAST semifinals, but received a bid to the WNIT by virtue of their late-season performance. Georgetown's season came to an end with an 86-73 loss to Siena in the first round of the WNIT.

Baseball at Georgetown, a non-scholarship, local sport which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, dates back to 1870 and an organized team from the Hilltop has represented the institution every year save three since 1874. Baseball representatives in the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame number 26 athletes. Pete Wilk is beginning his first season as head coach after serving as assistant coach for two seasons.

The Hoyas concluded the 1999 season with an 18-34 record and an 11th place finish in the BIG EAST with a 2-24 mark. Leading the Hoyas were a trio of seniors. Shortstop Jeremy Horowitz turned in the best performance of his career, as he led the team with a .345 batting average and finished among the top four on the team in slugging percentage (.437), runs scored (26), hits (49), doubles (10), and total bases (62). Left fielder Sean Mignogna leaves Georgetown as the school's record holder for career triples with 18, after tallying three during his senior year. Mignogna finished the year with a .303 batting average and led GU in hits (54), RBI (36), doubles (17), triples (3), and tied for total bases (77). Left-hander pitcher Derek Pines tied for the team lead with four wins on the mound, while pitching a team-high 88.1 innings. Pines also led the Hoyas with 52 strikeouts.

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S CREW
A program rich in tradition, men’s crew at Georgetown dates back to 1958, while the women have competed since 1978. Crew, for both men and women, is a non-scholarship, regional sport. Tony Johnson is in his 10th year as head coach for the crew program.

The men’s and women’s crews participated in five events during the fall. The 18th Annual Charlie Butt Scullers’ Head of the Potomac on September 26, was the most successful regatta of the fall season for Georgetown, as it posted one first place and five second-place finishes, with Chris Walters winning the Men’s Novice Single. The team finished the fall at the Belly of the Carnegie in Princeton, N.J., on November 15, placing seventh in the team competition.

In the spring campaign, Georgetown competed at the 12th Annual George Washington Invitational Crew Classic on April 10, on the Potomac River. For the second-consecutive year the Hoyas placed second at the Invitational with 81 points. The men led the way, placing first in the varsity lightweight eight, second varsity lightweight eight, and novice eight. The women’s varsity lightweight four also posted a first-place finish.

GU hosted the Georgetown Invitational for BIG EAST Schools on April 25, winning the Don D. Cadle Points Trophy for the sixth-consecutive year, with 70 points. The women were victorious in the varsity lightweight four, the varsity lightweight eight, and the frosh/novice eight, while the men won the varsity lightweight eight, the frosh/novice eight, the second frosh/novice eight, and varsity four races.

The Hoya women scored 17 points to finish 15th at the Eastern Association of Women’s Rowing Colleges (EAWRC) Championship on May 16. First-place finishes by the lightweight four and the novice petite four were the highlights for GU at the EAWRC. The men finished their season at the Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) Championship on May 27-29. The Hoyas were led by the varsity four without coxswain, which won the petite final to claim seventh overall.

FIELD HOCKEY

274 Sports
The field hockey program at GU, which is a non-scholarship, local sport, dates back to 1960 and the teams have combined for a 130-154-21 record over the past 38 years. Georgetown will begin the 1999 season under the direction of first-year Head Coach Laurie Carroll.

Georgetown's field hockey team had a solid 1998 season, finishing with a 7-8 overall record and a 6-1 mark at home on Kehoe Field under the direction of former Head Coach Kim Simons. The Hoyas played against several well seasoned squads such as third-ranked Princeton, Massachusetts, 16th-ranked American, and sixth-ranked Virginia. Sophomore midfielder/forward Caitlin McLean and senior goalie Lori Sousa were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) Division I National Academic Squad, while senior Abigail Walker picked up Mid-Atlantic Region All-American Second Team honors.

Georgetown was led in scoring by sophomore midfielder Sarah Oglesby, who posted eight goals and one assist for 17 points. McLean scored seven goals for 14 points on the season. McLean had one of her best games at home against Rider as she led the Hoyas with three goals for her first career hat trick. Junior Lori Fogliano scored four goals and added two assists for 10 points to round out the Hoyas' double-digit scorers. The GU defense was led by seniors Lori Sousa, Beth Doty and Walker. Walker led the 1998 squad with five defensive saves and contributed four assists. Doty managed to knock in a goal and provide five assists for seven points. Sousa played a total of 1068 minutes in goal and rejected 149 shots and allowed only 34 goals for a .814 saves percentage and a 2.23 goals against average. She was 14th in Division I in saves and 17th in saves percentage. Sousa recorded shutouts against Rider and William & Mary.
The 1998-1999 Football Roster
The football team had an outstanding 1998 season as it posted a 9-2 overall record and a 6-1 mark in the MAAC. The nine wins equaled the school record for victories in a season, last accomplished in 1925. Included in the nine wins was a dramatic 13-12 victory over Holy Cross in the Hoyas' Homecoming game. The Hoyas finished second in the MAAC with their 6-1 record and have posted a 20-2 record in the league over the last three seasons. Head Coach Bob Benson, entering his seventh season at the helm of the program, was named the 1998 Spalding/MAAC Co-Coach of the Year. Benson was the 1997 Spalding/MAAC Coach of the Year as well. Georgetown had a total of 11 players earn All-MAAC accolades, including five First Team selections. Senior free safety Anthony Bartolomeo was selected to the 1998 ECAC Football Division I All-Star Second Team. In addition, eight players were recognized for their accomplishments by being named to Don Hansen’s National Weekly Football Gazette’s Non-Scholarship I-AA All-American Teams, including three First Team picks.

Academically, the Hoyas had four juniors, defensive back Jim Gallagher, running back Rob Belli, tight end Bill Rutkoske and defensive end John Cupps earn GTE District II Academic All-America honors. Gallagher and Belli were named to the First Team, while Rutkoske and Cupps earned Second Team accolades. In addition, Georgetown had six players named to the 1998 MAAC Academic All-Star Team. Joining the four GTE Academic All-Americans on the MAAC All-Academic squad were senior running back Aquil Stinson and sophomore strong safety Ryan O’Donoghue.

The Hoyas were led by the play of junior quarterback J.J. Mont who established numerous school records in 1998. On the season, he completed 191 of 367 passes for 2,712 yards and 26 touchdowns, all of which are single-season records. Mont set a single-game school record by passing for 401 yards in a 34-0 win over Iona on November 7. Mont had several reliable receivers to throw to, including sophomore Gharun Hester and senior Matt Mattimore. The duo combined for 104 receptions for 1,725 yards and 18 touchdowns. Hester led the way with 57 catches for 921 yards and 12 TD receptions, one shy of the school record; while Mattimore had 47 catches for 804 yards and six touchdowns despite missing four games. In his final collegiate game, Mattimore had 12 catches for 188 yards and three touchdowns in the loss to Fordham. The catches and TD receptions tied the school record, while his 188 yards receiving was just three yards short of the school record.

The Hoyas defense also had a spectacular season as it led Division I-AA in pass efficiency defense for several weeks and finished third among all 119 Division I-AA teams. Georgetown also ranked among the I-AA leaders in scoring defense and total defense. Bartolomeo and Gallagher both intercepted six passes (.55/game) to tie for 11th in the nation and help GU finish among the nation’s elite in pass efficiency defense.
Golf, a scholarship, regional sport which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, dates back to 1926. In 1997, the golf team made its first trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Under the direction of 15-year Head Coach Tommy Hunter, the men’s golf team had a terrific 1998-99 season. The Hoyas won three tournaments during the year, including two in the fall season. The most impressive win was the BIG EAST Championship, the program’s first conference title. The Hoyas had a pair of freshmen win tournaments as well. Georgetown turned in several outstanding performances late in the spring to put itself in contention for its second-straight NCAA Eastern Regional bid. Unfortunately for the Hoyas, their effort came up just a little short.

Georgetown won its own Hoya Invitational on September 19-20, at Lansdowne Resort with a school record aggregate score of three-under par 573. GU also set a school record for the lowest team score in a single round with a five-under par 283 in the first round. Freshman Andreas Huber earned medalist honors by posting a score of six-under par 138, including a blistering 68 in the opening round. At the 54-hole Kroger Invitational in Mason, Ohio, freshman Tristan Lewis earned medalist honors by posting a five-under par 208. Lewis shot rounds of 68, 70 and 68 to outdistance a very competitive field.

Georgetown capped off the fall season by winning the 1998 BIG EAST Championship. The Hoyas won the tournament with a team score of 614. GU had earned runner-up honors 10 times before winning its first Conference title. In addition, Huber won the individual title, his second of the season, by shooting rounds of 69 and 72 for a total score of 141. Huber’s 69 in the opening round tied the BIG EAST Championship record while his stroke total of 141 also tied the BIG EAST mark.

Georgetown opened the spring season by placing 22nd at the Pepsi Intercollegiate, hosted by East Carolina, at Bradford Creek Golf Club on March 19-20, and seventh at the William & Mary Kiskiack Invitational on March 29-30. On April 10-11, Georgetown tied for ninth at the 23-team Navy Spring Invitational. The Hoyas then turned in an impressive third-place finish at the Temple Invitational at Wyncote Country Club on April 16-17. Georgetown built upon its Temple Invitational performance by winning the Princeton Invitational at Springdale Golf Club on April 23-24. Including the fall season, the win was the Hoyas’ third of the 1998-99 campaign. On April 30-May 1, at the Rutherford Intercollegiate at the Penn State Blue Course, the Hoyas got off to a hot start by shooting an even-par 288 in the first round and were tied with Navy for first place at 585 after two rounds. Georgetown and Navy slipped to a fifth-place tie in the tournament after shooting 300 in the third and final round of the tourney.

Men's lacrosse, a scholarship, national-level sport at Georgetown, was a club sport from 1963 through 1969, before making the jump to NCAA Division I in 1970. The Hoyas went through a period of development, never posting a winning season before Dave Urick took the helm in the summer of 1989. Urick has led the Hoyas to a 93-42 record (.689) in the past 10 seasons, earning the team's first NCAA Tournament appearance in 1997, the first NCAA win in 1998, and the first trip to the NCAA Semifinals this past season. Patrick McArdle (C '72, L '77) became the first athlete to represent men's lacrosse in the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame with a 1993 induction.

The lacrosse team had a sensational 1999 season, establishing numerous school records in a very memorable march to the Hoyas' first-ever NCAA “Final Four” appearance. Georgetown compiled a 13-3 record, setting school marks for victories and winning percentage (.813). In just its third NCAA Tournament, GU advanced to the semifinals with wins over Notre Dame (14-10) and Duke (17-14) before falling to Syracuse (13-9) in the sport's showcase weekend.

Georgetown had a school record seven players earn 1999 STX/USILA All-America honors. Senior attackman Greg McCavera was selected to the First Team, becoming the Hoyas' first First Team All-American. He is also the school's second three-time All-American. Senior defenseman Anderson Bell was a Third Team selection. GU also had five players named Honorable Mention All-Americans. The five players are senior Brian Hole, the first Hoya goalie to earn All-America honors, senior attackman Scott Urick, senior midfielder Tyler Gamble, junior defenseman Greg Papa, and sophomore midfielder Mike Henehan. In addition, McCavera and Hole were selected to play for the South team in the 58th Annual North-South Senior Classic. Urick was named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team, the first such honor for a Georgetown player.

Reilly West, Sarah Oglesby, Sheehan Stanwick, Jessica Walls, Kristin Raneri, Susan Graser, Morgan Lynn, Kristin Baer, Susanne Atkins, Mary Ellen Oliver, Reagan Raneri, Tammy Passano, Bridget Dwyer, Caitlin McLean, Jordan Keating, Kate Ahearn, Ellie FitzSimons, Danielle Boehmcke, Margaux Hauss, Gussi Habeck, Erin Elbe, Brenna Supple, Susan Stewart, Mindy Urick, Beth Doty, Bowen Holden, Chandler Vicchio
The women's lacrosse program, a scholarship, national sport, dates back to 1976. Georgetown teams have posted a 132-139-3 record during its 23-year history. This past season, Georgetown made its second-consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament and captured its first-ever Tournament win. Head Coach Kim Simons is entering her fifth season at the helm of the program.

Georgetown had an outstanding 1999 season, the best in the program's 23-year history. GU ranked seventh in the nation in the Final Intercollegiate Women's Lacrosse Coaches Association (IWLCA)/Brine Top 20 poll released May 5, and posted an overall record of 11-6. The Hoyas advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament after posting a victory over North Carolina on May 5. GU then fell to five-time defending national champion Maryland on May 8.

Sophomore Sheehan Stanwick, named to the 1999 South Region IWLCA/Brine All-America First Team on attack, has rewritten the Georgetown record books in only two seasons on the Hilltop. Stanwick ranked among the nation's leading scorers, and was also 20th in assists with a 1.53 per game. Stanwick totaled a career-best eight points in two contests in 1999.

Attack Erin Elbe had a sensational freshman season, and for her efforts, was named to the 1999 South Region IWLCA/Brine All-America Second Team. Elbe had her best game this season against Towson on March 31, when she scored a career-best seven goals en route to a 13-7 Georgetown victory.

The 1999 season was the first for sophomore Bowen Holden as a Hoya, who was a mid-year transfer to Georgetown. Holden had a terrific season in goal as she earned the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC)/Reebok Division I Women's Lacrosse Goalie of the Week award for the week ending March 28. To cap off the 1999 season, Stanwick, Elbe, and Holden, along with assistant coach Kellie Young, were all named to the 1999-2000 United States Women's Lacrosse Developmental Division Squad. To cap off the 1999 season, Stanwick, Elbe, and Holden, along with assistant coach Kellie Young, were all named to the 1999-2000 United States Women's Lacrosse Developmental Division Squad.
The sailing program, a non-scholarship, regional sport, began at Georgetown in 1954. Thomas E. Curtis, Jr. ('78) represents the sailing team in the GU Athletic Hall of Fame.

Georgetown, under the direction of first-year Head Coach Mike Callahan, concluded the year with both the women and the coed teams ranked in the final Sailing World Magazine poll released on May 16th. The women held 10th place in the poll, while the coed team finished with an 11th ranking.

Georgetown's sailing squads had a successful fall campaign. The coed team brought home several victories including the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Sailing Association (MAISA) Sloop Championship and the Atlantic Coast Dinghy Championship. The Hoyas also turned in an outstanding performance at the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association (ICYRA) Sloop Championship with a second-place finish, their highest finish ever at the Championship. GU's women had several fine races during the fall with the most impressive being a victory at the MAISA Women's Championship. The freshmen sailors did some fine racing as well, as they won the Freshman Groundbreaker and MAISA Freshman Championship.

Georgetown had one of its best seasons ever in the spring of 1999. The coed team won two regattas, while the women's squad tallied one victory. Georgetown had three sailors named to the ICYRA All-America Teams. Senior Liz Bent was named to the ICYRA Women's All-America Team, sophomore Leah Williams was named to the ICYRA Crew All-America Team and senior Andy Herlihy was named to the ICYRA Skipper's All-America Honorable Mention Team.

Georgetown's coed team had a solid spring campaign as it won two regattas and had several top five finishes. On the Potomac, GU hosted three regattas during the spring, the Georgetown Team Race, the Area C Dinghy Eliminations and the Robert P. Arrigan Memorial. Georgetown won the Dinghy Eliminations and the Arrigan Regatta.

The Hoyas women won one of the five regattas they raced during the season. GU won the Washington College Women's Open. They also earned a spot to compete at the prestigious ICYRA National Dinghy Championship. GU improved over last year's 11th-place performance with a fifth-place finish at the ICYRA.
WOMEN'S AND COED SAILING
Men's soccer, a scholarship, regional program which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, began in 1952 and has a 258-341-44 record in its 47-year history. Fiftieth-year Head Coach Keith Tabatznik has guided the Hoyas to 154-126-14 overall record, including an impressive 110-77-11 mark over the past 10 seasons. The men's soccer program is represented by Alfredo Montero (G '69) in the Georgetown Athletic Hall of Fame.

Georgetown had an impressive 1998 season as it finished with a 15-6 record. The Hoyas were ranked in the national polls all season, but just missed earning an at-large bid to the 32-team NCAA Tournament. Georgetown posted a 7-4 record in the BIG EAST and advanced to the finals of the BIG EAST Championship with a 2-1 victory over top-seeded Connecticut. The Hoyas, seeded fourth, fell to second-seeded St. John's in the Championship Game.

The Hoyas were ranked as high as ninth in the nation in the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Poll and were ranked 11th in the ESPN.com/Soccer Times Poll during the season. Georgetown finished the year tied for 22nd in the NSCAA Poll and were third in the very competitive South Atlantic Region after being as high as second.

Senior forward Eric Kvello was selected to the NSCAA Division I All-America Third Team, becoming the first Georgetown player to earn All-America honors. He was drafted by the Major League Soccer New York/New Jersey MetroStars in the third round (31st pick) of the 1999 College Draft. Freshman forward/back Kenny Owens was also honored by the BIG EAST Conference as he was named to the league's 1998 All-Rookie Team after tallying three goals and four assists for 10 points.

Junior goalkeeper Tyler Purtill had an outstanding season. Purtill registered eight shutouts to set a single season Hoya record. For his efforts, Purtill was chosen to the All-South Atlantic Region Third Team.

Women's soccer, a scholarship, regional sport, is the newest intercollegiate sport on the Hilltop. Women's soccer became an experimental sport in 1991 and received full varsity status two years later. The team currently competes in the BIG EAST Conference and is under the direction of first-year Head Coach Diane Drake.

The team finished its season with a 4-9-1 record and a 1-9-1 mark in the BIG EAST. The Hoyas were 3-0 against non-conference opponents during 1998, marking the second-consecutive year Georgetown has gone undefeated outside of the BIG EAST.

Sophomore midfielder Liz Delgado started all 14 games in the midfield and was named to the All-BIG EAST Second Team for the second-consecutive year. Delgado became the first Hoya in team history to be a two-time All-BIG EAST Team honoree. Freshman forward Barbara Torres tallied six goals and two assists, and for her effort, was named to the BIG EAST All-Rookie Team, the third Hoya to achieve the distinction. Delgado and Torres being named to the All-BIG EAST teams marked the first time that Georgetown has had more than one player earn All-Conference honors in the same year.

The Hoyas were led in scoring by Torres' 14 points. She led GU in game-winning goals with two, against Providence on September 13, and at Loyola on October 9. Senior forward Alex Desbrow turned in her best season as a Hoya, as she notched three goals and two assists for a career-high eight points. Junior forward Elena Cabatu came off the bench to score three goals while adding two assists, which tied her for second on the GU point list with eight. Senior goalkeeper Abby George played the majority of time in goal, seeing 675 minutes of action. George notched 44 saves while allowing 19 goals for a 2.53 goals against average. Freshman Shereena Chang tallied 567 minutes in goal and collected 26 saves while allowing 15 goals for a 2.38 goals against average. Chang added 2.6 shutouts on the year and finished with a 3-2-1 record in goal.
The men's and women's swimming & diving teams, are both non-scholarship, local programs which compete in the BIG EAST Conference. The men's swimming program began in 1931. Richard M. Tietje (G '52) and William J. Geisen (C '71, M '75) represent the men's swimming team in the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame. The women's swimming program began in 1979. In 1993, Susan Polk Dugan (L '77) became the first member of the Georgetown's women's swimming program to be inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame.

Twenty-one, 11, and six. Those are the numbers that defined the 1998-99 season for Georgetown. Twenty-one is the combined number of school records broken by the Hoyas at the 1999 BIG EAST Swimming Championships out of a total of 38 events. Eleventh is the place that both the men's and women's squads finished at in the BIG EAST Championships, their highest finish since the expansion of the conference. And six, as in the sixth-place finish turned in by junior John Willey in the 200 yard freestyle at the BIG EAST Championships, the highest individual finish for a Georgetown swimmer, male or female, in the last seven years.
Both tennis teams are coached by Rich Bausch, who is in his 19th year on the Hilltop. The men’s tennis program, a non-scholarship, local sport which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, began in 1907 on the Hilltop. Seven athletes from the men’s tennis team are represented in the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame.

The women’s tennis program, a scholarship, regional sport which also competes in the BIG EAST, began in 1960 at Georgetown. Julia Kuhlman Heditsian (N’78) became the first representative of the women’s tennis program inducted into the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame.

The men’s tennis team finished the year with a 3-21 record after posting a 1-1 mark in the fall season. Wins in the spring semester came over Mt. St. Mary’s (7-0) and BIG EAST opponent Seton Hall (4-3). At the 1999 BIG EAST Tennis Championship, held April 22-25, at Miami in Coral Gables, Fla., the Hoyas finished 10th.

The 1998-99 women’s team turned in nearly identical performance to the 1997-98 squad, as they matched both the season record with a 12-15 mark and finished seventh at the BIG EAST Championship for the second-consecutive year. The Hoyas concluded the year by avenging a regular season loss, defeating Rutgers 4-1 in the seventh-place matchup in the BIG EAST Championship.

GU entered the spring season with a 3-2 record. After dropping its first five contests to begin the spring, Georgetown rebounded by winning six of its next eight matches. The Hoyas racked up wins over Slippery Rock (9-0), Charleston Southern (5-4), Bucknell (6-3), Mt. St. Mary’s (9-0), Mary Washington (5-4), and BIG EAST rival St. John’s (7-2) in the run. GU opened the BIG EAST with a 4-1 win over Providence, before falling to second-seeded Miami. The Hoyas finished their year with the win over Rutgers to clinch seventh place.
MEN'S AND WOMEN'S TENNIS
The 1998-1999 Men's Cross Country/Track and Field Roster

The men's track & field and cross country teams, which are scholarship, national sports that compete in the BIG EAST and IC4A, are counted among the Hoyas' most successful teams, placing 45 athletes in the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame since its inception in 1950. The men have produced 20 national champions (12 individuals, two relays), 20 cross country All-Americans, 113 indoor All-Americans (45 individuals and 17 relay teams) and 41 outdoor All-Americans (37 individuals and one relay team). The team has six top 10 national cross country finishes, six national indoor top 10 performances and one national outdoor top 10 finish. The best finishes at the NCAA's include fourth at the 1965 Cross Country Championship, second at the 1991 Indoor NCAA's and an eighth-place showing at the NCAA Outdoor Championship in 1991. Frank Gagliano served as head coach during the 1998-99 season, and will assume the role of Coach Emeritus at Georgetown in a restructuring that will take effect on July 1, 1999. The 1999-2000 squads will be coached by Ron Helmer, who takes over the head coaching duties after five years as an assistant and eight years as the associate head coach for the Hoyas.

The women's track & field and cross country programs began in 1976 and compete in the BIG EAST and the ECAC. The programs are scholarship, national sports, and forged a stellar history, producing 12 national champions (four individual and two relay teams), 24 cross country All-Americans, 73 indoor All-Americans (29 individuals, 11 relay teams) and 37 outdoor All-Americans (33 individuals, one relay team). GU has 11 top 10 NCAA cross country performances, three NCAA indoor top 10 finishes, and two NCAA outdoor top 10 finishes. The best finishes at the NCAAs include third in 1992 and 1993 in cross country, third at the 1998 indoor, and fifth at the outdoor championship in 1993.
CROSS COUNTRY
The men’s cross country team finished the 1998 season with a 19th-place performance at the NCAA Cross Country Championship, held November 23, in Lawrence, Kan. The women’s cross country team added yet another solid year of performances to its history book. The squad finished fourth at the 1998 NCAA Championship, held November 23, in Lawrence, Kan. It marks the Hoyas’ best finish since 1993 when GU was third, and the 11th straight top 10 performance at the national meet.

INDOOR TRACK
The men’s track & field team added another stellar year to its record books. Georgetown won both the 1999 IC4A and BIG EAST Indoor Championships. Gagliano and his coaching staff were tapped as the BIG EAST Men’s Indoor Coaching Staff of the Year. The Georgetown women’s track & field team enjoyed a terrific indoor season, despite injuries that sidelined several key performers. The Hoyas posted a sixth-place finish at the BIG EAST Indoor Championship, then followed with a seventh-place showing at the ECAC Championship.

OUTDOOR TRACK
The Hoyas won their ninth BIG EAST Outdoor team title and their second-consecutive IC4A Outdoor team crown. Individually, Gagliano, was named the 1999 NCAA Division I Men’s Track & Field Coach of the Year, as announced by the United States Track Coaches Association (USTCA). The 1999 outdoor season was a solid one for the Georgetown women’s track & field team. Georgetown placed eighth at the BIG EAST Championship, and then recorded a sixth-place finish at the ECAC Championship.
The 1998-1999 Women's Cross Country/Track and Field Roster
Lorena Adams, Carron Allen, Voneka Bennett, Heather Blackard, Melissa Coleman, Traci Copeland, Kate Crowley, Ilia Daniels, Brionne Dawson, Katrina de Boer, Emily Dent, Marsha Dixon, Hillary Donnellan, Emily Enstice, Erin Flynn, Autumn Fogg, Kristen Gordon, Tyrone Heath, Rachel Homer, Beth Kalwinsky, Kate Landau, Kathleen Linck, Nickay Penado, Kelly Piatanesi, Katie pierce, Malissa Richardson, Lisa Roder, Angel Root, Sasha Spencer, Janelle Thomas, Jean Weinberg, Jessica Wible, Nekeisha Woods
Volleyball at Georgetown, a scholarship, regional sport which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, began in 1974 and the teams have posted a 547-367 (.598) record in their 25-year history. This is Li Liu's first season as the Hoyas head coach after serving as assistant coach for two seasons.

The 1998 team enjoyed its best season ever in the history of the program. Georgetown earned its first-ever bid to the 64-team NCAA Tournament. GU fell to Kansas State in First Round NCAA action on December 4, at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. Georgetown concluded the 1998 season with a 24-6 overall record and finished BIG EAST competition with a 10-1 mark and a share of the Conference Regular Season title, along with Connecticut. It marks the first regular season BIG EAST title for the Hoyas. Georgetown, the number one seed in the BIG EAST Tournament, fell to Notre Dame in the BIG EAST title game.

Individually, senior middle blocker Melissa Tytko, sophomore outside hitter Kiran Gill and freshman outside hitter Yulia Vtyurina were selected to the 1998 American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-District I Team. The district committee also named Nagel the Tachikara/AVCA District I Coach of the Year. In addition, Georgetown swept all three 1998 BIG EAST Volleyball awards. Nagel was tapped for BIG EAST Coach of the Year honors. Tytko was named the BIG EAST Player of the Year, while Vtyurina was the unanimous choice as BIG EAST Rookie of the Year. In addition, three of the six slots on the 1998 All-BIG EAST First Team were GU players. Tytko and Vtyurina, along with Gill, earned First Team honors.

Picked to finish fifth in the BIG EAST Conference's preseason coaches' poll, the Hoyas turned heads by posting a 10-1 mark in league play as well as one of the nation's top winning percentages (13-2 - .857). Nagel now has produced two-consecutive BIG EAST Rookie of the Year honorees. Nagel notched her 200th career coaching victory when the Hoyas defeated Villanova 3-2 on the road on October 31.

It's about time... to consider Towers Perrin!

Companies today face fierce competition. They constantly seek better products, systems or processes. What is it, though, that really makes a firm a "leader"? Many would agree: their people.

That's where we come in. We understand how employees impact an organization's performance, so we can help our clients get their business and people strategies in sync. We know the success of a business depends on its people.

Our belief in and commitment to our own people is just as strong. We're growing fast and are seeking outstanding individuals to help us achieve our vision.

You're invited to learn more about Towers Perrin - check out our website: www.towers.com.

We wish the best of success to all Georgetown students. Good luck, graduating seniors!

Towers Perrin is a leading global management consulting firm with approximately $1 billion in revenues and more than 7,000 employees in over 70 offices worldwide.
