Parents, Calliope Share Social Agenda Spotlight

Calliope

Calliope II will make its appearance on Holy Trinity stage tonight, Friday and Saturday night at 8 p.m. This year's production, entitled "Down the Hatch," is the work of author-producer Bill Gargaro.

The story of Calliope can be found in the annals of the Mask and Bauble and the Class of 1960. In the spring of 1959, members of the Class of 1960 merged what was to be their Senior Show with the talents of the Mask and Bauble, opening the production to University-wide participation. This merger resulted in the creation of Calliope, an original musical comedy written and produced as the final dramatic presentation of the academic year.

"Down the Hatch" features a band of trolls, an excursion into voodoo magic, and the "Where Do You Go When You Know Out of Hell?" ch-ch-ch-cha. Most of the action centers around Sin Swamp, Bunn. Gargaro's musical and lyrics which he wrote Gargaro, no stranger to the field of creative writing, writes for The HOYA, Viewpoint, and The Journal, and has recently written for the television show Leave It To Beaver. Gargaro excels in other fields also, as he was awarded the V'94 O'Brien Philodemic Medal for 1960. He has also been elected to deliver the Cohonurion Address during graduation exercises.

"Down the Hatch" is directed by Mr. Donn B. Murphy, the director of the Mask and Bauble for the past six years. Other key people on the staff are: Mike McAllister (standing), Charlie Roes, Charlie Matthews, and Dick Luby.

Key Measure Approved After Six Hour Session by Bill Hodgman

Last Sunday night, after a marathon session, the Georgetown College Student Council amended an Honor Code and approved it by a 18-4 margin. This Code will take effect upon the Class of 1965 and will bind all succeeding classes if in the judgment of the Administration it is ratified by three-fourths of a quorum of at least 40 percent of the student body and is then approved by the Administration before June 1.

The Honor Code had previously been introduced as an amendment to the Student Council Constitution, but opposition within the Council forced its withdrawal, and the Code was reintroduced and accepted as a simple motion. The final vote came as an anti-climax after six hours of debate, proposals, and counter-proposals, and after several Council members were removed from their beds in order that the resolution, if approved, could be placed on the ballot of today's elections.

The provisions of the Honor Code refer specifically and only to the social side of college life. The Honor System is directed against any form of cheating on examinations or tests of any kind. Under the Honor Code, every man in every class must regard himself as an independent student, and if he is caught in any form, and to report any cheating that comes to his knowledge.

Failure to comply with this latter obligation will be considered a violation of equal magnitude as the original violation.

An Honor Board shall be composed of four seniors and two juniors, and the Dean of the College. In order to find a student guilty, the Board must reach a unanimous decision.

The usual penalty for violation of the Honor Code shall be a recommendation that the offender be expelled. The Honor Board shall be permitted to allow the guilty student to resign from the College if so decides by a majority vote. Any penalties less than this must be by a two-thirds vote of the Board.

An amendment "The usual penalty for violation of the Honor Code shall be expulsion, and any decision of the Honor Board shall be binding on the Administration," was debated vigorously, then defeated by one vote. Another amendment also defeated was one which would have required the Honor Code to be approved by a simple majority of the student body.

Controversial Honor Code Passed by Student Council

Honor Code... Final Student Council vote takes place on April 18.

"Down the Hatch" will be produced by the Georgetown University Band and Glee Club and is then approved by WGTR.

Debaters Seek Championship After Regional Turnover Sweep

After compiling a 15-1 first-place victory in the Regional Eliminations Tournament, the Philodemic Society has been invited to participate in the National Intercollegiate Debate Finals to be held at West Point on April 27 through 29.

From the 35 teams that started at Morgan State University on March 24 and 25, five teams were chosen to compete at West Point. This tournament was an over-all holding victory for the George Town team represented by John Brough and John Hemptalman. Approximately 70 debaters participated in this tournament and after eight rounds Hemptalman was awarded second place in speakers positions and Brough seventh. This victory established perfecting such schools as King's College, the determined favorite, Princeton, and the University of Virginia.

The Weekend

The top thirty teams of the nation chose through regional competition will participate in the tournament at West Point, which will determine the national championship. Hemptalman and Brough, seeded among the top eight teams, will compete against the teams from such schools as Dartmouth, Harvard, University of Miami, Ohio State, and Baylor, all of which are nationally recognized in debate.

The tournament will consist of eight preliminary rounds and four final rounds with the two man debates on both the affirmative and negative in alternate rounds. It will be judged by experts from throughout the nation. The team of Brough and Hemptalman, coached by Dr. William Reynolds, who has had the Philodemic Society into national prominence.

The subject of Debate--Oates' speech will be "Aristotle and Plato's Theory of Ideas." Oates' research in this area is expected to be a major point in the case of Debate.

HYPARCHOS...Eta Sigma Phi President, Dick Parry.

Dr. Whitney, J. C. Oates, head of the Princeton University classics Department and author of several books on classical subjects, will give a lecture to Eta Sigma Phi at 8:00 this evening in New South Lounge.

HONOR CODE... Final Student Council vote is taken on April 18.

"Down the Hatch" will be produced by the Georgetown University Band and Glee Club and is then approved by WGTR.

Eta Sigma Phi Ends Lectures

"Down the Hatch" will be produced by the Georgetown University Band and Glee Club and is then approved by WGTR.

HYPARCHOS...Eta Sigma Phi President, Dick Parry.

Dr. Whitney, J. C. Oates, head of the Princeton University classics Department and author of several books on classical subjects, will give a lecture to Eta Sigma Phi at 8:00 this evening in New South Lounge.

The subject of Debate--Oates' speech will be "Aristotle and Plato's Theory of Ideas." Oates' research in this area is expected to be a major point in the case of Debate.

HYPARCHOS...Eta Sigma Phi President, Dick Parry.

Dr. Whitney, J. C. Oates, head of the Princeton University classics Department and author of several books on classical subjects, will give a lecture to Eta Sigma Phi at 8:00 this evening in New South Lounge.

"Down the Hatch" will be produced by the Georgetown University Band and Glee Club and is then approved by WGTR.

HYPARCHOS...Eta Sigma Phi President, Dick Parry.

Dr. Whitney, J. C. Oates, head of the Princeton University classics Department and author of several books on classical subjects, will give a lecture to Eta Sigma Phi at 8:00 this evening in New South Lounge.

The subject of Debate--Oates' speech will be "Aristotle and Plato's Theory of Ideas." Oates' research in this area is expected to be a major point in the case of Debate.

HYPARCHOS...Eta Sigma Phi President, Dick Parry.
A Warning

Both the freshmen and the sophomores going to the polls today. We can do no more than warn them of the difficulty of their decision and trust that they will realize this problem of recognizing the few deserving candidates to be running for office.

If, after three years of searching for capable office holders, the Class of 1962 can only discover eight deserving candidates among the underclassmen. In our opinion, no more than three of these junior candidates deserve to be running for office. Similarly, only three or four of those who competed in the recent Yard elections should have been in the race. Therefore, we admit the existence of no more than eight deserving office-seekers in the Junior Class, a class which has performed a relatively capable job of cleaning its political act and which has had three years in which to do so.

Round-Up

On Saturday, April 28, 1961 at 10:30 a.m., the Y’s of the District of Columbia and the Class of 1961 in Hurst Hall on the American University campus will choose a National Committee man (man) and woman for the National Committee, and delegates to the Conventions of YDs to be held in Miami Beach May 5-7.

WGBF-AM will broadcast the results of the class election from the Yard at 3:30 p.m. today. The coverage will last until the results have been decided.

On Thursday, April 26, the Student Council sent a letter to Dr. Hugh H. Russey, Dean of the Medical School, to explain the purpose of this speech and to request that it be given at 8:00 p.m. in Gaston Hall.

In accordance with the tradition begun in May, 1930, the annual outdoor devotions in honor of Our Lady will begin on Monday, May 1 at noon before the橘rite of the Divine Office on the Copley Lawn. Speakers for the services will include the senior members of the Student Council.

Letters To The Editor

To The Gentlemen of Georgetown: As a member of the Class of 1961, I am asked to vote whether or not Georgetown should have its Honor Code. We believe that there is a marked apathy within the student body toward the idea of being confronted by others nor being confronted by others not on a basis of respect for the system. There are definite advantages within this code as well as responsibilities. This code will only gain a voice in our affairs after we individually realize our capability of responsibility, for, as Father Slingier has said: "Privilege will only follow responsibility."

As we see it, the most popular question on the Honor System is: "Is it worth the effort?" By this is meant the report of the most probably handi-cap of the Honor Code by another student. We feel that this is an integral part of the code, and it can be defended on two levels: one, the theoretical, and the other practical. We must believe that the code will prevent "gifts" to others, and we are capable of responsibility, for, as Father Slingier has said: "Privilege will only follow responsibility."

To The Editor:

We are writing to protest the您的文章's article on the subject of political apathy. We feel that the article is unjust and misleading. We believe that our generation is as active and involved as any other generation. We struggle to make ends meet, and we work hard to achieve our goals. We are concerned about the world around us, and we strive to make a difference.

We would like to invite you to come and see our community for yourself. We can show you the many ways in which our generation is involved and active. We can tell you about the people who are working hard to make a difference in the world.

We hope that you will consider our perspective and that you will report on our generation more accurately in the future.

The Editors
Arts and Letters
by N. John Klümer
Point O' View

Even the most elementary discussion concerning the philosophical circumstances of J. P. Sartre must of necessity involve his novel of love in the priestly life, Le Serre du Néant. The vicissitude of this premise introduces a more than incudate neologism of intellectual periphrasis.

In order to fully demonstrate this, in this, of necessity, brief essay, it would seem of benefit first to resequence the events of occurrences between the two[sic]; the phenomenon of their love plenmamoss, to visit a friend of his, Mr Smith, who, like all of Sartre's characters, is free. But, as Hugo Mueller has so intelligently demonstrated in his exhaustive study, "Prædæl Schmidt ist wohnt an Hausen."

Indeed, herein lies the crux of the matter. Igor, disappointed, goes to visit a friend of his who is so free he doesn't even hurt him.
Freedom, Igor discovers, seems to be to all people, even if they don't care. "Ein mensch, qui n'est pas un dramep" a question which Sartre attempts, though vainly, to clarify. This, as a Russian proverb, comes to mind in the restaurant or the cabaret, answers into his beer the unanswerable question, "C'est quoi, de plus belle?" As Professor Heinrich von Dimplesdorfer has remarked, showing in one brief word a sturdy insight into the depths of Sartrean ontology,
"Wweise!"

But there are deeper matters here than meet the eye. We must not take a moment's light of the fact that Sartre, having his novel written in Braille to give them to death, may not be dismissed merely as an author of what the French critic describes as an
"absurdly inscrutable scrimmage". The boot is on the shoe, and McQuiston, who has written it out, not without some scorable virtuality,
"J'âna, sacer de verra veal. I fach mens'!" he remarks, (as may be seen by looking at the page above).

But herein do we also find the most primary effect of Sartre's novel. Although his principal consideration in writing is purely numismatological, as any of his serious students will immediately gain, the effect of Igor's oblique and pure freedom is a powerful one. Sartre demonstrates for us with inconvertible turgidity, the pointlessness of his (Igor's, I guess) existence because he is so tragically free that he never knows from one moment to the next what is going to happen to him. This, indeed, is the simian tragedy of Sartre. This is the tragedy of every man, even those who belligerently refuse to accept Sartre's brilliant logical structures. His dialogues fairly hum with the plethora of logical sequences. Consider this small gem of a syllogism uttered in a conversation between Mle Smith and Igor: Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
"Well! We'll all have tea."

What beauty in what dyspnoeal simplicity! What truth in what economy of means! The first three propositions follow one from another, and then the fourth follows inexorably after the first three (as may easily be seen by looking at the page above).

Professor Heinrich von Dimplesdorfer has remarked, showing in one brief word a sturdy insight into the depths of Sartrean ontology,
"Wweise!"

But there are deeper matters here than meet the eye. We must not take a moment's light of the fact that Sartre, having his novel
written in Braille to give them to death, may not be dismissed merely as an author of what the French critic describes as an
"absurdly inscrutable scrimmage". The boot is on the shoe, and McQuiston, who has written it out, not without some scorable virtuality,
"J'âna, sacer de verra veal. I fach mens'!" he remarks, (as may be seen by looking at the page above).

But herein do we also find the most primary effect of Sartre's novel. Although his principal consideration in writing is purely numismatological, as any of his serious students will immediately gain, the effect of Igor's oblique and pure freedom is a powerful one. Sartre demonstrates for us with inconvertible turgidity, the pointlessness of his (Igor's, I guess) existence because he is so tragically free that he never knows from one moment to the next what is going to happen to him. This, indeed, is the simian tragedy of Sartre. This is the tragedy of every man, even those who belligerently refuse to accept Sartre's brilliant logical structures. His dialogues fairly hum with the plethora of logical sequences. Consider this small gem of a syllogism uttered in a conversation between Mle Smith and Igor: Polly
put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
Polly put the kettle on
"Well! We'll all have tea."

What beauty in what dyspnoeal simplicity! What truth in what economy of means! The first three propositions follow one from another,
and then the fourth follows inexorably after the first three (as may easily be seen by looking at the page above).

First Orphans Day Planned

On Ascension Thursday, May 11, the Student Council will sponsor an Orphans' Day under the chairmanship of Juniour Class President Vince
Wolflington. Mr. Wolflington and his committee, composed of members of the junior class, have organized the entire festivities which will fill the better part of the day.

The buses will arrive under the tree at 10:00, accompanied by the children. At 10:00 the local fire department will stage an hour demonstration in front of the gymnasium. Then the children will be whisked to the Student canteen for a visit to the carnival at the Nursing School. A $1.00 entrance fee will be collected beforehand to defray expenses for food and prizes.

At 4:00 the buses will return to the Nursing School for luncheon in the Amusement Park. The carnival will be entertained until their departure at 4:00. Volunteers for the Student Council custodians must notify their names to the presidents of their respective classes no later
(Continued on Page 7)
Future Sophomore Officers Selected By Frosh Ballots

Despite the absence of roll-up polls, marching bands, and whistle stops, the frosh class will hold its year elections today. Seventeen men are declared candidates for the five offices at stake. For the top prize of president three candidates have presented their names to the ballot, Mark Pisano, Marshall Michel, and Drew Valentine.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

Marshall Michel

Marshall Michel attended Country High School in New Orleans. This year he has participated in Dowd Rifles, the intramural football team, and served as Student Council representative for the freshman class.

"I believe that the president of the class should act as a unifying force not only among the members of the class but also between the class, the Student Council, and the Administration. I think that my position this year on both the Student and class council has given me the experience to handle the job effectively. I am elected. I will not operate alone, but with the class officers, the class council, and the class itself in presenting our views," he said.

Mark Pisano

Mark Pisano comes from San Jose, California and Bellarmine Prep. During his first year at Georgetown he has participated in the CCD, the History Club, and cross country.

"I will direct our ideas to the people of the specific town from where I come from, a town in San Jose, California and Bellarmine Prep. A staff, the CCD, the History Club, and cross country."

"During his first year at Georgetown he has participated in the CCD, the History Club, and cross country. His hope is that he will be able to handle the job effectively."

Gala Spring Weekend Headline Social Slate

This year's welcome to the warm weather known among students as the Spring Weekend, and among the committee members as the Blue-Grey Weekend, will take place on May 5 and 6.

As the official title suggests, the theme of the proceedings will be the Civil War Centennial, and in addition to other diversions will feature a program of Civil War commemorations, to be followed by the annual Military Day proceedings, on Saturday afternoon.

The committee has given its assurance that this part of the program will not interfere with the aspirations of ROTC cadets to sail the Potomac that afternoon. Dr. Ruby has said that the main part of the ceremonies will be over by 2:00, and ROTC officials say that their maneuvers will take no more than an hour.

The festivities will begin with a formal dance in McDonough Gymnasium from 9:00 till 1:00 on Friday night.

Gala Spring Weekend Headline Social Slate

This year's welcome to the warm weather known among students as the Spring Weekend, and among the committee members as the Blue-Grey Weekend, will take place on May 5 and 6.

As the official title suggests, the theme of the proceedings will be the Civil War Centennial, and in addition to other diversions will feature a program of Civil War commemorations, to be followed by the annual Military Day proceedings, on Saturday afternoon.

The committee has given its assurance that this part of the program will not interfere with the aspirations of ROTC cadets to sail the Potomac that afternoon. Dr. Ruby has said that the main part of the ceremonies will be over by 2:00, and ROTC officials say that their maneuvers will take no more than an hour.

The festivities will begin with a formal dance in McDonough Gymnasium from 9:00 till 1:00 on Friday night. Billy May's orchestra, under the direction of Frank Lester, will be featured. Refreshments will be available. The usual permissions will be granted from the local girls' schools.

A Potomac cruise on the S.S. Mount Vernon will leave the dock at Maine Avenue at approximately 4:00 p.m. on Saturday and will return by about 6:30. Beverages will be served, and a five-piece rock and roll combo known as the Bad Boys will provide the rhythm.

Tickets for the weekend will sell for $10.00, and will be on sale in the Dining Hall. Some doubt remains as to whether split tickets will be available.

Co-chairman of the annual event are sophomores Joe Cavanaugh and Paul Sullivan. Other members of the committees include Pat Woerner, decorations; and Doug Dabbert, finances; as well as Jim Chandler, Hugh Long, John Brough, Ron McDonough, John McGuire, Mike Gramling, Frank Brufdey, Kevin Leary, Tony Sadiak, Al Meyer, Jim Raymond, Tom McNamara, and Steve Lo Re.

Chairman Sullivan expresses his hope that everyone who can will make the trip to the Weekend. It will be a fine affair, and with all the work that the committee has done, everyone should have a great time.

BLUE-GRAY WEEKEND COMMITTEE . . . Left to right: Kevin Leary, Joe Cavanaugh (co-chairman), John Brough, Paul Sullivan (co-chairman), and Jim Chandler.
Young Rhode Island Senator

This evening at 9:00 p.m., the Young Democrats Club of Georgetown University presents a lecture by Senator Claiborn Pell, the newly elected Democratic Senator from Rhode Island. The lecture, which will be held in Copley Lounge, will center upon a consideration of Foreign Relations and Diplomatic Affairs of the United States.

Senator Pell was elected in the last Congressional Elections to succeed the former Senator Theodore Green. Senator Pell's forebears include five members of the United States House of Representatives and the Senate. He has followed this tradition, and has served as Consultant to the Democratic National Committee since 1953.

Law Board Tests Altered To Include More Liberal Arts

A major change in the Law Board's test has recently been announced by the Educational Testing Service. These alterations, made with the aim of broadening the liberal arts, add two sections to the exam.

The changes are in two fields, one to measure the level of writing skill of the student and one to test abilities in the humanities, sciences, and social sciences. The first section will run for eighty minutes and will test grammatical structure in original writing as well as recognizing and correcting verbose writing. The second part will consist of ninety questions equally divided among the three parts.

Testing Lengthened

The Law Aptitude Test now consists of half a day of quizzing but with the additions, it will continue on into the afternoon. At present also only one grade is given in the test. However, beginning next year, three grades will be given, one additional for each of the new sections.

Dr. Frank Evans, the student Law advisor, suggests that students in preparation for the test have a general review of American history and literature, government and principles of economics.

The test will be given on four occasions during the next school year, beginning on November 18, and then continuing in February, April, and August. All accredited law schools require applicants to take this test.

New IRC Officers To Resume Series

On Wednesday evening, April 19, the International Relations Club held its annual election for officers. The office of president had been awarded to Peter Handal in an election two months previous.

Elected to the post of vice president was Michael Rock, a sophomore from Wilder, Vermont. He attended Rice High School and is currently a member of Eta Sigma Phi and the Literary Club.

Tom Quinn, who is from Montclair, California, and attended Bellarmine College Prep in San Jose, received the office of secretary.

The office of treasurer went to Philip Paris, a resident of Gary, Indiana, and graduate of Lew Wallace High. Phil is a current hopeful for the presidency of the Young Democrats Club, and already occupies the office of treasurer in the Spanish Club.

Discussion Groups

The unanimous hope of these three men is to have the International Relations Club function in a broader capacity. Mike Rock has stated that, "we hope to revive the series of one-half hour discussion groups presented by members of IRC on WGBH. In this way we can stimulate interest in IRC, an interest which is rightly deserved since the club discusses the major world problems."

Tom Quinn added that, "the IRC is already planning next year's schedule. We are trying to secure members of foreign countries to speak at our meetings. We are mainly concerned with members of countries which have experienced some of the pressures of the Communist system. Our aim is a better understanding of what other nations think of the two major ideologies, communism and capitalism."

The general hope is that more students will join and participate in the IRC.

OXFORD for comfort . . . quality . . . appearance

The rich texture of fine oxford skillfully tailored gives the assurance of being well-dressed. Case in point: the Arrow University Fashion B.D. with the authentic roll of the classic button-down. Your wardrobe is incomplete without a selection of these casual Arrow shirts in both long and short sleeves.

45.00

-From the "Cum Laude Collection"- TOUGH . . . Juan Fangio and two friends round turn by main gate.
Macke’s Knife
by Bill Gargaro

"Isn't it a little cold and late for you to be down here barefoot and in your pajamas?" asked Macke the Macke machine, as Charlie Shriver entered the robot room.

"I snuck out after check because I was hungry," said Charlie, "Guess what, I just got my date for the Spring Weekend—and it's Gwenny Gown!!"

"Oh, she finally accepted a date from you, huh, Charlie? Must've wanted to go to the Spring Weekend awful bad," chided Maxie.

"Oh, no," insisted Charlie, "It wasn't she wanted to go to the Spring Weekend. She wanted to go out with me. She sounded very glad to hear from me for once."

"I see," said Maxie. "Hey, Charlie..."

"And so what I think we'll—"

"Shhhh!" hushed Maxie. "Isn't that your prefect out there by the robot room-door—talking to Father Logan?"

"My gosh, it is!" gasped Charlie. "Quick, Maxie, help me think of something! I can't get campused for Spring Weekend!"

"Hide behind me, Charlie," said Maxie. I think there's room enough back there if you can squeeze through between the cigarette machine and myself. That's it.

"Maxie, I'm stuck!" cried Charlie.

"Shh, Charlie, shut in your stomach!"

"There," said Charlie. "I made it, my prefect see me?"

"No, he's still out there," Maxie whispered. "He's coming, though."

"Maxie!" Charlie choked from behind the Macke machine. "There's a spider on my foot. They're running all over my legs, I think."

"Shhh!" whispered Maxie. "He's right in front of me."

All of a sudden, Charlie's prefect fell back in horror as a human body wearing green and red striped pajamas shot out from between the two robot machines by any chance, have your?"

"I give up, I give up," Charlie sobbed. "You can take Gwenny Gown to the Spring Weekend. Only get the spiders off me, get the spiders off me!"

"Holy Moses," gasped the prefect, "This freshman has the D.T.'s!"

"You mean there aren't any spiders on me?" laughed Charlie. "It was just my imagination?"

"You're all right," laughed his prefect, "but you're not supposed to be down here. Get up to bed before I campus you."

"Thanks," said Charlie, as he started to scamper out of the robot room.

"Oh, Shriver," his prefect called after him.

"Yes?"

"What were you standing back there for? Say, you haven't discovered a way to beat the Macke machines by any chance, have you?"

"I just figured, if you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

"Good night," laughed his prefect.

Philodemic
(Continued from page 1)

Reynolds also coaches the Gaston-White Society which has had a record year.

John Brough, a College sophomore in the Honors Program, is also a government major and on the Dean's List. He is past president of the Gaston-White and is now recording secretary of the Philodemic. Last year he won the Edward Douglass White Medal, and was rated top speaker at the Johns Hopkins and City College of New York Tournaments.

John Hempelmann, a College freshman and member of the Gaston-White Society, will be the third freshman ever to participate in the national finals. Hempelmann, a government major and on the Dean's List, was awarded top-speaker at Wake Forest and has led the Gaston-White Society to its 86% record.

This is the third time in the history of the Philodemic that they have qualified for the national finals.

Orphans Day
(Continued from Page 3)

They will be accepted on a first come, first served basis.

Mr. Wolfington encourages all student custodians to bring dates if they possibly can to provide a better organizational setup for the distribution of the children. Only juniors and seniors are eligible to volunteer.

Serving on the Orphan's Day Committee are Bob Chesner, Jerry Comore, Tim Drury, Tom Hill, George Leahy, Dick Lill, Ron Rinaldi, John Rosch, Tim Ryan, Tony Settice, Wolfington, and Vito Zambrili.

The Student Council has endorsed this endeavor as a most worthwhile project for all those who wish to help out. It will provide a great deal of satisfaction as well as a much deserved good time for the orphan children.

do they fall for you head first?

They do if you use 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic on your head first! Most men use water with their hair tonic and 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic is specially made to use with water. Water evaporates, dries out your hair. Alcohol and cream tonics evaporate, too. But 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic won't evaporate. It's 100% pure light grooming oil—replaces oil that water removes. And just a little dose a lot!

It's clear. It's white. It's 'Vaseline'.

Other shoes may look like Keds, but only U. S. Keds® can give you "that great feeling." Because Keds have a patented shockproofed arch cushion and cushioned inner sole, and because Keds are built over tested, scientific lasts, to fit all feet perfectly, even narrow ones. Keds are right for class, gym, tennis court or dorm. Machine-washable (and they even look good clean). His: Keds "Court King." Hers: Keds "Champion." Get your U. S. Keds at good shoe or department stores.

*Both U. S. Keds and the blue label are registered trademarks of United States Rubber Company.
SC REPRESENTATIVE
CANDIDATES

Ben Cabell
Ben Cabell, a resident student from the District of Columbia, is a candidate for Student Council Representative. Cabell is chairman of the Boarder Representative Committee on the Junior Class Council, a former news editor of The HOYA, has served as co-chairman of the Soph Cothall, and treasurer of the Non-Resident Sodality. He is presently a member of the APROTC and will be commissioned upon graduation and then will go on to Law School.

Cabell hopes to obtain privileges and permissions for the Senior Class by working with the Faculty and the Administration, and achieve what our class deserves. "To motivate a greater individual participation in the various class activities as a reward in itself, and as a means of gaining greater respect for our class."

CANDIDATES FOR SECRETARY

Bob Searles
Robert Searles, a BS-premed biology major from Evanston, Illinois, is the unopposed candidate for secretary. He has served on the sophomore class council, the Hazing committee, and is present on the food committee for the University picnic. In addition he is active in various clubs and intramurals.

Searles stresses communication as the main objective of his platform. In this respect he intends to publish a class newsletter every third week and a bi-semester class newspaper. He also intends to make available class stationary for official and individual use. He intends to "make a sincere effort to do the type of job which I know our senior class deserves."

CANDIDATES FOR TREASURER

Peter Mendelis
Peter Mendelis, a BS-premed biology major from Riverdale, N.Y., is a candidate for treasurer. He is presently co-chairman of the transportation committee for the University picnic, a member of the pre-medical note committee, and was the sophomore class representative for Marriott Motel reservations.

Mendelis pledges intense activity to make sure that no possible means of making money is overlooked. He also proposes creation of a compiled directory of scholarships, fellowships, and loans, a senior off-campus directory, and a private senior phone directory.

Publication of bi-monthly treasury reports will be his method of communication with the class. In accordance with the program outlined, he feels that "No effort can be too great to achieve those fiscal ends that we desire as a class."

Prom Candidates

As today's election, sophomores will be voting for the chairman of next year's Junior Prom in addition to next year's class officers. The three candidates for prom chairman are Bob Dunn, Mike Giobbe, and Karl Johnson.

Dunn is an AB English major from Short Hills, N.J. His activities at Georgetown have included freshman and varsity basketball and the Law Club.

Giobbe, a pre-med student, is from New York City. His College activities have included membership on the class council and intramural baseball.

Johnson, a resident of Valhalla, N.Y., is a BS pre-med student. At present he serves as secretary of the N.Y. Met Club.

India Madras

The farther smoke travels Air-Softened, the milder, the cooler, it tastes

THIS ONE'S THE SATISFIER!

Perfectly in tune with your taste—that's Chesterfield King. Every satisfying puff is Air-Softened to enrich the flavor and make it mild. Special porous paper lets you draw fresh air into the full king length of top-tobacco, straight Grade-A all the way.

Join the swing to

CHESTERFIELD KING

© Henry & Myers Tobacco Co.
They call it "kiss mist"
THE NEW SURE BREATH FRESHENER FOR PEOPLE WHO LIKE TO BE LIKED!

New Lavoris Oral Spray... they call it "Kiss Mist" on campuses across the nation! "Kiss Mist"! Exciting new way to freshen your breath instantly! Use it anytime, anywhere—after eating, drinking, smoking—whenever you want to be close... very close!

One spray does what breath gums and mints can’t do! New Lavoris Oral Spray freshens breath—kills odor-causing germs on contact! Comes in a carry-it-with-you bottle, handy for pocket or purse.

250 sprays • Less than a penny a spray 69c

LAVORIS ORAL SPRAY

YOUR FIRST BOTTLE FREE!
Buy—Try—New Lavoris Oral Spray—Then send in the empty bottle! We’ll send you back the price you paid—69c!
MAIL EMPTY BOTTLE WITH THIS COUPON—Offer Ends July 1, 1961.

TO: Lavoris Oral Spray, c/o Richardson-Merrell, Inc.
122 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York.

GENTLEMEN: I enclose empty bottle of Lavoris Oral Spray—for which please send me my purchase price of 69c.

NAME ____________________________
ADDRESS ____________________________
CITY _______ ZONE _______ STATE _______

A man with Alopecia Universalis* doesn’t need this deodorant

He could use a woman’s roll-on with impunity. Mennen Spray was made for the man who wants a deodorant he knows will get through to the skin... where perspiration starts.

Mennen Spray Deodorant does just that. It gets through to the lack of body hair, including that of the scalp, legs, armpits, face, etc.

Does Military Aid Serve a Purpose?

There is no doubt that the possession of tanks, heavy artillery, jet aircraft, etc., by the Russians, yet his ability to develop an offensive against the British in Aden is no greater now, it would seem, than before. The reason is simply that given the terrain of the area and the level of development in Yemen the equipment is useless.

Finally, South Vietnam is an army bountifully supplied with American heavy equipment as does the Royal Laotian Army. Yet South Vietnam is unable to stamp out Communist terrorism and the Royal Laotian Army has proved to be something less than first class, to say the least.

Conclusion

We have of course no control over Russia’s policy of distributing T-34’s and MIG’s with an open hand. But we can and should realize that such aid does not in the long run really strengthen such powers, but by giving a small power a disproportionate image of its own strength, lead it to take risks it would have otherwise avoided. It may also mislead the donating power, eventually into a false estimate of the ability of the small power to defend itself, as it seems happened in Laos. In either case a dangerous situation will result.

*Complete lack of body hair, including that of the scalp, legs, armpits, face, etc.
Letters

system we will collectively be the guardians of this honor.

Moreover, it is one step closer to being initiated and will be student-run. Then too, the new administration of the honor code follows responsibility," and if we can prove our ability to safeguard the academic integrity of the student body, we would hope that the privileges which we ask for will be more readily granted.

There is also the very practical advantage of actual academic integrity rather than the present theoretical type. It is now the students who are students who know who are getting through Georgetown by grade rather than by honest effort, which is not a feeling that an Honor Code would eliminate much of this cheating.

If you feel as though you would like the prestige, responsibilities, and advantages of being a student in the wake of an honor code then defend it and support it this Thursday. For only if an overwhelming majority of the student body supports the hope to see its acceptance as the Honor Code of Georgetown College.

M. McAllister
Secretary of the Yard

Charles Matthews
President of the Senior Class

Michael McAllister
Student-Faculty Relations Committee Chairman

William Werwaiss
President of the Mask & Bauble

To the Editor:

The question of an Honor Code has arisen, and with it has returned the old issue of student/Administration relations. Taken as a whole, the problem is not simple, but each student should make an effort to understand it and come to a decision, for not only is the Code itself on trial, so also is the Student Body. Will it arise from its apathetic condition to make a choice?

The Code is by now familiar to most students. Let us first remove some of the obscure arguments that have been offered in support of it, and then we will turn to the Code itself. Mr. McAllister's recognition of the authors of the Code, exalted the Student Council to an exalted measure because it constitutes positive leadership inasmuch as it is a unitharn to the Administration. Now I have been personally exhorted by the Student Council to exert positive leadership, but I have always maintained that this leadership should not be relinquished.

I have two reasons to hope that this Honor Code will not be. The first is rather simple. I do not believe in this kind of system because I am not my brother's keeper. It is not my responsibility to see that my fellow student does not get in a class, and I refuse to be put on my honor to see that he doesn't. I recognize that other persons might be opposed to a "chuck" system. However, I believe that these persons would also oppose the present Code as approved by the Council. It is a poor example of such a system. It is a shoddy, hastily done job, and such systems are claimed as the pattern for this one. We should have in mind, however, that when the President of the Student Body of Trinity and the Lieutenant representing West Point were here they both asked directly whether a check system could function in a school without an effective Student Government, and the answer was emphatically no. Yet when amendments were offered in the name of the Honor Body, such as making its decisions unanimous, the Council voted them down.

In closing, let me just say that this is not an Honor Code, but merely a policing system, meant to more effectively enforce the existing body of law. I maintain that the enforcement of this law is supposed to be handled by the Faculty and not by the students.

Christopher H. Banninson
Editor

Elections

(Continued from Page 4)

Barry Smyth

Barry Smyth came to the Hilltop from Xavier High in Cincinnati. He has been a member of the class council this year where he was chairman of the evaluation committee as well as playing freshman baseball.

When speaking on his platform he said, "The five points of my platform are: student-faculty relations, student representation, social functions, hanging, and posting of Student Council minutes."

Vice President

For the office of vice president, two candidates are competing. Nick Nastasi and Woody Scheck are running.

Nick Nastasi

The first, Nick Nastasi, is from Springfield, Penn. and Springfield High. This year he has taken part in a number of clubs and organizations.

In stating his views on the vice presidency, he said, "The major reason for my running for the presidency is to improve the overall operation of our class and thereby promote school spirit through a more effective coordination of class functions and school activities."

Woody Scheck

The candidate for vice president, Woody Scheck, is a resident of Bridgeport, Conn. and attended Fairfield Prep. This year he has participated in the class council and has been chairman of the reception committee.

Speaking of his platform he said, "I am primarily interested in making the class council an effective and capable organization and encouraging more students to take an active part in student government."

SC Representative Candidates

John Clement

Vying for the sophomore seat on the Student Council for next year are three candidates, John Clement, George Presson, and Barry Smyth. John Clement formerly attended Joseph's Prep in Philadelphia. However, at Georgetown, he has been secretary of the Gaston-White and a member of the German Club.

In discussing his platform, he said, "I will put my platform into three classifications, cutting out needless debate such as that on parliamentary procedure, working for the election of all students to the admission committee and establishing an off-campus committee for out of town students living off campus."

George Presson

George Presson comes from Silver City, New Mexico and Western High School. He has been a member of the Gaston-White, the Athletic Committee, and class council.

Speaking of his platform he said, "I believe that the Yearbook, the Bar and the Yard are to be supported in their efforts to lead the coming changes at GU. In dealing with the Administration let us not have opposition for opposition's sake but let's take a positive approach for cooperation."

Eta Sigma Phi

(Continued from Page 1) to be published in book form in the future.

Doctor Oates received his PhD from Princeton in 1931. Among the positions which he has held at Princeton is the chairmanship of the special program in the humanities. In 1931-32 he was co-director of the National Woodrow Wilson Foundation Program.

Among Dr. Oates' better known books are The Complete Greek Drama, which he edited with Eugene O'Neill, Jr., and his collection of poems with his daughter, Mary Oates. His latest work is The Stoics and Epicureans (Philosophical Library).

This is the last in a series of lectures sponsored by the classics fraternity. The Eta Sigma Phi officers are President Dick Parry, Vice President Barry Smyth, Secretary John Warman, and treasurer Bob Mangone.

Barry Smyth claims San Francisco as his home and went to Ignatius there. He is a member of the tennis team and rifle team and chairman of the freshman Honor System Committee. Toward a greater efficiency and profit on our class I propose to work in close cooperation with the vice president and the other members of our functions be coordinated, and to increase our loan program, he said.

August Tarasi

August Tarasi is a resident of Pittsburgh and a graduate of Shady Side Academy. He participated in the rifle team. Among the programs called for in his platform are the expansion of the Gray Card Plan and a possible class loan fund. His aim, he reports, is "to attain more unity both in the Council and among the students themselves."

Barry Smyth

Barry Smyth claims San Francisco as his home and went to Ignatius there. He is a member of the tennis team and rifle team and chairman of the freshman Honor System Committee. Toward a greater efficiency and profit on our class I propose to work in close cooperation with the vice president and the other members of our functions be coordinated, and to increase our loan program, he said.

August Tarasi

August Tarasi is a resident of Pittsburgh and a graduate of Shady Side Academy. He participated in the rifle team. Among the programs called for in his platform are the expansion of the Gray Card Plan and a possible class loan fund. His aim, he reports, is "to attain more unity both in the Council and among the students themselves."

Barry Smyth

Barry Smyth claims San Francisco as his home and went to Ignatius there. He is a member of the tennis team and rifle team and chairman of the freshman Honor System Committee. Toward a greater efficiency and profit on our class I propose to work in close cooperation with the vice president and the other members of our functions be coordinated, and to increase our loan program, he said.

Barry Smyth

Barry Smyth claims San Francisco as his home and went to Ignatius there. He is a member of the tennis team and rifle team and chairman of the freshman Honor System Committee. Toward a greater efficiency and profit on our class I propose to work in close cooperation with the vice president and the other members of our functions be coordinated, and to increase our loan program, he said.
Polo Contract Signed Rain Stopped Opener

WHEN THE GRASS WASN'T WET . . . last year, Jerry Shields' chase after the little white ball shows what is to come this year.

by Dave Bickers

Because of the severe weather this past winter, the Polo team has encountered a great deal of difficulty in getting their season under way. Jerry Shields, president of the club last year, has negotiated a contract with Woodlawn Plantation for the season's matches but because of the wet weather, the field has been unplayable.

The team was scheduled to open the season Saturday against UVa at Woodlawn but the field is not yet ready for play and probably won't be for at least 10 days.

Despite this setback, however, Shields announced a match June 4 with Fort Belvoir at Woodlawn to coincide with the graduation festivities. Plans are also in the offing for a polo game-party at Potomac, Md., Friday, May 28 after exams.

Before Easter, the team held a meeting at which new officers were elected. Shields stepped down as president in order to give the new men experience in handling the affairs of the club. The new officers include: Charlie Sarkis, President; Carlos Rizo-Patron, Captain; Jack McNamara, General Manager.

Tryouts were held late last month and some of the new prospects look very good according to Shields. The team was scheduled to open against the UVa last week and again this week.

The club has been practicing very hard since before Easter and the outlook appears excellent for the spring and the opener on Saturday should prove a good yardstick.

Bartos Picked For Athlete Of Week

Hoya hurler Frank Bartos has been named this week's WGTB Athlete of the Week. Despite the Hoyas' disappointing loss to Catholic U., Bartos pitched a beautiful contest by walking one and striking out seven, before being relieved after eight and one-third innings.

Bartos was only trouble in one inning and that was no fault of his own, as faulty fielding in the fatal ninth frame led to his removal by Coach Tom Nolan.

Bartos carried a 2-1 lead into the ninth inning, gave up an unearned run there, but still went into the final inning with a one run lead only to see that disappear as he watched from the bench, barely missing a chance to become the first Hoya pitcher to go a full game all season.

American League Predictions

Picking the 1961 pennant winners is strictly a gamble.

Last week we went out on a limb for the National League predictions; this week we'll look in our crystal ball to see the finish in the American League.

The Baltimore Orioles will win the American League pennant, we think the Bird Nest is to be your No. 1 pick. Last year and a half the other clubs out of the East have unseated the Yankee's in the last games of the season. Baltimore has no pitching problems, thanks to Hoyt Wilhelm, Hector Brown, Milt Pappas, Steve Barber and Chuck Estrada.

The only place the Orioles are hurting is in outfield slugger power. Richards needs a couple more pounders for strength but has enough now to slip away with the pennant.

There are two reasons why we put the New York Yankees in second place. Firstly, the Yankees have lost Casey Stengel whose indomitable spirit was undoubtedly a major factor behind their seven World Championship titles. In the last twelve years, Stengel's replacement, Ralph Houk, may be good, but we think it will take him a season or two to get the mighty Yankees back to the top. The second reason for the Yankee's slide to second in our book is their questionable pitching staff. Whitey Ford, Art Ditmar, and Jim Coates lost the moundmen, but each had his letdown last season and can't be expected to perform much better with the new mob. As for the defense, the only ledge on the hitting power. The blasting combination of Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, and Bill Skowron will prove the downfall of many a weaker team.

In the third place we guess the Chicago White Sox. Defensively, the Chisox probably are close to the best in the entire League. The two-out-second combination of Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio should be even better this year and the infield was further strengthened with the acquisition of Roy Sievers at first base.

White Sox hitting is above average and well distributed, but there is a glaring weakness in pitching strength. Early Wynn is getting old and won't be able to carry the team much longer, and the younger members of the staff have never really risen to the occasion.

In fourth place, we put the Minnesota, St. Paul Twins. The Twin Cities team has come up with a lot of surprises in the opening weeks of the season. The hitting of Harmon Killibrew, Jim Lemon, and Lenny Green is no surprise and should keep up all season. The Twins are almost universally underrated, we think. Pitchers Chuck Stobbs, Camilo Pascual, and Pedro Ramos will have to do better than last year to put the Twins in the first division, but judging from the team's position in the present standings, the Twins may play the role of spoilers this year.

In the bottom of the first division we put the Cleveland Indians. Cleveland's Tribe will probably stay out of the hospital more this year and do better. Jim Perry, Gary Blum, Jim Grant, and newly traded Johnny Antonelli will get the rods as the first-string pitching staff.

If the Indian's rookies come through, they may well finish even higher.

Boldtowers who also might help the Tribe regain much lost prestige are first baseman Vic Power, rookie third baseman Mike De La Hoz, catcher John Romano and outfielder Francome.

The Detroit Tigers will probably lead the second division. Last year the Tigers were on the bottom when the team hitting percentages were compiled, law of averages is in their favor. Behind the pitching of Jim Bunning and Frank Lary comes the potential hitting of Al Kaline, Rocky Colavito, and Charlie Maxwell.

Billy Brinson is a big addition to the outfield who might lead a hand. All in all, Tiger strength is pretty sketchy but is still strong enough, at least in experience, to put them over the new Senators and Angels.

The Boston Red Sox are our choice for seventh place. The Red Sox magic is not another healthy hitter. The reason is that Jackie Jensen is returning but can't carry the team alone. Pete Kuremanski and Vic Wertz are the other two pounders who will keep Boston in contention. Mike Fornieles is probably the best pitcher on the Boston Staff but hasn't gotten going this season.

When we get down to picking between the Kansas City Athletics, the new Washington Senators and the even newer Los Angeles Angels, it is like splitting hairs. The Nats, we think, will surprise the experienced Athletics and finish right under Boston. The Angels have the talent in Ted Kunsawski, Eddie Fif, and Ned Garver but we think it will take them a season or three to adjust to their new environments and claw their way up from the bottom of the pile.
Trackmen Second
To Fordham Rams

The Hoyas were led by John Reilly last Saturday as they spent seventeen minutes and forty-one seconds the afternoon chasing Fordham by about fifteen yards, and in front of Manhattan by about twenty.
Jack Hurson got the Hoyas fairly well, but the Putham second and third legs opened up a lead of about one hundred yards over George Vardisco and Jim Tucker.
With Reilly thus in arrears as he sent off. Be that as it may, tracking impressed a troublesome student like the palm.

The Hoyas

four-mile relay, which breaks twenty.

they spent seventeen minutes seconds.

fine sophomore Frank Tomeo, as'
and forty-one seconds of the to run off. Be that as it may,

With Reilly thus in arrears as he

Fordham

short and let fly. By the time he around the Randalls Island track at the Queens-Iona Relays.

George Verdisco and Jim Tucker.

Rams by about fifteen yards, and

Georgetown finished second to the lifting the flag.

His

get

J

Rams by about fifteen yards, and

Page

12

Page Twelve

Thursday, April 27, 1961

THE HOYA

How to go about saving money
...while you

EURAILPASS -
the one ticket that takes you first class to 13 countries for a whole month.
The cost? . . . . Only $110!

Take a month to capture the zest of the real Europe, from the silent splendor of ancient cathedrals to the clamor of colorful seaports.
Share the warmth of its charming people, the sheer joie de vivre of the friendly Europeans.

Feel the tempo, the quickening pulse of Europe’s vitality when you travel by train with Eurailpass.
This convenient ticket will take you anywhere on over 100,000 miles of luxurious first class service.

Roam through the Austrian Alps, the lowlands of Belgium, Watch picturesque farms come to life in the drowsy mist of a Danish dawn.
Fall hopelessly in love with France.
Discover the true meaning of German Gemütlichkeit.
Cock your ear to the clatter of windmills in Holland and surrender completely to the ageless warmth that is Chemin de fer . . . everywhere.
Pay a visit to Luxembourg. Take side trips. Many bus, boat and ferry lines are included. Sit and listen to the vast silence of a Norwegian fjord. Travel through Portugal. See to castles in Spain. Let Sweden and Switzerland show you what Wanderlust really is.

Eurailpass is the real way to see Europe, its breathtaking scenery, its captivating picturesque farms and historic cities. Eurailpass gives you so much - for so little. Even famous “crack trains” are at your disposal.

Two months cost only $150; three months just $180. Children under 10 - half price; under 4 - free.

For free illustrated folder write Eurailpass, Dept. A-T, Box 1917 N.W. 10, N.Y. Buy Eurailpass from your travel agent.