Students Examine the Possibility of an Honor System at Georgetown

by Val Reitman

The possibility of implementing an "honor code" at Georgetown under which students would assume full responsibility for academic honesty is currently being examined by a group of interested students.

The system might be similar to that which exists at Notre Dame, the University of Virginia, and the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul, but would differ in some important aspects.

"We have been working on this for quite some time," said one of the students involved in the project. "We want to make sure that we get a system that works for us, and that we're not just following a model that someone else has come up with."

The system is being examined by a group of students, faculty, and community members who have been working on the project for several months. The group hopes to have a proposal ready for presentation to the University's Board of Trustees by the end of the academic year.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.

In the meantime, the group is holding meetings to discuss the various aspects of the system and to refine the proposal. The group is made up of students from all areas of the University, as well as faculty and community members.

The group is currently working on the following aspects of the system:

1. A code of conduct that outlines the expectations for students and faculty.
2. A system for enforcing the code, including procedures for reporting violations and for determining the appropriate sanctions.
3. A system for appealing decisions made by the committee.
4. A system for ensuring that the code is applied consistently and fairly.

The group is also considering the following questions:

1. How should the code be implemented?
2. How should the committee be constituted?
3. What are the appropriate sanctions for violations?
4. How should the code be enforced?

The group is working on these questions in order to develop a system that is fair, effective, and consistent.
"We are always looking for other schools to be part of the AACSB family," said that the Business School should be part of the AACSB network. "When you see a school not accredited by the AACSB, it is not as good."}

The accreditation process, which is supervised by a team of experts, involves a thorough review of the school's mission, goals, and objectives. The team also examines the school's faculty, students, and programs to ensure that they meet the AACSB's standards.

More than 7,000 institutions worldwide have obtained AACSB accreditation, which is the highest form of business school recognition. The AACSB's criteria are designed to ensure that business schools provide high-quality education and prepare students for successful careers.

AACSB accreditation is sought by the Business School to improve its reputation, attract more students, and enhance the job prospects of its graduates. The school is working with a consulting firm to assess its strengths and weaknesses and develop a strategic plan for improvement.

The AACSB accreditation process is voluntary, and institutions can choose to seek accreditation or to continue without it. However, obtaining AACSB accreditation can be a prestigious achievement for a business school, and it can lead to increased funding and support from employers and other stakeholders.

AACSB accreditation is recognized by many major employers, who require or recommend it for hiring new graduates. This recognition can help business schools attract top-quality students and faculty, and it can improve the school's reputation and standing in the business community.

In summary, AACSB accreditation is a valuable asset for business schools, and it can help them enhance their reputation, attract more students, and improve the job prospects of their graduates. Institutions that seek accreditation should be prepared to undergo a thorough review of their programs and to make any necessary improvements to meet the AACSB's standards.
President Carter has signed into law the following:

- A $65 billion appropriations bill for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education, and Welfare.
- The Federal Communications Commission has refused to renew the broadcast license for a station in the city of Pennsylvania's FM radio station.
- The commission ruled that the university's license had failed to exercise proper supervision over the station.
- It ordered the station, WSNX, to be operated by students, the trustees were accountable for its operation, the commission said.
- The complaint against the station, WSNX, a public radio station that is a part of the University of Pennsylvania, was filed.
- The complaint stated that the station had failed to provide financial assistance to students.
- The students of the station claimed that the university had failed to provide financial assistance to students.
- The station was fined $25,000.
- The station had failed to provide financial assistance to students.
- The station had failed to provide financial assistance to students.
- The station had failed to provide financial assistance to students.
- The station had failed to provide financial assistance to students.
In Memoriam

The creation of the Misty Daley Lectorship Fund offers Georgetown students the unique opportunity to directly contribute in the betterment of the University, especially the Fine Arts Department while at the same time help one student's hopes be realized. We are all students who participated in the endowment program.

For those who may not know, Misty Daley was a senior Fine Arts major who last February was fatally injured by a hit-and-run driver while jogging near her home. This year, two of Misty's friends suggested that a fund be set up to help the Fine Arts Department in the name. In proposing the idea to student government leaders, they asked that the student directors be the main contributors to the endowment. The Fine Arts Department now hopes to raise $3.00, starting from the fund to help the Fine Arts Department. Studies are being asked to contribute $3 towards this effort.

Once collected, the endowment would be used to hire one guest lecturer per year in some field of the fine arts. Clearly, the benefits from this type of program are many. Firstly, there is the benefit of an additional fine arts class at Georgetown; the fact that 300 students were closed out of such classes this fall is indication enough that additional programs are needed and desired on the Hilltop. Secondly, in the face of inadequate funding, the fact that students would be able to attend these classes.

Thirdly, and most importantly, the Misty Daley Fund represents an effort by students to produce an interesting arts program in the name of a fellow student. For a lowly $3.00, all of Georgetown’s most try to help us fulfill this proposal. It is an idea whose time has come.

Blinker

To the Editor:

This is the 28th issue of the Blinker, a publication dedicated to the students of the Department of Biology. The Blinker is a student-run publication that seeks to provide a platform for students to express their opinions and ideas.

In this issue, we will feature articles on various topics, including but not limited to, academic achievements, campus life, and current events.

We encourage all students to contribute to the Blinker. Whether you are a professor, student, or just a casual reader, your voice is important to us. Please feel free to submit your own articles or suggestions for future issues.

Thank you, and we look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Editor, Blinker
All too often, when considering the idea of an honor code system at Georgetown, the idea is criticized as an outdated practice, anachronistic, and a throwback to the days of the reading room, the library, and the sense of community that once permeated academic life. It is indeed important, for the potential survival of an honor code system, that we consider its role as a vital link in the chain of modern educational institutions, a community that must be fostered and maintained. The idea behind an honor code system at Georgetown is to foster a sense of responsibility and accountability among students, to encourage a culture of integrity and honesty, and to promote a system of values that are based on mutual respect and trust.

Does Governmental Conduct Teach Cheating by Example?

by Richard Conway

You've heard of buy one, get one free, but I have never heard of buy one and get ten free. A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

A Chapter of ‘Moby Dick’

by Richard Conway

A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

Would an Honor Code Work at Georgetown University?

by Richard Conway

All too often, when considering the idea of an honor code system at Georgetown, the idea is criticized as an outdated practice, anachronistic, and a throwback to the days of the reading room, the library, and the sense of community that once permeated academic life. It is indeed important, for the potential survival of an honor code system, that we consider its role as a vital link in the chain of modern educational institutions, a community that must be fostered and maintained. The idea behind an honor code system at Georgetown is to foster a sense of responsibility and accountability among students, to encourage a culture of integrity and honesty, and to promote a system of values that are based on mutual respect and trust.

Does Governmental Conduct Teach Cheating by Example?

by Richard Conway

You've heard of buy one, get one free, but I have never heard of buy one and get ten free. A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

A Chapter of ‘Moby Dick’

by Richard Conway

A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

Would an Honor Code Work at Georgetown University?

by Richard Conway

All too often, when considering the idea of an honor code system at Georgetown, the idea is criticized as an outdated practice, anachronistic, and a throwback to the days of the reading room, the library, and the sense of community that once permeated academic life. It is indeed important, for the potential survival of an honor code system, that we consider its role as a vital link in the chain of modern educational institutions, a community that must be fostered and maintained. The idea behind an honor code system at Georgetown is to foster a sense of responsibility and accountability among students, to encourage a culture of integrity and honesty, and to promote a system of values that are based on mutual respect and trust.

Does Governmental Conduct Teach Cheating by Example?

by Richard Conway

You've heard of buy one, get one free, but I have never heard of buy one and get ten free. A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

A Chapter of ‘Moby Dick’

by Richard Conway

A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

Would an Honor Code Work at Georgetown University?

by Richard Conway

All too often, when considering the idea of an honor code system at Georgetown, the idea is criticized as an outdated practice, anachronistic, and a throwback to the days of the reading room, the library, and the sense of community that once permeated academic life. It is indeed important, for the potential survival of an honor code system, that we consider its role as a vital link in the chain of modern educational institutions, a community that must be fostered and maintained. The idea behind an honor code system at Georgetown is to foster a sense of responsibility and accountability among students, to encourage a culture of integrity and honesty, and to promote a system of values that are based on mutual respect and trust.

Does Governmental Conduct Teach Cheating by Example?

by Richard Conway

You've heard of buy one, get one free, but I have never heard of buy one and get ten free. A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

A Chapter of ‘Moby Dick’

by Richard Conway

A young man from the Cleveland Indiana who declared war on his mother's heart if she crossed the street, viewed himself as the man of the house, and determined to take care of it himself. And in a minimalist world, the student may come to expect the same level of discipline and responsibility. That is one of the reasons why honor codes are so important today. They provide a mechanism for reinforcing the values that we believe are essential to the educational process.

Would an Honor Code Work at Georgetown University?

by Richard Conway

All too often, when considering the idea of an honor code system at Georgetown, the idea is criticized as an outdated practice, anachronistic, and a throwback to the days of the reading room, the library, and the sense of community that once permeated academic life. It is indeed important, for the potential survival of an honor code system, that we consider its role as a vital link in the chain of modern educational institutions, a community that must be fostered and maintained. The idea behind an honor code system at Georgetown is to foster a sense of responsibility and accountability among students, to encourage a culture of integrity and honesty, and to promote a system of values that are based on mutual respect and trust.
Off to see the New Wizard? Don't Bother

Art and Entertainment

The Election Commission announces

ONE SENIOR SENATE POSITION
ONE SOPHOMORE SENATE POSITION
CANDIDATES MUST

Register on:

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6
4:30 - 7:30 p.m.

In Election Commission Office
Registration Day Only!

Details to be given at registration.

Nicholson Goes Too Far South

Jack Nicholson seems to have earned the Academy Award again. First time his role is a hideously campy one, The Wiz. Now comes Go'IN the Door, which he directs (his second; his first was Drive, My Baby! as well as scripts). It is a film with a lot of promise; a good deal of a cerebral.

Probably, one of the directors' best work since he directed Go'IN the Door, this time he's the best. But not enough control was exerted and Nicholson's inspiration was not the only thing (ordering when auditioned in a Five Dances). But the film's overall character goes on your nerves after a while. With Nicholson, improvisation, the other stars get pushed right out of the picture.

The film is about three women—Meryl Streep, a singer who safes the song's music by a singing lady; Lily Tomlin, who is Nicholson's musical influences, but she does not live like him, she is tied up and raped her; then, of course, she falls in love with him. John Belushi plays a music impresario, but his part is too small to be of much notice. Hardly enjoyable. The score line comes when he falls in the sewer.

Jack Nicholson is a fairly good director in his own characteristic way, but, as he is dragged out the door. Nicholson's gestures, movements, are past perished right out of the picture. The film is about three women—Meryl Streep, a singer who safes the song's music by a singing lady; Lily Tomlin, who is Nicholson's musical influences, but she does not live like him, she is tied up and raped her; then, of course, she falls in love with him. John Belushi plays a music impresario, but his part is too small to be of much notice. Hardly enjoyable. The score line comes when he falls in the sewer.

Nicholson wants to keep the film for it to be any more meaningful. He is not up to par.

The Election Commission announces

ONE SENIOR SENATE POSITION
ONE SOPHOMORE SENATE POSITION
CANDIDATES MUST

Register on:

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6
4:30 - 7:30 p.m.

In Election Commission Office
Registration Day Only!

Details to be given at registration.
Kudos for Neil Young

With Comes a Time

Neil Young may well be the most uncelebrated rock star alive today. Many fans—fans of五月天, and guitar work with Beatles, Grateful Dead, Crazy Horse, CSN, and as a soloist. Yet the public has never quite taken his music where it should have, and most people, when asked whether they liked Neil Young’s music, will answer with a shrug of the shoulders. This is actually a shame, because Neil Young’s music is among the best in the world.
News & features

Does Georgetown Suffer From Academic Dishonesty?

Two years ago, just prior to the West Point scandal, U.S. News and World Report cited two student polls: one at Lehigh University which showed that 47% admitted they cheated sometimes; and the other at Johns Hopkins, where 30% admitted they cheated sometimes.

A recent "mini" poll of Hoyas at GU, conducted by the Student Senate Communications Committee shows that of the 40 upperclassmen polled:

- 38% don't feel that cheating is a problem at Georgetown, but that "in varying degrees it appears that it exists.
- More than half admit to having used notes, a text, or someone else's text during a test occasionally. 19.4% admitted the practice this way occasionally, while 29.2% said they practiced it to some degree in certain subjects occasionally. 19.4% admitted the practice this way occasionally; and the other at Johns Hopkins, where 30% don't feel that cheating is a problem at -

"The Importance of ' honor system.'

"A number of students at Georgetown University have taken their first examination. The students were asked whether they have either given or received any assistance in their examinations. The results are as follows:

- 58% don't feel that cheating is a problem at -

Applications for NSO Staff Positions

All Students Interested in Applying for NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION STAFF positions will be distributed after this meeting.

Please Come to the General Information Meeting

- On Wednesday, November 8, 1978 at 9:00 PM
- In Room 201h, White-Gravenor

UPQC is back!

The annual Ugly Person On Campus competition will be held next week. You can vote for any of the declared candidates—or write-in—a name of your own. The winner will be announced at the end of the competition.
New Hockey Squad Hits Hilltop

By Andrew S. Glick

After an absence of over ten years in hockey finality is coming to Georgetown with a group of highly motivated athletes and an unprelentated cause. When the initial organizational meeting was held at the begining of October, a strong turnout of over thirty prospective players was a very pleasing sight to coach Dave Haggart.

The team is being coached by Dave Haggart, former a co-der of the Canadian Olympic squad and is expected to be a very strong team to contend for this hockey-heavy run. Though in his early 40's, his superior physical condition has already gained the admission of the much younger players. As sorority presidents Jeff Cranen points out, "We all support the man, because he has still skate circles around the rest of us."

Though some practices have been held thus far, Haggart is unpre-vented to comment on the team. "I think that the team has good potential," he stated. "We have two good lives, several strong defensemen, and several promising guards."

The team will be playing in the local Chesapeake Bay Hockey League, starning in the next couple of weeks. The vac-cation are Cornell, Fairleigh Dickinson, which he sees as Georgetown's main shoe-ins-they will both field excellent teams," he remarked. The other teams in the league are St. John's, George Town, Maryland, which placed second, and Villanova University, which will be playing the sport for the first time in five years.

The squad is recruited from Princeton, Lehigh, and Dickinson (of the Garden State) with an amazingly low score of 36 points-100 points less than their second place finisher, Fairleigh Dickinson.

The new Georgetown Hockey Club in action

Harrkars Prepare for NCAA's

By Mauricio Sullivan

The Men's Cross Country team is gearing up for the NCAA District V Championships to take place at Lehigh University (Bethlehem, Pa.) on November 11, after their eighth place team finished last Friday's running of the IC4A's-the Eastern Championships.

The NCAA's new ruling requiring a team's eligibility to compete in a district meet, however, places penalties on the Georgetown team. As coach Joe Lang commented on the happenings, "It's just another factor that we have to..." He points out that his team has been working hard to prepare for the meet and will continue to work towards recognition as a collectivity club sport.

"Outstanding Citizen of the Year"

Gregorek run outstanding races while competing against 28 teams in the mid-sixties, but after a few years of heavy duties, it disappeared. It has now resur-ced in the past five years, and is again a good indicator of how we will do at Lehigh.

The annual Van Cortlandt Park Race will "go well" according to Lang, although there will not be any heavy duties for the team for the first time in five years. "I believe our junior Dave Domeny, announcing the first week of March." It succeeded in generating which will

tickets then."

"Though only three practices have thus far, Hackett is melted Rayesys for the first time in five years. It has been a long and succeeded in generating which will be able to roll into next year."

the decisions of the Athletic Department concerning the team's future status as either a club or varsity sport. The problems themselves are just the player their sport by law. Our atten-cutional agent will protect our players, but we are not goalies." Georgetown did have a career high scoring goal this year with 10 goals. September was named as the league's best outfielder of the 77-78 season. It

"The players have been run out of Georgetown's Women's team, for the Hilltop Coach, and other recipi-tees, tomorrow night at 12:45 P.M. at the interna-ational line.

Tokens for the Maryland, Indiana and Georgia games are available in the McDonald Ticket Office. Students who purchased "mini-packages" can also pick up their tickets then.

The harriers have qualified for the IC4A's-the Eastern Championships, to take place at Lehigh University. The annual Van Cortlandt Park Race will "go well" according to Lang, although there will not be any heavy duties for the team for the first time in five years. "I believe our junior Dave Domeny, and Freshmen Phil Reilly will find their way into the starting lineup," said Lang.

"The annual Van Cortlandt Park Race will "go well" according to Lang, although there will not be any heavy duties for the team for the first time in five years. "I believe our junior Dave Domeny, and Freshmen Phil Reilly will find their way into the starting lineup," said Lang.

40.22 to 45.1 per hour

16 to 35 hours per week

Must have own transportation

Candidates Must be U.S. Citizens and at least 16 Years of Age.

The Central Intelligence Agency Announces

PART-TIME JOB OPENINGS

Assisting agents in analyzing the many spies, to give them the best results. "We have a few injuries but everyone is

Hackett is pleased with the new players. The team has a few injuries but everyone is

George
town's Women's team, op-gined by Senior Kate Sidwell, will be competing against 28 teams in the NCAA District Championships at Lehigh. Vermont tomorrow. The "girls in green and navy suit the game well," commented Lang. "I hope they will show up into the top 15 after finishing 18th last season."

Prized Nuclear Reactor On Line

A place in the Navy's Nuclear Field Is a place in the forefront of today's fastest-growing energy field, and tomorrow's major source of power.

The

presidential visitor over 50% per month during their senior year in college, without any change in your present curriculum. The Navy operate these more than half the reactors in America and offers the most comprehensive graduate level education available in the field. This nuclear engineering school is approximately one year long (excluding freshman summer), and is administered by the National Academy of Science's Nuclear Energy Commission. The key is your grade point average of this program over 3.25, and a minimum of 0.01 annual salary after three years on the job experience.

For further information call Lieutenant Randy Reinhardt at

(301) 231-1200

Be someone special. Join the Nuclear Navy.

The new Georgetown Hockey Club is alive

WASHINGTON D.C.

BETHESDA

ROCKVILLE

SILVER SPRING

GAITHERSBURG

WASHINGTON, D.C.

BETHESDA, MARYLAND

ANNOUNCES

PRESURIZED WATER REACTOR POWER PLANT

526-3333

567-3510

WALTER KAPLAN

SPECIALISTS IN NUCLEAR ENGINEERING AND RELATED PROFESSIONS SINCE 1952

We Are Also Specializing in Call Sizes, Call Size and Reduced Fringe

FOR TEMPS

FOR PART-TIME

FOR TEMP

FOR TEMP

FOR TEMP

WE HAVE MANY VACANCIES!!--ALL PROFESSIONAL LEVELS AVAILABLE! WE OFFER TOP PAY FOR TOP TEMPS!

WHAT IS A CLAMATO?

You can win

$2,000,

500,

or $250 for the right answer

For details write:

What Is a Clamato Contest

1212 Avenue of Americas

New York, New York 10020

$24,000 annual salary after three years of work.

 augmentation, "These are the benefits of being a Navy nuclear engineer."

The new Georgetown Hockey Club is alive

Day Hours-For Clerks and Typists

20 to 30 hours per week (Monday thru Friday; flexible between 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.)

Convenient Public Transportation Available

Evening Hours- For Security Escorts

16 to 25 hours per week

Must have own transportation

Send resumes to:

Office of Personnel

P. O. Box 235

Washington, D.C. 20013

Equal Opportunity Employer

Yourself 10 help for you and your baby.

And See For

244-3010

...WHAT...·, .. ·

Citizens and at Least Years of Age.

TO BE CONDUCTED

"...WHAT...·, .. ·

244-3010

New York, New York 10020

"...WHAT...·, .. ·

244-3010

...WHAT...·, .. ·

244-3010

"...WHAT...·, .. ·
Philadelphia. Attending a Regatta party thrown at Jim Costello, Smith, the boat, from coxswain to bow, was division, Georgetown’s heavyweight enthusiasm line the banks of the Potomac. Jay Forster, himself a Georgetown grad, very promising efforts. Both the heavy-division upperclassmen for this sprint winter months, workouts for all the team. Sprott’s crew decided to be an exact carbon copy of the 1977 National Champion crew that the Hoyas will face on Saturday. In the meantime, the squad is looking forward to returning. Not since the return of the Hoyas has there been a more exciting time in the history of the Hoyas’ dream of “Hoyafield” for their season.”

Looks for Homecoming Revenge

Football Suffers First Loss, 33-32

Look for Homecoming Revenge

Football Suffers First Loss, 33-32

Football Suffers First Loss, 33-32

Look for Homecoming Revenge

Football Suffers First Loss, 33-32

Look for Homecoming Revenge