

Discussion

Maggie Little and Madison Powers state that the atmosphere is a common resource, belonging to no one person or country. The atmosphere has a limited ability to absorb greenhouse gases.

What in your view is the fairest way to divide individuals' or nations' entitlements to emit greenhouse gases?