In the twentieth year of his reign as King of England, William the Conqueror commanded a minute and searching inquiry into his land and its people. So impressive was the thoroughness of this inquest, that his subjects deemed it comparable to the day of their final judgement—the “domesday.” Thus came the survey’s public record to be known as the “Domesday Booke.” Since 1908, a modern-day version of this chronical, Ye Domesday Booke, has related the deeds and details not of a kingdom’s populace, but of a university’s...

Freshman Year:
The Saga Begins

In the Spring of 1999, high schools across America unleashed a new force onto the Hilltop: The Class of 2003. This class promises to be one of the best, brightest, and most promising that Georgetown has seen in years. At least since the class of 2002.

When the Class of 2002 arrived on the scene at Georgetown University, they quickly made their mark in campus activities. The Sophomores claim such campus leaders as Keavney Klein, Aaron Polkey, Erica Cannon, Randy Rivera, Mayumi Grigsby, Cameron Woods, Vanessa Waldref, and Zena Barakat.

This class will leave Georgetown very different from how they found it, both literally and figuratively. The Southwest Quad may be completed by the time they graduate, and the bookstore will have been expanded for a year by that time. This class has been given a gift. They have the opportunity to be at Georgetown through a period of many changes. They can really say that they knew how Georgetown used to be “Back in the day.”
The Class of 2001

Elegance: sophistication: class.
The Juniors of the Class of 2001 have truly lived up to all expectations.
They have emerged as leaders in every realm imaginable and continue to rise above the rest. The Class of 2001 is setting the standard as the first true class of the new millennium.
The Black House Barbecue
The Black House

The Black Student Alliance House began over thirty years ago as a product of the protest of the existing Black Student Alliance. The students who assembled in the Healy Building in 1968 demanded a safe place for Black students to assemble for social and academic purposes. They also demanded a system for tracking the retention of students of color. This system eventually became the Center for Minority Educational Affairs.

The Black House has had two locations through the years, its final location being on 36th Street. Originally just an empty house used for meetings, the Black House now houses four minority students a year to coordinate programming for the minority community. This year's residents were Emily Shaffer (MSB '01), Erica Cannon (MSB '02), Rashid Darden (CAS '01), and Justin McLaughlin-Williams (CAS '00).
HALLOWEEN
As much fun as we have on the hilltop, our number one priority is getting an education. Here are some pictures of students looking, well... studious.

Right: May I have this dance? Anandi and Jason take a moment to pose for our camera.
You can't avoid them. After hearing incessant chatter about these events for weeks, you usually end up going. You make that last minute hair appointment and put in your order for a corsage. We're referring to formals, of course. We go through so much trouble to get ready that when that night arrives, we are hardly in the mood to mug for millions of photos or make small talk with our blind date. However, after a couple hours of dancing to our favorite tunes, new and old, and chatting with friends, we agree that it was worth all the trouble and it was a night well spent.

WILD OUT!!!

We work pretty darn hard during the academic year. Between class and work, we have a heavy load to carry so it's no wonder that you will find your typical GU student acting not so typical sometimes. Call us crazy if you will, but sometimes, the only way to deal with the stress is to simply wild out.

The men’s lacrosse program at Georgetown had another banner year in 2000. The Hoyas made their fourth-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and compiled a 12-3 record. It was the second-best record in the history of the program. In addition, it was the third-consecutive season the Hoyas won at least 10 games. Georgetown defeated Cornell, 14-12, in the first round of the tournament before falling to Syracuse in the NCAA Quarterfinals. The Hoyas played their first season as a member of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference’s Lacrosse League in 2000. Georgetown finished the season with a perfect 6-0 record in league play. Head Coach Dave Urick, who just completed his 11th season, was named the ECAC Coach of the Year. Urick won his 100th game as a Hoya against Navy on April 1. Senior Andy Flick was the league’s Offensive player of the Year, while defenseman Kyle Sweeney was named the ECAC Rookie of the Year. Flick, Scott Urick, Rodger Colbert, Mike Henehan and Steve Dusseau were all selected First Team All-Conference.
Mens And Women's Crew

A program rich in tradition, men's crew at Georgetown dates back to 1958 while the women have competed since 1978. Crew for both men and women, is a non-scholarship, regional sport. Tony Johnson is in his 11th year as head coach for the crew program. The women’s crew team participated in five events during the fall, while the men’s team saw action in three events. The 18th Annual Charlie Butt Scullers’ Head of the Potomac in September was the most successful regatta of the fall season for Georgetown, as the Hoyas had nine boats place in the top five at the regatta. The team finished the fall at the Belly of the Carnegie in Princeton, N.J. in November placing sixth in the team competition. GU's heavyweight men came in seventh at the meet while the women’s squad posted a 10th place finish. Georgetown opened the spring campaign at the President’s Cup Regatta in Tampa, F.L. in March.

GU's men's and women's teams each finished third in the second varsity heavyweight eight races. The two squads also posted fourth place finishes in the varsity heavyweight competition. GU hosted the Georgetown Invitational for BIG EAST Schools on April 30th, winning the Don D. Cadle Trophy for Overall Points for the seventh-consecutive year with 85 points, besting their mark of 70 points from last season. Georgetown won a total of five events that day. On May 14th, the men’s crew novice eight boat took first place at the Championship International Collegiate Regatta on Lake Quinsigamond in Worcester, Mass. The varsity eight team placed fifth. The Hoya women scored four points to finish 18th at the Eastern Association of Women's Rowing Colleges (EAWRC) Championship on May 14. The men finished their season at the Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) Championship on June 1-3. The Hoyas finished second in the Grand Final in both the men's freshman four with cox and the men’s varsity four with cox. GU won two petite finals at the IRA, the men’s open four with cox and the varsity lightweight eight (placing seventh overall).

2000-SPORTS
Volleyball at Georgetown, a scholarship, regional sport which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, began in 1974. GU teams have posted a 574-372 (.607) record in their 26-year history. The GU team had a highly successful campaign in 1999. The Hoyas recorded an overall record of 27-5 with a 9-2 record in BIG EAST play. The 27 victories are the most wins recorded by a GU team since the 1982 season when the Hoyas went 32-13.

Georgetown made its second-consecutive appearance at the NCAA Volleyball Tournament. The Hoyas earned an automatic bid by winning the 1999 BIG EAST Championship. GU met the #23-ranked Arkansas Lady Razorbacks in first round action at The Pyramid in Long Beach, CA. Georgetown played tough, but it was not enough to top the Lady Razorbacks and GU fell 3-1.

The squad won two matches at the 1999 BIG EAST Championship en route to the team conference championship crown. The Hoyas defeated Syracuse in the semifinals, then topped perennial powerhouse Notre Dame by a score of 3-0. The final over Notre Dame gave Georgetown its first tournament title in school history. The 1999 season marked the 14th season that the Hoyas recorded 20 or more wins. In addition, Georgetown won 12 of its last 13 matches prior to the NCAA Tournament.

Georgetown ended the season ranked 10th in the nation in service aces on the NCAA Division I team leaders list. The Hoyas tied for 16th place in win percentage on the final list with a .844 average.

Individually, five players were named to the 1999 All-BIG EAST Conference teams at the league's banquet. It was the most players selected to the All-Conference teams among the 12 Conference volleyball schools. In addition to the large number of players selected, freshman outside hitter Lauren Warner was voted 1999 BIG EAST Rookie of the Year. Warner is the third Hoya to receive Rookie of the Year honors. Junior outside hitter Kiran Gill garnered All-BIG EAST First Team honors, while sophomore setter Amy Schweitzer and sophomore outside hitter Yulia Vtyurina were tapped for Second Team accolades. Warner was also named to the All-Rookie Team, along with freshman middle blocker Anna Kleinsorge.

Vtyurina was named BIG EAST Player of the Week twice during the season, while Gill garnered the award once. Warner received Rookie of the Week honors three times during the regular season.

Despite a not-so-stellar start to the 1999-2000 campaign, Hoya determination and character turned what could have been a dismal season into a respectable one. GU's women's swimming and diving team was 2-6 midway through the first month of the New Year, but it reversed its fortunes with five-straight wins and concluded the season with a winning record. The momentum from the final few meets carried over into the BIG EAST Swimming and Diving Championships, as the women's team placed 10th with 76 points for its highest finish ever since the expansion of the conference. Georgetown's women's swimming and diving teams received contributions from the top to the bottom of the roster. Senior Meghan Welch led a talented cast of Hoya freshman and sophomores to an impressive 7-6 overall record. Welch was a dominant force throughout the season for GU in the 100 and 200 yard breastroke events as well as the 200 yard I.M. where she holds the top time in each event. Her heir apparent in those races will emerge from a not so clear-cut battle between freshman Kristie Hunt and Genna McKeel. A pair of sophomores, Sophia Adkinson and Caragh Moynihan, took command of the freestyle events, while freshman Lauren Moynihan paced the Hoyas in the distance freestyle races, followed by sophomore Amanda Anderson. Sophomore Lauren Schmidt led the team in the 200 yard butterfly. Sophomore divers Allison Linden and Rene Pierpont were also very successful during the season. The top performer for the women at the BIG EAST was Welch, who scored in two of her three individual swims. Moynihan broke three school records including two in one event at the Championships. The Hoyas' other point totals came in the relay events as GU finished 11th in the 400 and 800 yard freestyle relay with their ninth-place time. At the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Swimming and Diving Championships in New York, the women finished 19th out of 29 teams with 43 points.

Despite a not-so-stellar start to the 1999-2000 campaign, Hoya determination and character turned what could have been a dismal season into a respectable one. The men's swimming and diving team began the year with seven consecutive defeats but managed to win three of its last four meets. The momentum from the final few meets carried over into the BIG EAST Swimming and Diving Championships as the men tied their highest-ever finish with an 11th-place mark and 81 points.

Senior John Willey and sophomore Chris Lengle paced the GU men's contingent to a 3-9 overall mark in dual meet action this season. Willey and Lengle, each freestyle specialists, battled for top times honors in the 50, 100, and 200 yard freestyle events. Willey, a very capable swimmer in both speed and endurance, was also a force in the 200 yard IM. Freshmen Bryan Evangelista and Ross Savedge competed for GU in the 100 and 200 yard butterfly, while junior Rich Dennis was a mainstay in the 100 and 200 yard breaststroke. Sophomores Will Miller, Chris Staten, and senior Brendan Moynihan also contributed to the Hoya effort this season. Freshman Brett Daggett was the lone GU diver.

For the second year in a row, GU's men's team finished 11th place at the BIG EAST Championships, tying its highest-ever finish, two school records being broken in the process. The men's 81 points were a far cry from its 1999 score of 131, yet it was still good enough for 11th place.

Lengle and Willey were the top performers for GU. Lengle scored for Georgetown in the 50 yard freestyle, touching the wall in 15th place, and added to the Hoya team total with a 15th-place time in the 200 yard freestyle. His swim in the preliminaries of the 50yard freestyle earned him a new school record. Willey claimed 12th in the 200 yard freestyle event for Georgetown's other individual point totals. The relay teams also fared well at the Championships. The men's 200 yard medley relay team came in 12th, the 400 and 800 freestyle relay teams each finished 10th, while the 200 yard freestyle squad took seventh.

Qualifying also for the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Swimming and Diving Championships in New York, John Willey swam for the Hoya men in three individual events. He competed in the finals of the 200 yard freestyle race where he placed 10th, and in the finals of the 500 yard freestyle event where he came in 11th. Willey also tallied 16th in the 1,650 yard freestyle. Overall, Willey accumulated 14 points for the Hoya men's team, putting GU tied for 24th out of 36 teams at the ECAC Championships.

Georgetown depended on its great depth in 1999. Leadership fell on the shoulders of graduate student Kathleen Linck and junior All-American Kristen Gordon. Senior Lisa Roder, juniors Emily Enstice and Lorena Adams, and freshmen Marni Kruppa and Liz Churchville were solid all season for the Blue and Gray.

Men's and Women's

Cross Country

The Georgetown Men's Cross Country team began the season ranked 14th and improved to finish 7th. They ended the season in ninth place. GU opened the season with a second-place finish at the 21st Annual Spiked Shoe Invitational at Penn State University. The team then tied for first place, along with Michigan, at the Notre Dame Invitational. The Hoyas placed fourth at the 34-team Pre-NCAA Meet in Bloomington, IN, then garnered runner-up honors at the BIG EAST Championships, at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, PA. It was the Hoyas' first regional team championship in four years. With the victory, Georgetown earned an automatic bid to the NCAA Championships, where the squad posted and 11th-place finish, its best since 1995.

The Georgetown Women's Cross Country team was ranked among the top ten premier teams in the nation all season long. GU began the season in seventh place in the national poll, and ended the year in sixth. The Hoyas got the season started with a third-place finish at the Triple Crown Invitational, in Provo, UT. GU then won the 11-team George Washington Invitational, at Bull Run Park in Centerville, VA, and the 26th Annual Paul Short Invitational at Lehigh. After a 6th-place finish at the 33-team Pre-NCAA Meet, GU rebounded with back-to-back post-season victories. The Hoyas won the 1999 BIG EAST Championship on October 9th, then bested the field at the NCAA Mid-Atlantic Championships to take home the coveted team title and an automatic bid to the NCAA.

The men and women’s track & field teams posted solid outdoor campaigns for the 2000 season. After several terrific individual finishes throughout the season, GU picked up momentum for post-season competition. The GU men won their third consecutive IC4A Outdoor Championship crown and placed third at the BIG EAST Championship. The women were equally impressive, winning their third ECAC team championship and finishing fifth at the Conference championship.

GU closed out the year by sending several student-athletes to the NCAA Championships. In addition, Director of Track & Field and Cross Country Ron Helmer and Associate Head Coach Andrew Valmon were selected United States Track Coaches Association (USTCA) Mid-Atlantic Region Men’s Outdoor Coaches of the Year.

Nick Reynolds

After several top individual performances throughout the season, including grad student Justin McCarthy qualifying automatically for the NCAAs in his first race of the outdoor campaign, the GU Men’s team combined to place third at the 2000 BIG EAST Championship. Notre Dame ended the Hoyas’ five-year reign. Despite losing the team title, GU turned in several top-five finishes. Junior Nick Reynolds and the GU 4 x 400-meter relay team were the Hoyas’ lone winners. Reynolds won the 400-meter run in 46.98, while the 4 x 400 team of grad student Johnathan Howard, sophomore Hakim Johnson, freshman James Graham, and Reynolds, combined to run the winning time of 3:11.08. GU followed up the BIG EAST by winning its third-consecutive IC4A Outdoor Championship. Senior Eric Savoth defended his title in the 5,000-meter (13:55.59), while the 4 x 800-meter relay squad of Tom Bonner, Dan Tebbano, Colin Dunn, and Ezra Richards were victorious in that event (7:27.48). Savoth ran to a 14th-place finish (14:30.29) in the 5,000 at the NCAAs, while McCarthy was 20th in the 10,000-meters (31:59.77).
The women's track & field team had a terrific spring. GU got off to a great start at the Raleigh and Mt. SAC Relays. Junior Sasha Spencer won the 800-meter run (2:08.01) at the Mt. SAC Relays, a meet that features top collegiate and professional athletes. Junior Lorena Adams earned runner-up honors in the 3,000-meter run (9:40.51) at the Penn Relays. Spencer anchored the GU relay squad that won the Championship of America 4 x 800 at the prestigious 106th Penn Relays Carnival. Joining her on the team were juniors Tyrona Heath and Nickay Penado, and senior Katrina de Boer. The Hoyas won the event in 8:34.37.

The GU women bested a field of 42 schools to win the 2000 ECAC Outdoor Track & Field Championships. The team title was the third outdoor regional crown for the Hoyas. Senior Carron Allen and the Hoyas' 4 x 400-meter relay team returned the Hilltop with first-place finishes. Allen won the 400-meter dash in 53.72. She then ran the third leg on the victorious 4 x 400-meter relay team that turned in a winning time of 3:35.40. The Hoyas then tied for 23rd at the 2000 NCAA Outdoor Track & Field Championship. Spencer was GU's top finisher at the national meet. She garnered fifth place in the 800 with a mark of 2:03.23. The Hoyas' 4 x 400-meter relay squad of Spencer, Penado, Allen, and freshman Jamillah Bowman, also ran to a fifth-place finish (3:33.91). Linck clocked 9:23.72 to place seventh in the 3,000-meter run. Spencer, Penado, Allen, Bowman, and Linck returned to the Hilltop with All-American honors.

The women's basketball program at Georgetown, a scholarship, national program which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, dates back to 1970. The Hoyas have posted an overall record of 359-350 (.506). The women's basketball team continued its impressive play during the 1999-2000 season. For the third time in four years, the Hoyas won at least 17 games, and for the second straight year, Georgetown was invited to the Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT). It was the third postseason appearance for the Hoyas, all coming under the direction of Coach Patrick Knapp. Georgetown finished the 1999-2000 season with a 17-13 record and a 9-7 mark in the BIG EAST Conference, which was the second toughest conference in the nation during the regular season.

Ten of the Hoyas' 13 losses were to teams that advanced to postseason play in 1999-2000. Georgetown won nine of its last 13 regular season games to put itself in a position to gain a postseason berth. Georgetown closed the regular season with a win over West Virginia to secure the fifth seed in the BIG EAST Championship. The Hoyas defeated Syracuse in the first round before falling to Boston College in the quarterfinals. GU received a bid to the WNIT by virtue of their late-season performance. GU's season came to an end with a loss at Maryland in the first round of the WNIT.

Georgetown was led by the play of Katie Smrcka-Duffy, who earned 1999-2000 All-BIG EAST Second team honors. It was the second straight season she was selected to the Conference's second team. Smrcka-Duffy led the BIG EAST in scoring for the second consecutive season. She averaged 18.6 points per game and finished the year with 521 points. In her two seasons on the Hilltop, Smrcka-Duffy has two of the six highest single-season point totals in Georgetown's history. She has racked up 1,120 points, good for 11th on the school's career scoring list, and has 1,521 points in her collegiate career. Smrcka-Duffy led the team in 3-point percentage, free-throw percentage, rebounding, and scoring. She is now the most accurate free-throw shooter in school history, making 84.3% (121-143) of her attempts and the most accurate 3-point shooter, converting better than 40% of her shots from behind the stripe.

Junior guard Dani Ilic was second on the club in 3-pointers with 38. She shot .342 from behind the arc. For the season, she averaged five points and 2.9 rebounds and scored 10 or more points on three occasions. Junior forward Nathalie Bourdereau was second on the team with 9.6 points per game and led the team with a .516 field-goal percentage. Sophomore point guard Lesley Walker led the Hoyas with 99 assists and 81 steals. Walker was second in the BIG EAST with 2.7 steals per game and averaged 6.6 points and 4.1 rebounds.

Coach Craig Esherick’s first full season at the Hoyas’ helm was a successful one. The team finished with a 19-15 record after advancing in the NIT. It was Georgetown’s 26th consecutive post season bid.

Highlights of the 1999-2000 campaign include a season opening appearance at the Maui Invitational, where the Hoyas defeated Memphis but lost to eventual Final Four teams North Carolina and Florida. In addition to the regular slate of BIG EAST opponents, Georgetown defeated Louisville and Houston, reprising 1982 and 1984 Final Four matchups.

The Hoyas made their mark at the end of the regular season in the BIG EAST Tournament, defeating West Virginia and top ranked Syracuse before falling to defending National Champion Connecticut. The Hoyas then went on to what is being called the best college game of the season, a triple overtime road with over Virginia. The game, which started with two key Hoya players sidelined by injury, saw three more Hoyas fouled out in regulation and two starters required intravenous fluid replenishment immediately after the game, was son by a football player. Gharun Hester, the two-sport athlete in question, saw more minutes, points and rebounds in that game than he had previously in the entire season. After the super effort of the Virginia game, the Hoyas were again on the road and fell to California in the NIT second round.

Individually, Ruben Boumtje-Boumtje mad the All BIG EAST third team, as he led the team in rebounding (7.7 per game) and blocks (78). Lee Scruggs, who joined the squad at the end of December, made the BIG EAST All-Tournament team. Scruggs averaged 20.3 points and 6.6 rebounds per game at Madison Square Garden. Kevin Braswell, who paced the team in scoring with a 14.8 point per game average, set a new career high in scoring with 40 points against Virginia. (Courtesy of Sports Information)
Men's Basketball
1999-2000
Golf 1999-2000

Under the direction of 16th-year Head Coach Tommy Hunter, the men's golf team had a solid 1999-2000 season. The team opened its fall season at the Navy Fall Invitational. The Hoyas finished seventh out of 18 teams with a two-day total score of 590. Junior Dan Giraudo tied for fifth place, with a combined 141 for the weekend. GU’s next contest was its own 16th Annual Hoya Invitational held at the Lansdowne Resort in Leesburg, VA. The Hoyas finished tied for eighth, out of 16 teams with a +24 performance. Sophomores Andreas Huber and Cody Couibier each tied for 11th place with three-over par performances, carding 147 for the event. Next the squad finished 14th at the Legends Intercollegiate Golf Tournament in October. The team shot 308 and 306 as Huber again led the Hoya charge, finishing sixth among individual scorers with a total 145. GU ended its fall season with contests at the Xavier Provident Invitational in Cincinnati and the James Madison Invitational in Staunton, VA.

Georgetown started the spring season at the Bradford Creek Intercollegiate in Greenville, NC. The Hoyas finished 19th overall with a two-day total of 622. Huber was the low scorer for GU at 149, which tied him for 48th overall. The following week, Georgetown competed in the Golden Horseshoe Intercollegiate on March 27-28. GU posted its highest finish of the season, a tie for sixth in the event which was shortened by rain. GU shot 298 over 36 holes, tying with Radford. Sophomore Tristan Lewis was the top scorer for Georgetown. He fired a 71 (-1) on the course, tying him for fifth overall. The completion at the Navy Spring Invitational was played only through the first round due to inclement weather. GU placed 11th in the event with a 316 team score. Lewis and Huber tied for the low scorers of the tournament for the Hoyas. Both players carded a 77, tying them for 24th overall.

Georgetown played its final tune-up before the BIG EAST Championship on April 21, at the Princeton Invitational. Rain shortened this event to one day as well. GU shot a 312 in the tournament to finish in a tie for 14th place. Lewis was again the Hoyas' top performer with a 75.

As defending champion, Georgetown had its sights set on another Conference crown at the 2000 BIG EAST Championship held at the Warren Golf Course in Notre Dame, IN. GU played well throughout the two-day tournament and finished in seventh place, shooting a 627. Lewis carded a 145 for the competition and was the Hoyas' top scorer. He was named to the 2000 All-BIG EAST Team after finishing tied for fifth overall at the Championship.

Sailing 1999-2000

Georgetown, under the direction of second-year Head Coach Mike Callahan, had its most successful year ever in 1999-2000. The sailing team participated in all three National Championship events and had five sailors named to the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association (ICYRA) All-America Team.

The spring of 2000 season saw the coed sailors close out a stellar year by finishing in second place at the ICYRA/Ronstan Team Racing Championship. In the other National Championship event, the ICYRA North American Coed Dinghy Championship, GU placed eighth out of eighteen teams. During the spring regular season, the Hoyas captured first place in five events, including its two home races: the Georgetown Team Race and the Arrigan memorial Regatta. FU finished the spring season ranked seventh by Sailing World Magazine (June 8).

Capping off the great year was the selection of five Georgetown sailors to the 2000 ICYRA All-America Team. Junior skipper Ryan Costell and crewmembers Dana Scalere and Leah Williams were selected to the Coed All-America team. GU sailors Brian Bissell and Ken Ward were chosen for the Coed All-America Honorable Mention Team.

The coed sailing team concluded the fall season with a total of 10 top-three finished. The Hoyas compiled six first-place victories, three second-place showings and two third-place performances.

GU's women's sailing team had a successful spring campaign concluding its year in the ICYRA Women's Dinghy Championships where the Hoyas captured ninth place. Georgetown qualified for the Championship by finishing in third place at the MAISA Women's Championship. The women sailors also brought home a third place finish at the Navy Spring Open.

The fall schedule for the women saw the Hoyas winning a pair of regattas and turning in solid performances at the district and regional championships. At the MAISA Women's Dinghy Championship, GU finished in second place while at the regional championship the Hoyas came in 11th place.

The field hockey program at GU, which is a non-scholarship, local sport, dates back to 1960. GU teams have combined for a 135-165-21 record over the past 39 years. Second-year head coach Laurie Carroll directs the Georgetown program.

Georgetown’s field hockey team finished the 1999 season with a 5-11 overall record in its inaugural season under Carroll. The team opened up the season with an away win against Albany, and had several other outstanding victories, including a 1-0 overtime home win versus Radford. Two Hoya players, junior midfielder Sarah Oglesby and freshman goalkeeper Jessica Herring, were named to the All-Tournament Team for their exceptional play at the Terrapin Invitational, which was held September 18-19. Senior Margaret Crocco, sophomore Cecilia Kline, junior Caitlin McLean, and senior Susan Stewart were named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) Division I National Academic Squad.

Senior forward Lori Fogliano led Georgetown in scoring with five goals and three assists for 13 points. GU’s other double-digit points leader was senior midfielder Jordan Keating who had a team-high six goals for 12 points. Freshman Abbe Malcom chipped in three goals and three assists for 9 points. Oglesby and Stewart each contributed three goals and two assists for eight points.

Tennis

The men's tennis program, a non-scholarship, local sport which competes in the BIG EAST Conference, began in 1907 on the Hilltop. Seven athletes from the men's tennis team are represented in the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame.

The women's tennis program, a scholarship, regional sport which also competes in the BIG EAST began in 1960 at Georgetown. Julia Kuhlman Hedehusian (N '78) became the first representative of the women's tennis program inducted into the Georgetown University Athletic Hall of Fame. Rich Bausch, who is in his 21st year on the Hilltop, coaches both tennis teams.

The women's tennis team finished the year with a 14-13 record after posting a 1-0 mark in the fall season. After dropping 10 of 14 contests heading into the month of April, the 1999-2000 team guaranteed themselves a winning season after riding a 10-match winning streak into the BIG EAST Championships, including a first-round victory over 10th seeded Villanova.

The 10-match winning streak included victories over George Washington (5-4), UMBC (6-3), and BIG EAST foes Rutgers (5-4), West Virginia (5-3), Pittsburgh (5-3), and Providence (5-4). GU ended the regular season in sixth-place in the Conference with a 6-2 mark, but finished eighth in the Championships.

Senior Lucky Ravindra was named the team's MVP as she recorded a 16-9 record at No. 1 singles and an 11-12 mark in doubles competition. She went 9-3 in BIG EAST contests and registered a 10-2 mark in the month of April including a six-match winning streak.

Georgetown's doubles tandems were also key during the streak as the No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3 teams combined for a 26-4 overall record over the 10-match span. Melissa Mendes and Sarada Ravindra were unstoppable in April as a doubles tandem in the #2 and #1 positions. The Hoya seniors anchored the doubles teams and went 10-0 for the month and the 10-3 as a duo overall.

The men's team finished the year with a 6-24 record after posting a 2-2 mark in the fall season. Georgetown defeated local-rival George Washington in the spring 5-2, but picked up its biggest win with a 4-2 upset victory over seventh-seeded Villanova in the first round of the BIG EAST Championships. GU, which entered the Championships as the 10th seed, finished in eighth-place.

The Hoyas' men were led by senior captain Beau Brewer. He paced GU with a 9-15 dual match record playing primarily at the No. 4 singles position. He was 6-8 in doubles competition. Troy Crichlow, a freshman, had an immediate impact at No. 3. He tallied a dual match mark of 9-18 and went 6-12 at #3. Senior Dave Boyer and sophomore Ken Jordan were the Hoyas' top doubles tandem for the second consecutive year, as they added a 12-12 mark while playing the majority of the season at #3 doubles where they were 8-10.

YOUR FAMILY IS PROUD OF YOU!

KEEP UP THE GREAT ENDEAVORS!

TO OUR SON

When we saw you today, we were amazed at your strength and honored by your achievement.

We felt so much pride as you stood and accepted your diploma knowing how important this moment will be for you.

You know we are proud of what you have done, but even more so of what you are.

So we salute you now and decorate your dream with all the support and love we can give.

You are our inspiration, our marine, and armed with the force of your God and our prayers the world is yours to conquer!

Congratulations on your graduation from Georgetown University, Class of 2000.

Dear Anna,
It's true you are impossible to overlook. You did it! You broke the mold and we are so incredibly proud of you. From the time you were quite small your eyes always said, "Don't tell me I can't." Keep going for there will never be a mountain too high for you to climb, besides you'll always have your family to bring you a warm pair of socks.

Congratulations,
Mom, Dad, Lucia and Thomas
Just imagine a table with mere legs of three.
Try to imagine July shade without leaves on a tree.
Imagine a camp evening ending without Aloha Oe,
Or a see-saw with only one boy.

In a world marked by imbalance,
Bringing completeness needs great talent.
A gift from God is truly what was given
To ensure our family by strife was not riven.

Through the hardest times you pulled the extra mile,
Always close by with a word, card or smile.
This summer you took up for Opi our Granddad,
And helped bring contentment for a fallen comrade.

Without Maile our family would list to one side
Because its imbalance it could not hide.
As you enter the world bringing your gifts,
We know you will share your strengths to heal rifts.

As you graduate and show caring to the world,
We await a newly formed butterfly, your wings to unfurl.

Congratulations!
May you fly free and always have a safe place to land!

Dearest Joseph,

It seems like only yesterday you were just a boy doing the carefree things all boys do. Through dogs, dirt bikes and baseball; through cross country, cars and midnight calls; you’ve always given us pride and pleasure since the time you were quite small. You’ve grown through countless changes with each year bringing new dreams and new roads to explore. You’ve brought joy to our lives and lasting, deep affection that grows with every passing year—a true lifelong connection. You’ve learned to walk without our hands, how to share, how to succeed—with only our love and support to guide you. You’ve shown us how to love unconditionally, how to see things through your eyes. There’s never a day we don’t think of you and your enthusiasm for life and your drive for accomplishment.

If we could have shielded you from disappointment we gladly would have, but then you wouldn’t have experienced the curve balls and sliders that have come your way, and you wouldn’t have become the strong, independent and discerning person you are today.

There is a lot in life that is hard, but take it as it comes, find the good and make time to laugh. Be bold and meet each new experience with eagerness and anticipation. Life will challenge you to balance your world—achieve and yet nurture, be strong yet tender. Meet the tests life brings yet always keep love at the center, letting it be the star by which you set your soul.

There will always be family phrases that survive through the ages like: be careful what you wish for, you might get it; or, don’t do anything you wouldn’t want published in the paper; or, it’s not what you say but how you say it; or, what is this and what is it doing here? And the often used—parents are supposed to worry! Never lose your fun-loving spirit, your lively curiosity and your sense of wonder.

We are so proud of you for always doing your best, for meeting each new challenge, for having faith in yourself and your dreams. Thank you for all the joy and excitement you have brought into our lives. Congratulations on your graduation from Georgetown!

With joy that grows deeper, pride that grows stronger and love that touches our hearts every day, may God bless you always.

The Georgetown Chimes were founded in 1946, and over these past 54 years, The Chimes have become a fixture on the Georgetown campus. Monthly Chimes Nights at The Tombs and the annual Cherry Tree Massacre concert series have, for many, become unique parts of the Georgetown experience.

From its barbershop roots, the group's repertoire has expanded over the years to include 50's and 60's standards, old English and Irish traditions, jazz, and pop. It is often taken as a point of pride that every Chime can sing "old" songs that pre-date him. As a result the repertoire of the group does not so much change and revolve as it does grow and evolve in new directions.

Today the active repertoire consists of well over 200 songs, all still sung in the closest of harmony and by the closest of friends.

The 1999-2000 active Chimes are:
Max Coslov (Ephus),
Charlie Schilling (Business Manager), Nicholas Amatuzzi, Justin Kay, Rick Bedoya, Andy Neustaedter, Mike Pacella, Evan Seller,
Andrew Beaton, Nick Gianotti, Ryan Ramagosa, and Dan Phillips.

Dear Class of 2000,

I am sure most of you figured you would never see the 2000 yearbook, but here it finally is. Due to the loss of almost every Senior Section editor, the firing of our old account representative, and other internal problems, creating this book took longer than expected. Thanks to the help of two determined underclassmen, Hannah Paxton and Kristen Burns, we all have this catalog of memories to look back on.

Cheryl Miller

Special thanks to:
Martha Swanson for her advice, guidance, and patience this past year as we struggled to revitalize YDB.
David Vaughan for answering all our stupid questions and always seeming to know the answers. Also for sending our packages, filling in the blanks on our II's, not laughing at our misfortune, etc...
Jim Rainey for all the beautiful pictures he took and the psychotherapy he provided.
Tim Ford for picking up the pieces of YDB '99 and getting us back on track.
Tom Yontosh and the staff of Jostens State College plant for their continued support.
DaVor Photography Inc. of Bensalem, PA for the Senior Portraits and other photographic services.
Cheryl Miller for coming back this year to give us a hand. Without your efforts, the Class of 2000 would not have had a yearbook at all, and we understand the difficult situation you faced in trying to put this book together.
Claudine Holt for all her hours of work on this book over the summer.
All the Seniors who contributed photos.
The staff of YDB 2001 for being patient while we worked on the 2000 book, and helping us to do a job that was not their responsibility.

Completing the 2000 edition of Ye Domesday Booke has been a long and often frustrating process. When we undertook this project, we found ourselves responsible for reversing two years worth of backlog and disorganization. This was compounded by the fact that, as underclassmen, we didn't really know the Senior Class. We have done our best to represent your final year at Georgetown, and to complete the book as soon as possible. We apologize for the delay and thank those of you who have been patient and understanding throughout this adventure.

Stagecoaches offer public passenger service, and covering 15 miles a day is considered a good speed. The coaches travel in stages, changing horses at each stop. As a result, the stagecoach line is born.

Spanish explorer Hernando Cortés introduces horses from Spain into the New World, changing transportation and culture for Native Americans. Cortés carries out a harsh conquest of Montezuma and the Aztecs.
