

Week 3 • Bioethics & Justice

There are tens of thousands of students from dozens of countries around the world enrolled in PHLX101-01. We can't wait to learn from you!

Connect Week 3 with your own experiences

Share new information and examples — especially culturally-diverse — related to this week's topics:

-although i've lived in the developed nations for over a decade i come from Ghana a west african country of ~25million. we don't have an organ donation/transplant service so these are not issues that we even contemplate. but i can foresee some of these difficulties when we get to that stage of offering those services.
