Dear Sirs:

We are the owners of One Thousand shares of Electronic Engineering Company of California stock, held for us in nominee name.

We enclose copy of a letter recently received in which a dividend payable in Siliconix, Inc. stock is announced, the Siliconix shares being "restricted securities".

We are wondering how is it possible for the SEC to give permission for a distribution of unregistered stock as a dividend? Perhaps you would be kind enough to inform us on this. Thank you in advance for your advice.

Very truly yours,

PREMIER INVESTING CORPORATION
