Re: Plasmine Corporation

Dear Mr. Measures:

This is in reference to your letter of February 1, 1975 in which you request information regarding the manner in which the restricted status of your Plasmine Corporation common stock may be removed. The facts as stated in your letter are as follows:

In July, 1972, you received 2,222 shares of unregistered Plasmine Corporation common stock directly from the Company. You now wish to have the restricted status and legend removed from the stock in order to enable your executrix to easily dispose of it in the event of your death. You have no present intention to sell.

The Commission has no authority to remove restrictive legends from securities. Generally speaking, restrictive legends are imposed on shares pursuant to arrangements between issuers of securities and their transfer agents. Since your shares were acquired after April 15, 1972 the effective date of Rule 144, you may remove such restrictions by selling pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act of 1933. Rule 144 requires a bona fide intention to sell within a reasonable time. Since you have no such intention, the Rule is presently unavailable to you.

Your attention is directed to Rule 144(d)(4)(G) which enables estates to expeditiously dispose of restricted shares. A copy of Rule 144 is enclosed.

Sincerely yours,

WS
