The State of Your Association

Henry W. Sweeney and Co., Certified Public Accountants of Washington and New York have submitted their report on the finances of the Georgetown University Alumni Association, Inc. for the fiscal year, May 1, 1952 to April 30, 1953, to the President of the Association and the members of the Board of Governors. The report shows total receipts of $41,551.81 in our operating account, and disbursements of $41,202.97 during the fiscal year, giving us an excess of receipts over disbursements of $348.84 for the period. Membership dues, which ideally should carry the entire cost of operating the Association, fell somewhat short of the need since dues alone amounted to only $32,066, and the difference had to be made up out of the receipts from advertising in the Alumni Magazine, profits on Georgetown merchandise, and gifts designated for operating use.

Aside from our general operating account, we have two separate funds, The McDonough Gymnasium Fund and the Alumni House Fund. During the year $32,862 was contributed to the Gymnasium Fund and $1,448.56 to the Alumni House Fund. Operating the Alumni House cost your Association $1,045.93, for utilities, cleaning service, maintenance and insurance.

It is obvious that the prime need of the Association at present is an increase in the income from membership dues. During the period covered by the audit, 3523 Alumni paid dues as Regular Members, 406 as Sustaining members and 43 as members of the Council of 100, giving us a total membership of 3972 alumni. During that same period, our mailing list had a total of approximately 20,000 names and addresses, which indicates that only one in five Alumni supported the work of the Association. If the membership rolls could be increased to 4500 regular members, 530 Sustaining members and 58 members of the Council of 100, the resulting income which would total $41,550 would enable us to meet all of our operating expenses, and the income from advertising, merchandise, etc. could be used to improve and enlarge the magazine and in general to increase the value of the Association to the members.

Although your Association operated during the year on a necessarily closely limited budget, we managed to turn out a heavy flow of information and services to the Alumni. Class Reunions, in June of 1952 were the most successful we have had since the Sesquicentennial Reunions of 1939. Most of the labor of mailing invitations, arranging with local hotels for room reservations, dinners, etc. naturally fell to our lot, as did the arrangements on campus for the various functions of Reunion week-end. During the year we edited and published six issues of the Alumni Magazine which went not only to the paid membership, but 3500 copies of each issue were sent as samples to non-members on a rotating basis. During the year, also, we published the first of a series of Departmental Alumni Directories, that of the Dental School, which was sent without charge to every graduate of that department and to every Dental student also. The Directory was well received and we are now beginning work on the second of the series, that of the School of Medicine.

Aside from these routine operations, we were happy to welcome some 1200 Alumni visitors to Alumni House, to provide guided tours of the new Gymnasium for some 300 individual callers, to arrange for 325 hotel reservations for Alumni aside from those for Reunion week-end, to provide business, professional and governmental contacts for 411 and to assist more than two hundred sons and friends of Alumni in their dealings with the various Admissions offices of the University. Just to illustrate the minutiae we like to handle, we arranged to expedite three emergency passports, helped hasten the immigration of one German national, and took the necessary steps to provide seven audiences with the Pope, all at the request of our members.

During the fiscal year, your Officers and the Alumni Board of Governors and the Senate met four times, at the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N. Y., twice in Washington and once in New York City. All of the meetings were well attended and much business was accomplished which will ultimately bring many good things to the University. Each Georgetown man owes a debt of gratitude to the unselfish members of the Alumni administration who give so much of their time and their funds in their faithful attendance at these meetings.

Finally, during the year, your Association conducted two major functions in Washington of which all Alumni should be very proud—the testimonial dinner in honor of the Golden Jubilee of the Reverend Edmund A. Walsh, S.J. as a Jesuit, and the Second Annual John Carroll Dinner to honor Georgetown’s distinguished sons.

This is the report of our stewardship. When you have finished with this issue of the Magazine, show the report to some Georgetown man among your friends who is not now a member. Perhaps it will persuade him to join and help us to reach our goal of more than 5000 members in the current fiscal year.

A change of administration at the Georgetown University School of Medicine became effective on July 1 with the appointment of the Rev. Thomas J. O'Donnell, S.J., as Regent and Dr. Francis M. Forster as Dean. The Rev. Paul A. McNally, S.J., who was Regent and Dean of the school from 1947 to 1953, and who was forced to relinquish his position because of ill health, became Dean Emeritus and Director of the Georgetown Medical Center.

Father O'Donnell, who for the past year has been Assistant to the Dean, was born in Baltimore in 1918, entered the Society of Jesus in 1938, was graduated from Woodstock College in 1944, and was ordained to the priesthood in 1950. He has taught at St. Joseph's High School in Philadelphia and at Georgetown Preparatory School. Along with his new post he will hold the position of Dean of Students.

Dr. Forster came to Georgetown three years ago, as Professor of Neurology and Head of the Department of Neurology, from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia where he taught Neurology from 1943 to 1950 and held the rank of Associate Professor. His teaching background includes posts at the Harvard Medical School, Yale School of Medicine and the Boston University School of Medicine.

Born in Cincinnati in 1912, Dr. Forster attended Xavier University and received his M.D. from the University of Cincinnati in 1937. He has held hospital positions in Cincinnati, Boston and Philadelphia.

He is the former Secretary and present Chairman of the Section on Mental and Nervous Diseases of the American Medical Association; the former Secretary and now Vice-President of the American Academy of Neurology, the Chairman of the Research Grants Committee of the American Neurological Association and previously served as the Representative of this Association to the National Research Council. He is former Vice-President and now President of the American Branch of the International Physicians' League against Epilepsy; a member of the Commission of the Association for Research in Nervous and Mental Diseases; and is on the editorial board of the American Journal of Neurology.

Dr. Forster will retain his post as Professor of Neurology and Head of the Department of Neurology at Georgetown.

ATHLETICS

By CHARLIE STEELE '52

Since all inter-collegiate sports activity stops at Georgetown with the coming of the summer, this seems like a good time to sum up the past year and take a short look at what the future may hold. We'll start with last year, sport by sport.

BASKETBALL: During the 1952-'53 basketball season the Hoyas beat Randolph-Macon, Loyola (Bal.), Hampden-Sydney, Seattle, Rhode Is. State, Maryland (twice), Le Moyne, Temple, Navy, St. Josephs, Fordham and George Washington. The team lost to George Washington, Canisius, Siena, Penn State, Virginia, La Salle and, in the opening round of the N.I.T., Louisville. RECORD: 13 WINS, 7 Losses. HIGHLIGHTS: Buddy Jeannette's first year as Coach. Bill Bolger set all time season and career scoring record. The team won the Boston Invitation Tournament.

BASEBALL: Joe Judge fielded a young team, with only three Seniors in starting positions. Wins were recorded over Trinity, Fordham, Delaware, Maryland, Navy, Loyola, Penn State, and the Quantico Marines. The nine lost to Colby, Lafayette, Michigan, George Washington (twice), Maryland, Penn State, and La Salle. RECORD: 8 WINS, 8 Losses. HIGHLIGHTS: Win over Quantico, the Marines being loaded with minor league pros. Bob Stuhr held the Leathernecks to 3 hits, hit a double and triple himself. Stuhr was the outstanding player of the year, beating Penn State on four hits, which gave State their first loss after nine straight wins, beating a strong Navy team 3-1, pitching six hitless innings against Colby, and playing centerfield when not pitching. Bob led the team in batting and in runs batted in.

TENNIS: Coach Allie Rittenberger's first year was a fine one. The netmen beat George Washington, Pittsburgh, Delaware, Catholic U. (twice), Penn State, Temple and Maryland. Losses were limited to North Carolina, Duke, Pennsylvania and Navy. RECORD: 8 Wins, 4 Losses. HIGHLIGHTS: Stopped Catholic U. winning streak at 66. Herb Von Uff and Jack Frisby, both underclassmen, had great years.

GOLF: Again, a young team, the golfers beat Pittsburgh, Princeton, George Washington (twice), Temple. Losses were to Pennsylvania, Navy, Maryland and Penn State. RECORD: 5 WINS, 4 Losses. HIGHLIGHTS: Princeton won 18 straight at home until losing to Georgetown. Joe Turnesa got to semi-finals of the Eastern Inter-collegiate Golf Ass'n Finals. Jack Nies and Turnesa had great scores all year.

TRACK: Too much to put it all down. Capozzoli set two cross country national records, an all time American Intercollegiate two mile record, became the only college runner in history to run the two mile in under 9 minutes, came within 6 seconds of the world's indoor two mile record, came within 3 seconds of the American one mile record and set a dozen or so other American and European records. Joyce and La Pierre were great, too, winning almost all the big 880, 1,000 and mile races. La Pierre set the N.C.A.A. record for the two mile, ran a 4:08 mile, a 1:52 half mile. Joyce ran a 1:52 half, won the Lapham 1,000 for the third straight year and set the Philadelphia Inquirer Meet record for the 1,000. Both set many other records. Frank Sowa, Gerry Foley and Don Stonehouse also closed out three years of great varsity running.

THE FUTURE: All teams except the basketball squad were manned primarily by underclassmen, so things look good. Though the hoopsters lose the entire varsity with the exception of Gigante and Carroll, and the track team loses Cappy, Carl and Joe, both sports had outstanding freshmen teams. More of the future in the next issue.

SPORTS OBSERVATIONS: It's becoming more obvious all the time that the dropping of football has greatly hurt the baseball team. As Coach Judge said, it was the gridders who supplied most of the batting power. In the past few years it was Bill Fisher, Lou Surman, Tommy Hardiman, Joe DiLio, Frank Mattingly, and Elmer Raba who have done most of the power hitting. All were football players. This year's team missed the extra-base knock, and we'll have to agree with the coach as to the reason.

Tommy Doyle, Sports Editor of the Hoya, suggests that the Tennis and Golf teams be awarded major letters. I, for one, think that the minor letter should be done away with altogether. Why baseball, basketball and track men should get a larger letter than the tennis, golf, rifle, sailing and swimming men I'll never be able to figure out. In ability, spirit and results, the record of the minors is at least as good as that of their major brothers.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

The old Ryan Gymnasium, out-dated by the construction of McDonough Gym, is now in process of being renovated to provide a much needed administration building. The ground floor will contain the offices and records of the General University Secretary, the old main playing floor will house the offices of the University Treasurer and the second floor will contain the Offices of University Development, Public Relations, and Placement. In addition, space has been provided for a completely automatic telephone switch-board to serve the entire campus.

On July 13th six hundred delegates to the 38th General Conference of the American Alumni Council, the professional organization of Alumni Secretaries of most Colleges, Universities and Prep Schools, held a reception on the College Lawn at the invitation of Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., President of the University. Vice-President and Mrs. Nixon were present as the personal representatives of President Eisenhower. The Marine Band played for the occasion.

R. Ross Perry, Jr., Law '94, who died in Washington in May, left his extensive law library to the Georgetown University Law School. Mr. Perry was the son of R. Ross Perry, College '64, Grad. '65, LL.D. (Hon.) '92.

1895

Dr. Bolivar Lanc Falconer, Med. '95, died in New York on April 26. Since his retirement in 1931, Dr. Falconer had made seven trips around the world, having been the first paid passenger to go around the world entirely by air, a trip he made in 1936. It resulted in his book, Flying Around the World. Besides his Georgetown degree, he held a Master's Degree in Mathematics from Harvard and was a Fellow of the American and Royal Geographic Society.

1899

Julius I. Peysen, Law '99, prominent Washington attorney for 54 years, died on June 7. Very active in local civic circles, Mr. Peysen was a former member of the Washington Board of Education, a former president of the District Bar Association, and former president of the District Public School Association. Several Georgetown alumni represented the District of Columbia Bar Association as honorary pallbearers at his funeral.

1912

Hugh F. Smith, Law '12, for many years an attorney with the General Services Administration in Washington, died on June 2 at his home here. Burial was in Arlington Cemetery.

Dr. James G. Townsend, Med. '12, has returned to Washington on leave from Panama, where he has been waging a fight against tuberculosis as part of the Point Four Program. Before going to Panama, Dr. Townsend was chief of the Division of Industrial Hygiene of the Public Health Service for ten years.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia recently set up an all-civilian trial board to try a local police inspector on charges of insubordination and prejudicial conduct. The board was Robert F. Cogswell, Law '13.

Ben A. Matthews, Law '13, chief counsel of the New York State Crime Commission, has supplied us with the interesting reports of the Commission, which have been published periodically. They will be turned over to the Georgetown author's shelf in the University Library.

President Eisenhower recently directed the Attorney General to call a conference of all quasi-judicial agencies of the government to study means to cut down on long delays, heavy volume of records, and unnecessary expense in legal proceedings. He named Hon. Walter Bastian, Law '13, and Barrett Prettyman, Law '15, as delegates to the conference, and appointed Judge Prettyman chairman.

1914

Charles H. Duffy, College '14, died in New York in early May.

1915

Dr. Charles D. Shannon, Med. '15, was the subject of a front page article in the Seattle (Wash.) Sunday Times on May 3. The newspaper reported that Dr. Shannon had delivered 10,000 babies in 28 years of practice.

Maj. Gen. George A. Horkan, College '15, the Quartermaster General of the Army, received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at Spring Hill College, Mobile, Ala., in June.

1916

G. David Pearlman, Law '16, one of the best known book dealers in Washington, died in early April.

1917

Dr. Arthur F. Roche, Med. '17, of West Hartford, Conn., died suddenly in early April. He was a veteran of World War I.

Neil Burkinshaw, Law '17, and Charles B. Murray, Law '23, formerly Assistant Attorney General of the United States, have entered into a partnership in the Shoreham Building in Washington. The firm name is Burkinshaw, Maher, and Murray.

1918

Former Governor James C. Shannon, College '18, of Connecticut, has been made a Superior Court Judge of the State, according to an announcement recently made by Governor Lodge. The Judge's two sons are alumni of the College.

William C. Miles, Law '18, New York patent attorney and inventor, died on June 3 in New York City. Mr. Miles had invented an automobile muffler, devices for motion picture projectors, elevators and an apparatus for dealing bridge hands in tournament play.

1919

Hon. Francis E. Walter, Law '19, Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, was the recipient of the 1953 Golden Deeds Award of the Easton Exchange Club.

1920

T. Austin Gavlin, Law '20, has moved his law offices to the Petroleum Building in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

1921

Alfred D. Reid, College '21, prominent Pittsburgh architect and designer of the Georgetown University Hospital, has been elected a member of the Board of Trustees at Mount Mercy College, Pittsburgh.

James C. Wilkes, Law '21, has been elected a director of the National Metropolitan Bank of Washington.

Chester J. McGuire, Law '21, who had practiced law both in Washington and Philadelphia, died at Georgetown University Hospital on June 14. Several of his classmates served as honorary pallbearers at the funeral.

1922

Colin F. Starn, Law '22, is chief of the legal staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. He was the author of The Internal Revenue Code, 1939.
FACULTY

Three Georgetown University economics professors are going abroad this summer on a number of research and teaching missions, it was announced at the university today.

Dr. Joseph Solterer, chairman of the Faculty of Economics, will leave shortly for Santiago, Chile, to serve as consultant in the reorganization of the economics curriculum of the Catholic University of Chile.

Dr. Goetz A. Bries, at the request of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, will serve the German republic as a consultant on labor legislation. Dr. Otto Donner will visit several European countries for the International Monetary Fund, making a study of the elimination of retention quotas.

Dr. Donner, who will do some research at the European Payments Union in Paris, will also lecture at the Universities of Hamburg and Erlangen.

1924

Dr. Thomas W. Brockbank, Law '24, is Medical Director of the Catholic Charities Guidance Institute in New York and will shortly open a new office of the Institute in White Plains. He has been with the Guidance Institute for twenty-two years.

Mr. Brian Joseph Ducey, F.S. '24, announces the marriage of his daughter, Mary Noel, to Ensign Harold Philip McLaughlin, Jr., U.S.N.R.

Leslie Weaver, Law '24, who thought he had retired in Strawn, Texas, has been drafted as local magistrate, all of which he blames on his legal background gained at the Georgetown Law School.

John S. Coleman, Law '24, President of the Burroughs Adding Machine Corporation, was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Wayne University in Detroit on June 16.

Francis D. Flanagan, Law '24, is general counsel of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's permanent sub-committee on investigations. Previously he had been a special agent of the F.B.I. from 1939 to 1945, and later administrative assistant to the Honorable J. Edgar Hoover. Father Law supplies an excerpt from a letter he received recently from Bruce Rittenhaler, College ’52: “Spending a cumulative five year period in that happy Hoya environment more or less puts me in the dye-in-the-wool class of G.U. family; for now my cousin, Tom Eagle, is struggling to make the grade come next September.... My B.S.S. degree has proved to be a very functional education for service life as far as mental and spiritual stability are concerned; but it was of little value in grasping the meaning of Brake Mean Effective Pressure on Negative “G’s.” I have been flying for about 5 months now, learning aerobatics, and recently, carrier landings. Tomorrow I leave for Sankey Field and begin formation flying. This flying is a very vital and all-engrossing experience, and you might be interested to learn that we all say the Lord’s Prayer every morning at muster.... Hank Norton, my old classmate at G.U. is happily married, a civilian and a prosperous Admiral Television salesman.”

Linus F. Goyette, F.S. ’53, writes as follows: “It may be of interest that a slightly antiquated character (age 46) such as I could be a brand new alumnus. I am actually making up time lost during WW II. Georgetown gave me a highly complete technical training in accounting that I have always wanted, revitalized a progressive outlook, and definitely improved my qualifications as an Examiner in the Budget Bureau. Now comes my third alumni association: a non-grad member, class of 1929 of Amherst College; George Wash, U. AB 1937; and now BS in BA ... I trust I may be a dependable member.”
